

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KRAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

One Way to Lengthen Life

Late in life, when the organs begin to weaken, the hard-working kidneys often tire out first.

Failing eyesight, stiff, aching joints, rheumatic pains, lame back and distressing urination are often due only to weak kidneys.

Prevention is the best cure and at middle age any sign of kidney weakness should have prompt attention.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made life more comfortable for thousands of old folks. It is the best recommended special kidney remedy.

A Pennsylvania Case

Edward Kearns, 1028 N. 5th St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I had terrible pains across my joints, extending into my shoulders. My kidneys were weak and it was hard for me to work. Finally I was laid up in bed for several months and a doctor had to be taken to the hospital. After consulting with a doctor without benefit, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Four boxes cured me and I was able to go back to work. The trouble has never returned."

Coiffures Adapted to Smaller Hats

THE most striking coiffure which made its appearance in midsummer showed the hair brushed back from the face, without curl or wave, and the forehead entirely uncovered. Where the hair is naturally wavy and the forehead well shaped this style was possible. But, even so, only youthful wearers could carry it off; it proved generally unbecoming. Therefore the new off-the-face coiffures are waved and the hair brought down over the forehead for a little way, when such an arrangement is found to suit the style of the wearer.

The hair is most conveniently dressed in these new styles by parting off a portion of it all around the head and waving it. This leaves the back hair to be combed up to the crown and coiled into a support for the end of the waved portion. A very small and rather flat hair roll placed around the head before the waved hair is combed back will be found to support it and keep the outline of the coiffure unchanged.

In the illustrations here given are the best examples of off-the-face styles in hairdressing. The back hair is turned under in the manner of a French twist but arranged quite close to the head. These coiffures are specially adapted to the smaller hats which are popular for street wear.

For wider brimmed hats the prettiest of the new styles are dressed with a small chignon at the back and short, soft curls at its sides. Even in the close-fitting hat shapes brims turn upward on one side so that the hair shows from the middle of the forehead to below the crown. In all coiffures the hair may be without a part, or a shallow part is made either in the middle or at one side. Each wearer is supposed to decide for herself as to what suits her face best.

Millinery That Is Faultless

THE three hats which grace this page are entitled to be called faultless millinery. And a hat must measure up to many requirements to be so classed. First of all, it must be beautiful, then it must be perfectly adapted to the occasions upon which it is to be worn, and it must, of course, be up to the minute in style and show the use of new trimmings in a clever manner.

A hat of velvet is shown in the center. It is made on a frame, which rolls upward at the left side, into a graceful and slightly curved brim and is without an upward roll at the right side. The velvet is put on with perfect smoothness and follows all the curves of the frame exactly. At the top of the crown a soft overhanging puff, in a manner of the tam, is draped to follow the lines of the brim. Below this a collar of satin extends about the hat. At the right side, toward the front, the crown is tacked to the brim and is brought down over the collar. This point makes a splendid position for one of those novelties of the season in flowers. In this case it is a rose, with a cluster of small unopened buds in metallic fabric set in ivy leaves with a mother-of-pearl surface. In this hat we have novelty of shape as well as novelty of trimming, and everyone will concede that it is a beautiful bit of millinery.

A sailor hat of plush and silver cloth suited to the winter season is shown on the right. The shape is not new but is graceful and finished with a soft puff in the top of the crown, which is a characteristic of the season. The side crown is a band of plush surmounted by a collar of fur. The only trimming is a small quill of silver spangles fastened with a little jet cabochon.

The model pictured here is made up in seal plush with a collar of skunk fur. It may be copied in broadtail plush or chinchilla, using the same cloth-of-silver top crown. With seal plush or any of the brown toned plushes, both of gold can be substituted for the silver with equally good effect.

The simplicity which marks the two hats already described is emphasized in the beautiful draped turban shown on the left. This hat is apparently a length of velvet with bias ends tied about a frame. This, at any rate, is what its drapings suggest. But in reality it is not quite so simple as it looks, and the fine hand of the artist is shown in this management of materials.

The frame is, in fact, draped with a length of velvet which forms at the same time its facing. But the pointed ends are made of separate pieces. These pieces are lined with silver cloth and tied together with a single knot. Yet they seem to be a part of the body of the hat.

These three examples of the best art of the milliner are classed as tailored hats. If one is to indulge in but one hat, it should be selected from this class. A tailored hat, possessing the distinction of those shown here, may be worn with almost any toilette.

New Style Features to a Gown.

Is it now or is it not new, is the question asked of every gown as it makes its appearance, either at the beginning, middle or end of the season. To have one new feature is not to be new by any means. A gown must have several to be thoroughly and completely up to date. A gown of satin with a softly gathered tunic, a semi-fitting basque; a coachman's cape and sleeves and bodice of chiffon bears the stamp of extreme chic.

Fitted Bodices Coming.

There seems no doubt now that by autumn fitted bodices will be upon us. Some of the most authoritative frocks for summer wear show decided signs of "nipping in" at the waist line and below the bust in front, and sometimes this fitted effect is achieved with the old-fashioned dart seams.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 4

CHRIST ANOINTED FOR BURIAL

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—She hath done what she could. Mark 14:8.

