ROACHES IN THE HOUSE.

The roach nuisance has been brought to the attention of State Zoologist H. A. Surface, Harrisburg, by persons in different parts of the State.

A lawyer of Indiana, Pa., wrote to Professor Surface, saying: "For some time past I have been troubled with roaches. They keep hid in cracks during the day, but at night comes out in large numbers. I think they must have been brought to the house with groceries. Everything is kept clean and in as good condition as is usually found about a well-regulated house, and still they stay. We have tried various things in trying to get rid of them. I suppose that fumigating the entire house with formaldehyde would be effective. If you can give me any simple method of getting rid of them, I will be grateful for the advice."

Professor Surface replied as follows: "These pests are quite persistent invaders and generally cannot be exterminated by a single application. For this reason a combination of methods is desirable. Powdered borax blown around cracks they inhabit, especially around damp places in the kitchen floors, will help to drive them away. Powdered sugar, one part, and plaster of Paris, two parts, mixed together, will prove to be a good remedy. One of the best remedies is a proprietary substance sold on the market under the name of "Roach Paste" or "Food". I should avoid the phosphorus poisons, as they are dangerous to use in the house. If the annoyance caused by roaches should reach the extreme limit and it be necessary for you to fumigate, you can do this safely with hydrocyanic acid gas, although you will have to vacate the rooms during the time of the fumigation. I should not attempt to fumigate for them with formaldehyde, as I do not think this would be efficient in destroying roaches."

Destroy Remnants of Garden Plants Now.

Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, calls attention to the importance of promptly destroying the remnants of garden plants and truck crops at this time of year, rather than leaving them in the gardens or fields until spring. If destroyed now, many of their pests are destroyed with them; if allowed to remain until spring, many of these pests have opportunity to escape.

The vines of potatoes, cucumbers, squash, melons, etc., should be raked together and thrown on dry straw or brush and burned. This gets rid of both the insects and fungus diseases lurking therein. The old asparagus plants should be cut off and burned, and straw spread over the asparagus bed and burned thereon at once, to get rid of the asparagus beetles, and then the soil containing the asparagus roots can be well mulched with a cover or litter of any kind to protect them during the winter.

It is especially important that the stalks of cabbage plants and the imperfect heads should be removed and fed to swine or cattle, or kept in storage in a cold place to feed to poultry during the winter. Even the old stalks from which heads have been cut should be removed from the soil and treated as directed above, or burned. Several kinds of pests are liable to be found upon these old stubs or the leaves clinging thereto. The best way to destroy them is to feed them to livestock or burn them.

Household Notes.

A slip for a balsam pillow is best made of tan linen, with a pine tree cross-stitch upon it.

Let potatoes lie in cold water for a little while before paring if you wish them to be white.

When fruit leaves a stain on the teeth, it should be removed at once by rubbing on a little salt.

When next cooking asparagus, add a little rice. The dish will be found most satisfactory.

A clothesline may be cleaned by wrapping it around a washboard and thoroughly scrubbing it in soapsuds.

When you wish to wrap presents in the prettiest, most unique fashion, use raffia in several shades for tying.

Apply glycerin to a scald directly after the accident occurs and cover it up with strips of rag soaked in glycerin.

Flannels that have become hard and shrunken may be restored to their former softness by soaking in gasoline.

When making sago pudding, allow three dessertspoons for each pint of milk; let all soak two hours before cooking.

After cleaning brass or copper with salt and vinegar, rub with olive oil and the metal will not tarnish for a long time.

Allow the children to eat almonds. One dozen blanched almonds are equal to about one pound of round steak in nutritive value.

If you have not access to a hot-water bag when it is needed, a good substitute is a flannel bag filled with hot sand or salt. A good idea is to keep half a dozen little ones filled and ready.

In pressing any clothes or goods where it is customary to place a cloth over them when ironing, use a newspaper instead. It gives a gloss to ribbon or silk, leaves no lint and stiffens cambric.

Get a nickel's worth of stick glue at your druggist's and put three or four pieces at intervals in the soil around your fern. Do this three or four times a year, and you will notice a marked improvement in it.

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk, Don't think of your worries, but think of your work;

The worries will vanish, the work will be done, No man sees his shadow who faces the sun!

Honesty Universal in Finland.

The Finns place their money and valuables in holes in the ground and cover them with a big leaf. Such treasure is sacredly respected by all who pass it; but, in the rare event of a man wishing to borrow of his neighbor during his absence, he will take only the smallest sum he requires, and place a message in the hole telling of his urgent need, promising to repay the amount on a specified date. And he will invariably keep his word, for the Finn is invincible in his independence.
