Latest Dispatches Ground Down For Hasty Consumption.

WHOLE WORLD IS GLEANED

The Four Corners of the Earth and the Seven Seas Are Made to Yield a Tribute of Interesting News.

Washington

While it was said that delaying the currency bill until the next session of Congress would postpone President Wilson's anti-trust programme, Senator Stone expressed the hope that it would be passed at this session.

President Wilson is expected to announce a new Mexican policy, said to permit the revolutionists to obtain arms in the United States, a refusal of such permission to Huerta and a continuance of the interrupted relations with Huerta.

President Wilson called Senators Gorman, Reed and Hitchcock to the White House and urged on them the necessity of passing the currency bill at this session.

Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, in a special statement, told how the Administration Currency bill would remove the causes of panics by its reserve-bank plan.

Personal

Charles Teller, the inventor of the cold storage process, died penniless at the age of 85. His misery was relieved by subscriptions raised for him by the Cold Storage Company a short time before his death in Paris.

The stork is expected to visit the Ozarkia again.

President Wilson's physician, Dr. Gary T. Grayson, was heartily pleased at the President's decision to abandon his plan of seeing the battleships at target practice on the drill grounds of the Virginia coast. Mr. Wilson is somewhat run down after the hard grind of the summer in Washington.

Henry C. Frick has settled upon his son, Childs, $12,000,000 as a wedding present, while his son's bride, who was Miss Frances S. Dixon, of Baltimore, received a check for $2,000,000 as a present from her new father-in-law.

General

The London Board of Trade has ordered an inquiry into the Voltorno disaster.

The Manchester express ran into a local train near Liverpool, killing ten passengers and injuring many others. More than $950,000 death duties will be paid on the $5,899,155 estate left by J. P. Morgan in England.

The Duchess of Fife and Prince Arthur of Connaught were married at London. While on their way to the wedding, King George and Queen Mary were mobbed by suffragettes.

Sir Rufus Isaacs was appointed Lord Chief Justice of England.

A Japanese cruiser has been ordered to Vera Cruz, Mexico, to protect Japanese citizens.

Two German aviators, Eltong and Lubbe, were fatally injured when they attempted to fly over the Atlantic. The minister of war of the Argentina, has issued orders for a review of the army at Camp Mayo in honor of Colonel Roosevelt.

Owing to financial situation, the Chilean Government has decided not to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

Household Notes.

If by accident soot should be dropped on the carpet, cover it thickly with salt; then both may easily be swept up.

To get the full nutriment from a potato it should be cooked in the skins, as valuable food salts lie just inside the covering.

A few pieces of gum camphor kept in the boxes in which silver is packed in wrappings will prevent its turning dark.

Tooth powder is excellent for cleaning jewelry. Rub it on with a nail brush and then rinse off with scalding water.

To keep the teapot sweet and clean, wipe it out dry after using and put a lump of loaf sugar inside, leaving the lid open.

There should be three pairs of scissors in the kitchen—one for dicing vegetables, one for trimming fish, and one for general use.

Thinly sliced bananas moistened with mayonnaise and placed between buttered slices of bread make excellent school sandwiches.

When garments of any kind are washed in gasoline, add a few drops of oil of cedar. The disagreeable odor will not be noticed.

Salt thrown into the oven immediately after something has been burned in it will make the objectionable odor less noticeable.

Ink stains on mahogany can be removed by painting them with a solution of six drops of niter mixed with a teaspoonful of water. Then rub well with a damp cloth and polish with a dry one.

Fashions and Fads.

A new feature of evening gowns is the bodice of beaded net.

Yellow fur holds the central position among fur trimmings.

Coats of black caracul have collars and cuffs of yellow fox.

Eggplant purple is a much-favored color for this season.

Net in some form can be used to freshen up last year's clothes.

The stiff wired bow at the side is a feature of the new millinery.

All kinds of bird plumage lend their beauty to the autumn hats.

Panther is a youthful fur, and trims many of the new costumes.

Many gowns of white satin have short tunics of pleated black tulle.

Wear your alicrets with a difference not the full bunch as of old.

One of the newest combinations to Dame Fashion's wardrobe is the net blouse with touches of plaid.

White collars and cuffs give the necessary touch of freshness to the young girl's school frock of serge.

There are many service coats made from double-faced rough cloakings that do not require any lining.

Every well-selected wardrobe requires a loose wrap suitable for wearing after afternoon and evening gowns.

Milliners are combining the following colors: Brown and purple, blue and green; amber, Bordeaux red and olive green.

The four-cornered sailor of black velvet, with puff balls of black orichrome fronds poised on three corners, is the vey latest innovation.

The Suffragists.

Otis W. Butler, of Lowell, and Charles L. Underhill of Somerville, will not return to the next Massachusetts Legislature; they were defeated for renomination through the efforts of woman suffragists. Both Messrs. Butler and Underhill voted at the last session against submitting a proposed suffrage amendment to the voters. Mr. Underhill had represented the Somerville district for eight years.

