PICKED UP IN PENNSYLVANIA

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Sunbury.—Josiah Martz, who, while working in the casket works here, was stricken with apoplexy and fell through a trap door on top of a coffin, died as a combined result of his injuries from the fall and from the apoplexy.

Indiana.—A new $50,000 Y. M. C. A. building was dedicated here free of debt.

Kittanning.—The Wallworth Coal Co. has taken out papers to establish a town to be known as Wallworth, on the Allegheny river, near here. The company will open mines near the new town.

New Castle.—Samuel S. McCready, 64, died in New Bedford from septic poisoning that resulted from a boil.

Chester.—Twice pronounced dead, once by a physician, Charles Hughes, a Chester park guard, is still alive. A week ago a nurse, who was in charge of Hughes, summoned members of his family, and they watched, as he apparently breathed his last. An undertaker was summoned. He noticed a slight twitching in the man's arm, and called the nurse, who restored him to consciousness. Hughes again sank into unconsciousness. A physician pronounced him dead, and again the undertaker was summoned. While the physician was bending over the supposed dead man, he received a kick in the stomach that convinced him Mr. Hughes was no corpse. Destoratives were applied and the patient was revived.

Carlisle.—Captain Thomas B. Reed, U. S. A. retired, is dead at his home here.

Beaver.—While straddling a log he was rolling into New Sewickley creek near Baden, Ulrich Baehm tripped and, with the log, rolled over the steep embankment leading to the creek. His neck was broken and he died instantly.

Washington.—Rev. E. C. Paxton, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church, uses the "movies" to make his sermons more forceful.

Sunbury.—Five years in the penitentiary for Joseph Quigley, Mount Carmel; three for Walter Wellan, Shamokin, and four for John Brennan, Shamokin, with heavy fines and costs, were the sentences imposed by Judge Moser, when the trio pleaded guilty to smuggling saws into the county jail at Sunbury to release Fred Nye, before he was hanged, and 60 other prisoners.

Greensburg.—A new high price for hogs was established in Westmoreland county at a sale on the farm of James Loughner, when two hogs, combined weight 1,400 pounds, brought $200.

Somerset.—Because he entered his fiancée's home at night by prying open a window, it was alleged, James Albright was prosecuted for burglary by the girl's father, Irvine Foust. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Reading.—Five-year-old James Rebre picked up a rifle in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Reddig, aged 44, and when he pulled the trigger the gun was discharged, Mrs. Reddig being instantly killed.

Sharon.—Harry Tennant, 12, was standing at the bottom of a hill watching companions roll stones down it, when one of the stones bounded and struck him on the head, fracturing his skull.

Sunbury.—Threatening to take by force the body of Fred Nye, who was hanged, if she did not give it to them, Shamokin youths intimidated Mrs. Mary Nye, mother of the executed youth, at her home in Sunbury. Deputy sheriffs gave the woman protection.

Clearfield.—Clearfield county commissioners are swamped with warrants issued for payment of scalp bounties. Several thousand dollars have already been paid. People are making hunting a business.

Beaver Falls.—No applications have been received for the position of city assessor, to be appointed when new city commissioners take office. The mayor has been deluged with applications for all other city positions.

Washington.—When the leader of a flock of sheep belonging to John Rodgers walked in front of a train, the entire flock of 20 sheep was killed.

Harrisburg.—Over 1,000 chickens will cluck or crow when the Central Pennsylvania poultry show opens for its best patronized session. Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland fanciers have poultry entered.

Pittsburg.—Herbert McHattie, 20, of Woodlawn was killed and a score of persons injured when a runaway car crashed into a car which had stopped to take on passengers.

Altoona.—C. E. Ickes, aged 27, a Bremen, leaped out of his engine cab window and was instantly killed when his head was struck by an engine on an adjoining track.

Homestead.—William Hickey, 16, jumped from the rear of a wagon in front of a street car, was run down and instantly killed.

Hollidaysburg.—A windstorm of great proportions which swept over this vicinity demolished barns, fences and sheds and uprooted trees. A large barn on the farm of Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was partly demolished.

Punxsutawney.—Mrs. Wm. Hughes of Sagamore, mother of John Hurley of South Bend, Wash., who was snatched from her arms 14 years ago by kidnapers, has received a telegram informing her the son would arrive at her home within a few days. A letter from the son to Chief of Police Palmer of Punxsutawney brought about the reunion.

Wire Ticks

WEST ORANGE, N. J.—Moving pictures were blamed for the closing of Emmanuel Baptist Chapel, on Tompkins street, West Orange, by the pastor, the Rev. Edward Eston Lowans.

WORCESTER, Mass.—Fire starting from an unknown origin, completely destroyed the seven-story building of C. T. Sherer Company, department store, damaged several adjoining business structures, and was finally extinguished after a loss of between $300,000 and $500,000.

NEW YORK.—The Park Theatre, in Columbus Circle, where the real "inside of the White Slave Traffic" has been turned inside out for moving-picture lovers, was closed by order of Police Sergt. Quinn of Third Deputy Commissioner Newburger's staff.

