Fashions and Fads.

The placing of the sash is important because it can make or mar the figure.

Skirt lines are broken by clever trappings, drapery, or application of ornaments.

The picture hat has returned. It is large and dashing and worn much to one side.

Children's dresses are simple. We have good lines instead of the fussy frills.

The chiffon lace or net tunic lends itself readily to making an old gown look like new.

The new coat suits may be plain or fancy. The coat may be short or moderately long.

Whatever the shape of the hat, the material is invariably velvet and the color is black.

Separate wraps are made of plain and broadened velvet, corduroy, and velours de laine.

A vest or vestlette with an attached collar that can be drawn over the outside coat collar will give a suit a different appearance.

Huge muffs of black or colored fox have ruffles about the hands of wide plaits of cream or pure white net mounted over chiffon.

The only kind of coat that seems to be out of fashion is the one that exposes the blouse across the chest and has revers as a finish.

Black suede shoes with French heels and pointed toes are embroid ered with silver beads across the toes and lower part of the instep.

The slender woman is in her glory this year. She can break her skirt-line with a joyful vengeance. The ways are numerous and the effect always good.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney, & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY, & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75 cents per bottle.
