One Element in Saving the Boy.

Some people are never industrious in life because they started in too late to learn how to work. The formative period of their lives was nearly past before they came into possession of the idea that they would have to do something.

With many persons all work seems drudgery, and they get no satisfaction out of it. The statement that idleness is a curse is so trite and common that it ought hardly to be expressed, yet so many lives are ruined and unfruitful of good results because those persons in very early life had no work of any kind to do.

School work is all right, but it only goes half way and hardly that; the child even a few years old should have some daily task to perform and with the years the burden of it should be increased. Pay the child for his service and charge him something for the things you do for him. Let him get a saving account, but have him to understand that he will have some expenses too. Let them learn how much work they would have to do to really earn a nickel, and then, may be, they would not want to spend them so fast.

There is a wonderful amount of value to the character of the young if they have to do work that hurts them to do it at first. And furthermore, while they are at good honest toil they are not tempted to do questionable things. Study, work, play should be a trinity in the makeup of the life of childhood and youth.

REVEREND HOWE WAS NOT MEANT.

In the last week's issue of The Commercial under the caption, "Be Loyal to your own Town," the Editor made use of an expression that a visiting clergyman to Johnstown and a former pastor in that place, had made in an address there. The expression was such an extravagant complimentary one to that city and proportionately uncomplimentary of all other places that one coming from there to this place, if he had made use of the statement quoted, would need some vindication.

The Editor took the expression from a Johnstown paper and commented upon it, he not knowing what the name of the minister is, but some readers of The Commercial knowing that Rev. Howe, the much appreciated and talented pastor of the Church of the Brethren, of this place, said that he is the minister to whom the item referred, inasmuch as he had just recently been to the Flood City, and was lately a pastor there.

Briefly and succinctly stated, Rev. Howe used no such remarks in his visit there, and for that reason he is not the minister in question and furthermore, Rev. Howe while pleased with Johnstown was very glad to come here to live and he believes in Meyersdale, and he has never found any fault with any place where his lot has been cast.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

THE H. F. BARRON CASE SETTLED.

In the United States District Court at Pittsburgh, Thursday, a settlement was effected in the case of the Farmers' National Bank of Somerset vs. the Maryland Casualty Company. The Maryland firm bonded Harry F. Barron, former cashier of the bank, in the sum of $20,000. Barron appropriated to his own use $48,000 of the bank's money, it is alleged in March, 1913. He was arrested for embezzlement and several days before the calling of his case he committed suicide. The amount of money paid to the bank has not been made public. The bank officials say, however, they are well satisfied with the settlement.

NEARBY COUNTIES.

What is Going on in This Part of The State

Four deer were killed on the mountain in Fulton county last week.

The Pennsylvania R. R. company, has selected Architect Kenneth M. Murchison of New York city, to prepare plans for a one-story brick or stone passenger station to be built at cost of $160,000 at Johnstown.

Friends and relatives in Huntingdon, have been apprised of the death of Carl Eck, aged 17 years at the hands of Mexicans. The lad was first kidnapped and then, according to the story of a Mexican servant, who made his escape, was tortured to death when a ransom, set upon his head was not forthcoming.

Two carloads of wild turkeys are to be placed in the State forest reserves east of DuBois this fall. Several hundred birds are to be liberated and it is thought that with a little care and protection the birds will increase fast and provide plenty of good sport in the course of a few years.

Ralph Ficks, aged 21, of Weyandt, Bedford county, was the first victim of a hunting accident in that county this season, he having been shot and fatally wounded on Bald ridge, about two miles west of Pavia, at noon on Tuesday by his cousin, Ross Motto. He died several hours later at Queen, while being conveyed in an automobile to the Nason Hospital at Roaring Spring.

A large corps of preachers and church workers are among the small army of volunteers who started last week to erect the big tabernacle for the Hamilton-Gould union evangelistic meetings, at Bedford, which opened November 15. The ladies of the several churches are serving free dinners to the workers on the structure. The $800 fund was easily pledged in a big union meeting November 1st, which represents the cost of the tabernacle, and which will only be called for in case the plate offerings fail to come up to that amount.

Meyersdale Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Meyersdale citizen.

Mrs. Joseph Quinn, 37 Broadway, Meyersdale, Pa., says: "About a year ago one of our family was troubled by severe pains in the small of his back. It was hard for him to stoop over or do any lifting. He used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Thomas' Drug Store and the first box was all he needed to satisfy him that Doan's Kidney Pills are a wonderful kidney remedy. Now whenever he is attacked by backache he gets Doan's Kidney Pills. He always recommends them to his friends. Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills the same Mrs. Joseph Quinn recommends. Foster-Milburn Co. Prop., Buffalo, N. Y. ad
