Only Remedy.

Life is thick sown with thorns, and I know of no other remedy than to pass through them quickly. The longer we dwell on our misfortunes, the greater is their power to harm us.—Voltaire.

TO PURGE HERSELF OF CONTEMPT.

Alleging that the injunction served upon her is illegal because it does not contain the signature of Judge Ruppel and on the added ground that Judge Ruppel is an interested party because he was attorney for the Johnstown Water company before his elevation to the bench, Amanda O'Connor, the plucky Conemaugh township woman who has been defending her property against invasion by employees of the Johnstown Water company, who desire to lay a pipe line through the tract, has not yet surrendered. She is just as strenuous as ever in refusing to permit the water company to mar the beauty of her farm by allowing the installation of a pipe line, although she has been ordered to do so by the court.

COMPANY SEEKS AID OF LAW.

W. H. C. Ramsey of Johnstown, superintendent for the Johnstown Water company, accompanied by Attorney Charles F. Uhl of Somerset, appeared in court on Monday and invoked through Judge Ruppel the strong arm of the law in the water company's effort to secure the right of way through the O'Connor property. Superintendent Ramsey also had the backing of four members of the company's engineering corps, who testified that the mistress of the O'Connor farm on the North Fork of the Bessemer interfered with the survey they were making by walking about in such places that they were inconvenient in "taking sights."

TRIED TO TAKE TRANSIT.

Then the engineers told the court in a manner illustrated by gesture how Miss O'Connor had laid violent hands on their transit and attempted to take possession of the instrument, also proceeding to deliver herself of alleged menacing declarations as to her rights on premises. She had both hands filled with stones too, the engineers told the court.

COURT GRANTS A RULE.

Last week the Johnstown Water company went into court on a bill in equity, alleging the same offenses again complained of, and securing a temporary injunction restraining Miss O'Connor from further interference with the work of the engineers for the water company. As a result of the plea made the court granted a rule on Miss O'Connor requiring her to show cause why she should not be arrested on an attachment for contempt of court. Sheriff Hochard went to the O'Connor farm and served the paper. It is understood that he had no unusual experiences in carrying out the orders of the court.

FARMERS PICNIC AT ADDISON ON AUGUST 22.

Jasper Augustine is making extensive arrangements for the union farmer's and children's picnic to be held Saturday, August 22nd, at Oak Grove near Addison. There will be music by the Connessville Military Band the Friedensville band, and either the Frostburg or Confluence Band.

A feature of the day will be two parades at 10 o'clock in the morning. The farmer's parade will start from Addison and the automobile parade from Somerfield, so that both arrive on the grounds at the same time.

ON A TRIP TO VIRGINIA.

Two touring cars left yesterday morning on a trip to Luray Caverns, the Natural Bridge and other points of interest, by way of Winchester and will return to Meyersdale by way of Gettysburg. The following made the trip: H. M. Cook and wife, Mrs. J. M. Olinger and daughters Misses Kate and Emma, of Meyersdale, Cyrus M. Beachy, wife, daughter and niece of Wichita, Kas., and Earnest Livenood, of Salisbury. They took the precaution to take with them Mr. Shope, a practical mechanic, in case either car might get out of commission.

Found New Species of Microbes.

A new species of microbes, the action of which has developed a new form of disease, has been developed by Mme. Victor Henri, a bacteriologist. She subjected the bacillus of anthrax to ultra violet rays, which changed their nature and shape. Then the modified bacilli were injected into guinea pigs, the result being a slowly developing disease of a totally different character from that of anthrax. Mme. Henri deduces from her discovery the possibility of evolution in the bacteria world, as in the animal world, and expresses the opinion that the multitudes of existing species, which have undergone transformations under the action of light, and have engendered the varieties of germs responsible for the diseases known to science.

Fight With Mud and Water.

One of the oddest annual contests in the world, a mud and water fight, during which the women of far-off and little-known Bhutan, in the heart of the Himalayas, seek to prevent the men from taking possession of an inundated rice field, is described by John Claude White, late political officer in charge of Sikkim, Bhutan, and parts of Tibet within the sphere of British influence, in a communication to the National Geographic society. The event is known as the spring ceremony of blessing the rice fields. Victory for the women portends, during the coming season, fertility of the soil and increase among the flocks and herds.

Seismograph as Witness.

Seismograph records have frequently been produced in court to show that the operation of heavy machinery produced sufficient vibration in nearby buildings to make the owners of the factory liable for damages.

Cat Reasoned Wisely.

