FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS
Keep Stomach Sweet - Liver Active - Bowels Regular

Household Notes.

It is better to clean meat by wiping it off with a wet cloth than to let water run over it.

When mixing beeswax and turpentine for floor polishing, add a little spirits of ammonia.

When bacon comes from the market, a pair of sharp scissors will quickly remove the rind.

To place ferns upon the window sill means their death, as they cannot stand a cold draught.

Sliced oranges and shredded coconut put into a dish in alternate layers is a delicious dessert.

Always wear a white apron when sewing on dark material, as this relieves the strain on the eyes.

Greasy and browned cooking dishes should be boiled with washing soda in a big kettle or boiler.

A good way to prepare cheese for luncheon is to heat it slightly, strain it and mix it with cream or butter.

Never put too many blooms in any jar or vase. Flowers are much prettier if loosely and simply arranged.

The teakettle should always be emptied at the end of the day, in the morning rinsed out and filled with fresh water.

A safe laxative for children is two soaked figs that have remained in a little water over night. These are eaten in the morning before breakfast.

When baking, the scissors are useful; a snip and the biscuit dough is quickly apportioned; a quick cut and the drop cookie falls into place on the baking tin.

Nothing will clean and sweeten a sink better than a strong solution of washing soda, and the refrigerator likewise should frequently be washed with this.

If you are arranging short-stemmed flowers, throw into the water a number of ordinary bottle corks. These will buoy up the flowers, keeping them in position.

Even when there is cream in the coffee, the stains can be removed from the most delicate silk or woolen fabric by brushing the spots with pure glycerine and rinsing in lukewarm water.

Never close up a finger with court plaster. It involves the possibility of pus and long inflammation. Wash the cut with warm water and turpentine should be applied. Then bandage with linen cloths.

Even Cures Ulcers.

Remarkable Results from Skin Remedy That Costs Almost Nothing.

No matter how bad a sore throat or ulcer afflicts you, it is believed that HOKARA, the pure skin healer, will cure it, but if it doesn't cure, the purchase price will be refunded.

S. E. Thorley, the local agents for HOKARA, who have sold hundreds of packages, say they have yet to find any form of wound or disease affecting the skin that HOKARA, does not heal, and its relief comes so quickly that those who try it are simply delighted with it.

Pimples, eczema, blackheads, acne, barbers itch, and all skin troubles are quickly believed by applying this simple skin healer and tissue builder. It contains, no grease or acids, and is cleanly to use.

S. E. Thorley, is selling a large package of HOKARA for 25 cents. Ad

CAPTURE JUAREZ

MEXICAN REBELS MAKE MERRY
AT BULLFIGHT AFTER EXECUTING MANY FEDERALS.

ON TO CHIHUAHUA SHORTLY

Federals Remain Unburied in Streets While Juarez Celebrates—Cantina Draws Crowd—Defenders of the City Put to Death.

Juarez, Mexico, Nov. 17.—Death was given a day off and the victorious soldiers of Villa's rebel army celebrated their capture of the biggest city on the northern frontier.

Rifles and pistols barked at short intervals throughout Saturday as the present rebel holders of Juarez settled accounts with Federals against whom they bore a personal grudge or who were suspected of having injured the Constitutional cause.

Officially it was admitted that seven Federal officers had been executed. Officially, it was said in the morning that the dead would number about 30; officially, at night, the death list was placed at about 75. Unofficially, it is known that 11 bodies were counted in the streets of Juarez in the morning, where there were none the day before.

The hand that pulled the trigger that sent some unlucky prisoner to eternity the next day laid pennies and dimes and quarters upon the green at the card tables or applauded the thrusts of a favorite matador at a frightened bull; the voice that shouted, "un viva Villa," is hoarse from shouting, "Viva picadore." The pages of progress, as recognized in modern America, while the victors in the recent battle celebrated.

Capt. Ricardo Contreras, of the Federal army, was among the victims of the rebel executioners. He had been one of the most active Federals in the preparations for the defence of Juarez and had largely supervised the work of planting mines and constructing the barbed wire electrified "trochas" about the city.

