Ben Franklin wrote as one of his wise saws, "When the well is dry we know the worth of water." Just now this part of the county is undergoing a long dry spell and Meyersdale's water supply is as low as it ever has been, the lowest for five years, and it will not be many days unless it rains, before a low water record is reached in the borough's water supply.

While at no time should there be lavish use of water, there are strong reasons for being careful of its use or we too may learn the worth of water in Meyersdale greatly to our inconvenience.

"If Vance McCormick wins the fight, your license will not be in force many more years."

This is the warning given to the saloon men of the state by Neil Bonner, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of the Liquor Dealers, in a confidential letter which he has sent out urging the rum men to work for the election of Senator Penrose, and all the Republicans, especially those candidates for the Assembly, and for the Senate, as it is there the local option question will be won or lost.

Are you for liquor or against it, fellow voter? If you are for the saloon, why your duty is as plain as a b c and that is to vote the straight-as-a-bee-line Republican ticket. If, however, you have felt for years that whiskey, the power back of bossism, should not pollute this fair state any longer, why then your duty is equally clear and that is to support those who stand for temperance and whose legislative records show them to be loyal in deed and word. These are the Progressives.

THE FAMOUS WOMAN AT DONGES THEATRE.

It is only natural that a person would like to know of the famous young woman who will appear next week at the Donges Theatre. She is a California girl, having been born in Los Angeles twenty years ago last July; she is totally "Uneducated" never having gone to school a day in her life, yet she accomplishes mental feats that have been attempted by Professors of Psychology that have either failed or had only partial success. She holds an international reputation having appeared in the largest cities throughout the U. S.,

England, Canada, Mexico and France. She was married at fifteen and since becoming a mother, has forsaken the big cities for the easier work that the smaller towns afford her, so that her days may be spent with her children. "Ita" should not be compared with the common run of so-called "fortune tellers" as only a part of her wonderful performance is applied to answering questions for those who wish it, even in this part she will prove a surprise to the most skeptical. She is the talk of the town at Keyser where she is appearing this week.

ANY LITTLE I CAN DO.

If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak the little word
And take my bit of singing
And drop it in some lonely vale
To set the echoes ringing!

CHARITY.

How often it is difficult to be wisely charitable—to do good without multiplying the sources of evil. To give alms is nothing unless you give thought also. It is written not "Blessed is he that feedeth the poor," but "Blessed is he that considereth the poor." A little thought and a little kindness are often worth more than a great deal of money.
—Ruskin.

The Rose Breasted Grosbeak.

When the intense heat has silenced almost every other songster the rose breasted grosbeak sings even at mid-day during the summer. It is so fond of the Colorado potato beetle that it has earned the name of potato bug bird. No less than a tenth of its total food consists of the beetle. It vigorously attacks cucumber beetles and many of the scale insects. It is also an active enemy of the Rocky mountain locust during that insect's ruinous invasions, and among the other pests it consumes are the spring and fall cankerworms, caterpillars, tussock, gypsy and brown tail moths, plum curculio, army worm and chinch bug.

Pronunciation.

Dr. Johnson would not have consented to pronounce "wind" differently in prose and in verse. He insisted upon making the "i" long always. The story goes that in order to crush somebody who preferred the short "i" in ordinary conversation Johnson, riming all three words with "tinned," remarked, "I cannot find it in my mind to call it wind, but"—riming all three words with "blind"—"I can find it in my mind to call it wind." But his adversary got the better of him. Johnson himself always pronounced "gold" as "goid." "If I may be so bold," said the other, "I should like to be told why you call it goid."

CONTENTMENT.

The happy state of mind so rarely possessed in which we can say, "I have enough," is the highest attainment of philosophy. Happiness consists not in possessing much, but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little always has enough.—Zimmerman.

LOCALS CONCLUDED.

A party was tendered Leonard Branch, of Boswell, by Meyersdale friends at the home of Mr. George D. Siehl on Monday evening, during that young gentleman's visiting here. Games furnished the entertainment. A delicious evening repast was served. Those present were, Misses Margaret Saylor, Mary Hoover, Edna Saylor, Love Chambers, Carrie Saylor, Mora Siehl, and Messrs. Ralph Commons, Roy Commons, Harry Kilroy, Crosby Reynolds, Alex. and Robert Murray. Mr. Branch left for his home on the Duquesne the next morning, delighted with his cordial stay here.

Thirty members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church enjoyed decidedly a straw ride to Lichty's grove last Friday evening where the menu was principally a la corn roast. Impovident of their wants they forgot to take along coffee and so a committee was sent to Mechanicsville to procure the indispensable beverage.