Romances quotes a remarkable story about a cat's reasoning power. While a paraffin lamp was being trimmed, some of the oil fell on the back of the cat, and a cinder from the fire shortly afterward touching it, the fur became ignited. The cat instantly made for the door and, running up the village street, plunged into the watering trough. She had seen her human friends at home put out their kitchen fire with water, and she must have reasoned from this fact.

Height of Happiness.

Gretchen, the little German maid, was given a dress belonging to one of the daughters of the house, who went to college. Gretchen had a "trionic soul and loved to "live lives." Upon returning from her "day out" she was asked if she had had a good time. "Oh, yah," she replied. "I felt shoost like a collidge goirl."

LINER BLOWN UP BY MINE

150 of Passengers and Crew Perish on Dalmatian Coast

ABOUT 150 WERE RESCUED

Great Britain, France and Russia Demand Explanation of Ottomans—Keep German Crews to Train—Turks—Fear Complications.

London, Eng.—About 150 of the passengers and crew of the Austrian Lloyd steamer Baron Gutsch were killed or drowned when the vessel was blown up by a mine off the Island of Lussin, on the Dalmatian coast, according to a Reuter dispatch from Trieste. She carried about 300 passengers and crew, of whom about 150 were rescued.

Great Britain, France and Russia, have sent a sharp demand to Turkey for the immediate repatriation of the officers and crews of the German cruisers Coeben and Breslau.

It is reported that the two cruisers were met by Turkish vessels outside and escorted into the Dardanelles. There is no official confirmation of the actual purchase of the cruisers by Turkey, but the report to that effect is generally credited. According to a dispatch from Constantinople Turkey has paid $20,000,000 for the German cruisers Coeben and Breslau.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Rome says: "Turkey's purchase of the German cruisers Breslau and Goeben has made an unpleasant impression here. Italy probably will demand an explanation as to the future use of these ships and also warn Turkey that she will not allow the equilibrium of the lower Mediterranean to be threatened, as Italy is determined to prevent complications."

A dispatch to the Chronicle from West Hartlepool says that the captain of the Danish steamer Huldamaersk declares that he passed seven sunken German ships 15 miles off Spurn Head, at the northwest entrance of the Humber. Only the masts of the vessels were visible above the water, but the captain believes they were German men-of-war.

Advices received here from Constantinople are to the effect that the officers and crew of the German cruisers Coeben and Breslau disembarked apparently with the object of returning home, but that in reality only the unessential men were replaced by Turks. All the skilled German officers, engineers, mechanics and sailors, it is said, remain aboard the two cruisers to train the Turks.

BERLIN QUIET, NO FAMINE

Foreigners, Especially Americans, Fully Protected.

Washington, D. C.—The American Association of Commerce and Trade of Berlin, through Ambassador Gerard, has requested the State Department to make public the following telegram: "We would ask the American press and America in general to be careful in giving credence to war reports now circulating in the United States concerning conditions in Germany. The city of Berlin is perfectly quiet. Food prices are normal. Foreigners, especially Americans, are fully protected."

Beet Industry Sued for $57,600 Postage

Washington, D. C.—Suit was ordered by Postmaster General Burleson to recover from the United States beet sugar industry $57,600, which it is alleged should have been paid in postage on a pamphlet circulated under Senator Lodge's frank while the Underwood tariff bill was before Congress. Information concerning this pamphlet, which the postal authorities claim was illegally franked, was brought out during the recent Senate lobby investigation. The pamphlet was the work of Truman H. Palmer, secretary of the United States Beet Sugar Industry.

800 Indians Mowed Down.

Washington, D. C.—In a night attack on Manzanillo in "what appears to have been one of the fiercest battles on the west coast of Mexico," says a report from Rear Admiral Howard, the constitutionalist forces, which included a regiment of 800 Yaqui Indians, under Col. Mendes, charged across a field which had been mined and strewn with barbed wire. Of one detachment of 200 men in the fight only 22 survived unhurt.

Paymaster and Guards Killed.

Bluefield, W. Va.—Paymaster F. E. Johnson of the Glen Alum Fuel Company and his two guards were shot to death and robbed of $10,500 in a battle with bandits, while on their way to the mines of the company near Glen Alum, 75 miles west of here, with pay for the miners.

Germans Building Pontoon Bridges.

Brussels.—The cashier of a Liege bank, who arrived here on a bicycle to obtain funds, says that he had little difficulty in getting out of Liege in establishing his identity. The German troops, he says, continue their preparations for defense in the event of the Belgian troops taking the offensive, but the impression in Liege is that the Germans are preparing to leave the vicinity, as they are hurrying the construction of pontoon bridges over the Meuse.