GULFPORT Miss.—That President Wilson intends to spend his winter vacation in Pass Christian, Miss., is indicated in a telegram received by Judge W. H. Hardy of this city from Senator Vardaman in Washington, requesting the jurist to find a furnished cottage in Pass Christian suitable for occupancy by the President.

New York.—A sweeping advance was made in burglar insurance rates upon risks in this city and the surrounding territory.

'PHONE TRUST TO DISSOLVE

Avoids Federal Suit by Promise to Sell Western Union Holding.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, better known as the Bell system, of the Telephone Trust, has agreed to drop its control over the Western Union Telegraph Company and to reorganize immediately under the terms of the Sherman law at the suggestion of the Department of Justice. It has voluntarily agreed to adjust its business to the conditions of competition, an important feature of which will be to throw open its toll lines to independent companies.

Attorney General McReynolds, with the assent of President Wilson, has accepted the reorganization plan, and will not proceed with the contemplated suit against the company as a combination in restraint of trade under the Anti-trust act.

This agreement is the first impressive evidence of the administration's new policy to co-operate with "big business" in the matter of readjustments under the Sherman law. It is the most encouraging step thus far taken by the Wilson administration to restore the confidence of the business interests of the country.

Among the letters given out by Attorney General McReynolds bearing on the subject was one written by President Wilson to Mr. McReynolds expressing gratification "that the company should thus volunteer to adjust its business to the conditions of competition."

WRECK CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Vandals Destroy Index Files and Throw Books About at Oberlin.

Oberlin, Dec. 19.—Vandals wrecked the interior of the new Carnegie Library here which is used jointly by Oberlin College and the town. Books and magazines were thrown about, and all card index files destroyed. Restoration will cost several hundred dollars and require protracted labor. Meanwhile the building will be closed and college reference work handicapped.

Police and college authorities are co-operating to apprehend those responsible.

OWEN MEASURE ADOPTED, SIX REPUBLICANS AND ONE PROGRESSIVE SUPPORTING IT.

TRIUMPH FOR THE PRESIDENT

Effective as Soon as Organization is Completed—Victory Greeted With Cheers; Hitchcock and Six Republicans Support Bill on Final Passage.

Currency Features; Board of 7 to Control

A regional reserve association of at least eight banks.

Banks to be selected by a committee. System to be under control of Federal Reserve Board of seven including the Secretary of the Treasury.

All national banks must signify their intention in writing to come into the association within sixty days or they cannot act as reserve agents. A delay of 12 months means they shall cease to be national banks.

State banks may enter the reserve association.

Capital of regional reserve banks six per cent. of capital and surplus of all national banks which affords aggregate subscribed capital of $100,000,000.

Subscriptions to stock of reserve associations opened first to banks, and then to public.

Dividend on the stock of the regional banks six per cent. annually.

Provides gradual retirement of national bank notes and substitution of Treasury gold notes.

Authorizes issue by Government to member banks of reserve of 40 per cent. required in Treasury.

Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency act extended until July, 1915.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The Administration currency bill as perfected by the Owen sub-committee and ratified by the Democratic caucus passed the Senate by a vote of 54 to 34.

The organization of the new system will be undertaken at once and put into effect "as soon as practicable."

The passage of the currency bill through the Senate marks the second notable victory for President Wilson.

The bill as it emerged from the struggle in the Upper House carries all of the fundamentals upon which Mr. Wilson and his advisers insisted, but is admittedly a better and safer measure than the one which left the House of Representatives.

The action by the Senate practically ends a fight for currency reform which began soon after the 1907 panic, and which had been agitated sporadically before that year.

President Wilson and the Democratic leaders see in the measure a stimulus to business and are confident it will soon end the cries of calamity howlers.

With the new measure on the statute books they believe any danger of a serious panic in the country is now a thing of the past and that the United States is assured of a really elastic currency system and one which will readily permit of the mobilization of reserves to meet any threatened emergency.

In the vote every Democratic Senator present, including Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, was recorded in favor of the bill. Six Republicans also voted for it—Crawford and Sterling of South Dakota, Jones of Washington, Norris of Nebraska, Perkins of California and Weeks of Massachusetts.

Senator Poindexter Progressive of Washington, also voted for the bill Senator La Follette was recorded against it.

When the result of the final vote was announced there was enthusiastic even uproarious applause on the Democratic side and in the galleries. Secretary McAdoo was on the floor of the Senate and joined in the jubilation.

Mrs. Emery Said to Have Paid That Record-Breaking Sum in Cash for Titian's Phillip II.

Cincinnati, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Emery, a wealthy widow, has bought Titian's Phillip II. from Sir Hugh Lane of London for a price said to be in the neighborhood of $400,000.

Mrs. Emery would not discuss the matter, other than to say that she would shortly have the picture transferred to Cincinnati, where it will adorn the walls of her home, one of the city's show places.