Event crowds fast upon event during this the world's most tragic week. Two days before the passover occurred, the chief priests and other leaders entered a conspiracy how to rid themselves of this troublesome Nazarene. This plot mentioned in the first two verses of the lesson probably occurred four days later than the anointing. Note the separating paragraph mark; also look up carefully a good harmony of the Gospels. Following the Olivet discourse Jesus said to his disciples, "In two days the passover." At that very time Judas was scheming with the rulers for his arrest. John, in his Gospel, tells us that the feast was six days before, and that it was in connection with this that Judas had left the company to go to the priests.

Judas Iscariot was angry at our Lord and this incident led immediately to the betrayal. Nowhere else in all history is there a blacker picture of the human heart or the length of iniquity to which it will go. Everything at this hour is electric and strange. Events rapidly converge towards the cross. For that, grace has been planning and sin is plotting.

Amazed the Disciples.

I. Mary Criticized, vv. 3-5. Jesus had his inner circle of friends and his favorite places of abode and none was evidently more precious than that home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus. In this supreme hour Jesus came to this home to bring it a confirmation of faith and some further spiritual gift. From that time of Peter's confession, several months previous, the Lord has constantly reaffirmed his statement then made, that he must go to Jerusalem, die, and be raised the third day. This teaching amazed the disciples and filled them with fear. Jesus did not, however, awaken faith and then quench it with fear, or allow it to languish and die, John 4:48, 54. Now as the darkest hour approaches, there appeared this one touch of appreciative sympathy. Bethany was of but little dignity but there lived there a man who had been raised from the dead—Lazarus. There also resided one who brought comfort to the heart of Jesus—Mary. She had listened to him, she understood him, believed and loved. With a woman's keen intuition she seems to have realized that he was really going to his death. What that meant to the hopes and aspirations she seems to have divined, and realized, more than all others, his viewpoint. How to tell him was her desire. Out of that love she purchased a box of ointment representing in value about fifty dollars, an immense sum and the full extent of her treasure. Ordinary action will not suffice. The hour and occasion demanded the extraordinary. To it she yielded herself, lavishly pouring upon him the wealth and fragrance of that sacred ointment intended for kings. She had sat at his feet, Luke 10:39, and was ready for this the proper hour for anointing, John 12:7. It was her all, but love does not have the calculating cunning and prudence of Judas.

"Memorial of Her."

II. Mary Commended, vv. 6-9. The story is beautiful in the record we have of our Lord's words. Mary's compensation for the criticism called for by her conduct was the commendation of her Lord. We do not censure the disciples who did not understand but we are thankful for the words of the Master which their criticism called forth. Jesus realized the true meaning of the act and he named it when he said, "She hath done what she could, she hath anointed my body aforehand for burying." Notice that Jesus received the true meaning of her act as for himself, still it was for the world, for he said, "that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her." This was not merely a reward for Mary, it was that her act should be an inspiration to incite his followers to like activities and attitudes throughout all the ages. This is all that is asked of any disciple (II Cor. 8:12). Love forgets self, surroundings, cost or criticism. Love pours out itself to the uttermost and its fragrance fills not alone the house but the whole of creation.

III. Judas Conspires, vv. 10, 11. This tender story ends with the terrible account of Judas. He had no sympathy for Mary, primarily because he was not in sympathetic relations with Jesus.

Jesus had revealed, called forth, the deepest love of Mary's heart. In the case of Judas he revealed a heart of treachery. Accepting the adoring anointing of Mary and also understanding it, he at the same time calls forth a revelation of that compelling motive of selfishness in the heart of Judas that led to his own self-destruction. Contrast these two pictures. We recall the crushed heart of Mary at the death of Lazarus which brought Mary into the closest fellowship with Jesus. In her shadow and sorrow she learned to pour out her love in sacrificial anointing.

Hadn't Killed Him. There is a certain young man who used to be notoriously egotistic. Some of his acquaintances were one day speaking of him before an old lady who was not "up" in the slang expressions of the day.

The next time she met him on the street she put out a congratulatory hand.

"Oh, Mr. Smith," she cried, "I am so glad you are better. I heard last week that you had a swelled head."

Caused a Coldness. "I wish I had money enough to get married," he remarked.

She looked down and blushed. "And what—would—you—do?" she asked, looking very hard at a little design on the carpet.

"I would spend it traveling," he replied. And the thermometer fell ten degrees.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Invents a New Chicken.

George White has produced by selective breeding, the shortest legged chicken in existence after ten years of effort, during which he crossed and re-crossed breeds. The result is a big white fowl that continually seems to be sitting, the impression being due solely to the shortness of its legs. When it walks it waddles like a duck.

The advantage, says White, is that the newly "invented" type of chicken is not a roamer and not a scratcher. It cannot go very far and has not enough of a reach to scratch. The result is that it lives a quiet, peaceful existence, never roosts on a neighbor's fence, and is a busy layer.—Easton (O.) dispatch to the New York World.

TERRIBLE ITCHING BURNING

Vernon, Pa.—"When my baby was about two months old the top of his head was covered with brown scales which turned into thick crusty scabs and began to spread to the back of his head. His hair fell out until he was bald where the scabs were. It must have itched and burned, for baby scratched and he was very fretful and cross. He was so bad that he could not sleep and the sores began to run. "We tried several remedies but could not cure him. Finally a friend told us about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I immediately sent for a sample. They healed him so much that I bought the full-sized Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them according to directions he was healed completely in two weeks. His hair is coming in real thick now." (Signed) Mrs. Emily Wright, Jan. 28, 1914.