The Board of Trade of the 21st ward, Philadelphia, accepted an invitation to attend a suffrage meeting addressed by Miss Jessie Ackerman, the travel lecturer. The Board attended in a body.

At Pottstown there was a large suffrage meeting recently arranged by wives of several of the professors of the Hill School, one of whom Mrs. F. L. Lavertu, is a daughter of the great Greek scholar of Harvard, Professor White. Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley of New York was the speaker.

Charles N. Potter, Chief Justice of Wyoming, says absolutely that woman suffrage has purified Wyoming politics to an extent that would not have happened with male suffrage only. He says, too, that he and his wife have voted side by side for thirty-six years and that Mrs. Potter is as womanly as ever and, in her husband's opinion, somewhat more so.

25 U. S. SOLDIERS DIE IN A WRECK

102 Maimed as Train Falls Through Trestle in Mississippi

CARS IN 60-FOOT PLUNGE

Men Pinned Under Wreckage—Four Officers Hurt—Coast Artillery Men Were On Way from Fort Morgan, Ala., to State Fair.

Mobile, Ala.—Twenty-five enlisted men from Fort Morgan, Ala., were killed and more than one hundred were injured when the cars of a special train in which they were traveling went into a deep ravine off the Buckatonna trestle, sixty miles north of this city.

The wrecked train carried 175 enlisted men from the 199th and Thirty-seventh companies, Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Morgan, and four officers, on their way to the Alabama-Mississippi fair at Meriden, Miss.

The train left Mobile at 12.03 o'clock p. m., and was made up of three coaches and a baggage car. Most of those killed lost their lives by being crushed to death when the coaches struck the bottom of the ravine, which is sixty feet deep. The train was running at moderate speed. The engine passed over the trestle safely but the three coaches plunged to the bottom when the trestle crumbled under their weight.

Engineer R. C. Deasley of Meridian, Miss., was in charge of the engine and S. V. Pruitt was the conductor in charge. Every member of the train crew was said to have escaped except one, who was only slightly injured.

The survivors of the wreck worked heroically but many of their comrades who were caught in the wreckage were rescued with difficulty. The cries of the injured were pitiful.

Special trains bearing assistance from Mobile and Meridian reached the scene of the wreck about the same time. Surgeons, physicians and others are at work relieving the sufferings of the injured.

The train jumped the track on what is known as Rube Burrow's trestle, the scene of a big holdup back in the early '90s, and the three coaches and a baggage car composing the train went into the ravine and piled up on top of another.

The commissioned officers on the train were Capt. Bernard Taylor, Supt. Greer and Lieuts. Calvin Smith and Edwin Barlow. All were injured.

Frightful scenes attended the rescue work. One private, whose hat bore the name Allen, lost both legs, which were torn off almost at the hips, his body being hurled clear of the wreckage. For some moments the man, conscious, lay in plain sight of his wounded comrades. Death ensued shortly afterward. Allen stoically said he felt no pain, but wished he had time to smoke a cigarette.

Two men who apparently fell or jumped through windows were found under one car, their bodies flattened upon each other.

The railroad officials here in order to provide for the numerous wounded were compelled to call into service wagons of the Southern Express Company, motor trucks of the wholesale houses and big delivery wagons, improvised cots being placed in them.

SULZER GIVES OUT PLANS.

Will Accept Nomination from Progressives in Old District.

Albany, N. Y.—"I'll be back in this house in a year and three months, as Governor of this State again."

This remark, made by ex-Governor William Sulzer to an intimate friend in the executive mansion, shows what plans the deposed chief executive has for regaining the power which the Court of Impeachment took from him. Here is the way he is going about it: He expects to accept the nomination offered him by the Progressives of the sixth assembly district in Manhattan.

He is certain that he will be elected to the Assembly. He thinks that the body will surely be dominated by Progressives and that his election as Speaker of the House will be easy to accomplish.

Once elected speaker he plans to wage a continuous battle for all of the popular measures of the day.

As the exponent of these ideas, Mr. Sulzer thinks that his elevation from the speakership to the governor's chair next fall will be assured.

The crowd of 2,000 hurrahing Sulzer partisans who invaded the executive mansion to present the ex-Governor with a big silver loving cup and tell him they considered him a greatly wronged man, did no small amount of damage to the furniture. In their zeal and eagerness to see their idol some of the crowd climbed all over plush chairs and couches.

CHILDREN FIGHT RACE SUICIDE.

Jesuits Organize Unique Demonstration in Montclair Church.

Montclair, N. J.—One thousand children, including infants in arms, assembled in the Church of the Immaculate Conception here as a demonstration against race suicide. The campaign was conducted by Jesuits, who have been conducting a mission in the parish. In their mission sermons the priests denounced the modern American tendency to limit the size of the family.