With Villa no prisoner was tried before he was executed. Villa either ordered his execution calmly and quickly, as if he were ordering his horse saddled, or some subordinate decided that the execution was proper and carried it out.

Many of the executions were performed by one man, not by a firing squad. The victim was merely taken from the prison by a rebel soldier and in a few minutes a shot would be heard, the rebel soldier would return and the result was known without an investigation.

The Federals invariably bury their victims at once. Invariably the victim was led to the point of execution by a firing squad, received a pick and shovel and were then told to dig. When a grave had been finished the victim received his sentence of lead on the brink of his newly made grave and his body often rolled into it.

Villa distributed to his men several hundred uniforms captured from the Federals when the town was taken.

The body of Col. Enrique Portillo, the executed Federal commander, was stripped of trousers and shoes by a rebel who needed them. He wore them to the bull fight.

Some additional bands of rebel soldiers reached the newly created Constitutional capital of the State of Chihuahua, but it has been decided not to bring all the Villa army of five or six thousand men here. The advance on Chihuahua will begin shortly.

NO MORE MIXED MAIL CREWS

Whites and Negroes to be Separated in Railway Mail Service—Department Has Taken Steps.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 17.—"Negro and white mail clerks will be absolutely separated. The department in fact, has already taken steps towards that end," said Alexander H. Stephens, general superintendent of the Railway Mail Service to a conference of chief clerks of the eleventh division here.

"We have found that mixed crews do not give satisfaction, but in separating races," he continued, "we are proceeding so that no injustice will be done and no men demoted. We will simply work with all white and negro crews in the future."

BURNING STEAMER BEACHED

Balmes Reaches Bermuda in Tow of Pannonia—One Hundred and Three Passengers Saved.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 17.—The Spanish steamer Balmes, of the Pinillos Line, which caught fire 600 miles from this port, and whose 103 passengers were rescued by the Cunard liner Pannonia, arrived here conveyed by the Pannonia.

The rescuing steamer a companioned the Balmes to Bermuda as the fire in the hold was blazing and the crew was in constant danger during the long fight with the flames.

The Pannonia, with the 103 rescued passengers proceeded on her way to New York. The crew of the Balmes cheered as the Cunard steamed away. High tributes were paid by the passengers to the work of the captain and crew of the Balmes in transferring them to the Pannonia. The Spanish sailors refused to abandon the ship after the passengers had been taken off and stuck to their posts manfully, fighting the fire, although half suffocated by the smoke.

The steamer was taken to St. George's and the hatches opened. Smoke and flames burst from every point and the fire boats of Hamilton poured heavy streams of water on the fire.

LAURELS WERE WITH UMPIRE

Sarcastic Remark for Which "Kicking" Player Guilty of Bad Error Had No Retort.

Sherwood Magee was still harping on a close decision which Umpire Bill Klem had given against the Phillies in an early inning, when another close play came in the fifth. Again the opposing team was favored.

"That's two you gave them, Bill," Magee shot at Klem.

The game raged along so close a run would have decided the issue either way. One of the opposing batters lifted a fly to left. There were two on the bases. Magee played the lick poorly, and muffed the ball. The two baserunners crossed the plate with what proved to be the winning runs.

Magee tried to avoid Klem as he walked to the bench after the inning, but Bill was alert. He sauntered close to Magee and said:

"I didn't give them those two, did I?"

Sea Water for London.

A gigantic scheme for supplying London with sea water direct by means with a pipeline from the east coast is to come before parliament. The promoters depend to some extent upon the co-operation of the borough councils, which, it is expected, will contract for supplies of sea water for use in swimming and private baths, and in some cases their support has already been promised. The elaborate plans include the establishment of a first-class hydro in a fashionable part of London. A newspaper representative was told by one of the originators of the scheme that the engineers, satisfied from the outset as to its practicability, now state that all the difficulties have been overcome. The cost has been estimated at between £500,000 and £750,000, and it is further more stated that the support already received by the project justifies the decision to bring a bill before parliament.
