Pinchot for Protection.

The Republican papers are saying nothing about the booze question except to escape the issue, but are heralding the cry that the workingman wants protection in order that he may have work. There are two answers to the matter. One is that Pinchot is as much or more of a protection advocate than the record of Penrose shows him to be for he voted in congress for a free reciprocity treaty with Canada. Mr. Pinchot is a Republican protectionist and the dinner pail of the laborer will be fuller and better filled under him representing the old Keystone State at Washington than under the present Boss regime, for the nine million steals now and then would go a great ways towards reducing the taxes and of improving the industrial conditions.

The other view point at which to look at the depressed condition of the times is due not because of free trade but because capitalists, some of them at least have closed their factories during a free trade administration in order that they may induce the laborer to vote for protection, the argument being then plain that under protection there is plenty of work, and under free trade, the times are bad for the workingman. Protection too much protects the capitalists but does not aid the laborer very much.

Leading Bedford Co. Paper for Hemminger.

The paper with the largest circulation in Bedford county comes out in no equivocal lines relative to the present campaign. It gave the names of those who stand for the liquor dealers, saloonkeepers and in that list puts Endsley who is asking to be returned to the state senate from this district. He has always voted for machine tactics, standing with Bigelow, Crowe, and Penrose.

In another paragraph appeared those who are up for office and who by their acts in legislative halls as well as by their words in the opening of the campaign and every day since then, have declared themselves in the interests of the workingman and against the various forces of the liquor business. That county is very strong in the Progressive ranks and the whole ticket will win with a big majority. Dr. Hemminger for the State Senate is in the latter list and he will carry that county with a big majority.

ON the evening of November 6th the initial meeting for this year of Parents-Teachers Movement will be held in the auditorium of the high school building. It is so essential that the teacher should know as much

OLD COMMISSIONERS "COUGH UP" $3665.34.

Former County Commissioners Josiah Specht and Charles F. Zimmerman Tuesday returned to the County Treasury $1,221.78 each, with which amounts they were surcharged by the Board of County Auditors in 1909.

The Auditors contended that the County Commissioners illegally paid out $3,865.34 in the construction of county bridges. It was alleged that the County was charged for masonry, etc., that was never built, and the Auditors produced measurements to substantiate their assertions.

The Commissioners appealed the surcharge to court but lost out. Later an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, with the same result, and the ex-officials decided to disgorge.

The Auditors who discovered the alleged bridge "graft" were Jacob S. Miller of Friedens, now Washington party candidate for the Legislature; W. H. H. Baker of Rockwood, and Samuel A. Kretschman, late of Black Township.

Robert Augustine of Somerset, was the other member of the Board of Commissioners at the time.

"Waverly" Oils and Gasolines

Gasolines—Lubricants—Wax—Specialties
Waverly Oil Works Co. Pittsburgh

While Irwin Blank, assistant foreman of the Stonycreek mine of the Knickerbocker Smokeless Coal Company at Hooversville was walking into the mine through main entrance Friday afternoon, a section of the roof came down and Mr. Blank was instantly killed. Clyde Berkey, the mine foreman, who accompanied Blank and was only a few steps in the rear, miraculously escaped a similar fate.

The roof of the entrance had been tested at regular intervals, it is declared and at no time was there any evidence that it had cracked or that there was any danger of a fall. It is said there was not the slightest warning when the roof came down upon Blank, who was buried under several tons of rock and earth; his neck was broken and his back badly crushed. The fall missed Foreman Berkey by only a few feet.

Mr. Blank was about 28 years of age and with his wife and two children made his home with Mrs. Blank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Meyers, who reside about a mile from Hooversville and to whose residence, the remains were taken. He was a brother of George Blank of Hooversville and his sisters reside in New Castle and in Kansas. The funeral took place Monday afternoon.

MUNSING WEAR

IT'S NO USE HUNTING ANY FURTHER

If we could find a brand of underwear that would fit and cover the form as perfectly, wash as well, wear as long, cost as little and give as much real comfort and satisfaction as Munsingwear, we'd push that instead. But we can't; consequently Munsing Union Suits are and will be the leading line of knit underwear sold in this store.
