The Reverend Jno. Harbaugh, of Mill Run, held revival services at Sugar Loaf over Sunday.

Miss Ruth Wagaman, of Connellsville, was a recent visitor.

W. J. McFarland from Black Creek, spent over Sunday with his family in Pittsburg.

Andrew Hawk, of Stewarton, was a business caller here on Saturday.

Pay day at the McFarland mill and lumber camp Saturday.

Mrs. Amos Broadwater, of Berkeley's Mills, arrived here Saturday evening and will spend some time with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Habel.

Recent Connellsville visitors were: Hiram Connor, Chas. Walcott, Samuel Fullem, Jack Johnson, Edward Fullem, Geo. Arzbacher, Frank Steindl, Clem. Funkhouser, Chas. Newall, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Ohler, Gilbert Hall and Mrs. Wilson Hall.

At one a. m. Tuesday the fire alarm was sounded and it was soon found that the McFarland mill was ablaze and every one rushed to the scene but the fire fighters were successful in quenching the blaze. The fire started in the engine room and had considerable headway before it was detected by the night watchman who was making his rounds. When the fire started it was thought that the entire structure would be destroyed and aid was asked from Connellsville and Uniontown. The company will be idle for some time.

NO MOUNTAIN LAUREL FOR STATE EMBLEM.

Governor Brumbaugh has vetoed the Geiser bill designating the mountain laurel as the official State flower of Pennsylvania.

The Governor gave three reasons for his action. First, that there was no evidence of widespread public sentiment in favor of this measure, and a State flower should be the choice of the people generally. Second, that the leaves of the laurel plant are poisonous. Third, that the laurel is the State flower of Connecticut.

The governor remarked that the laurel was a beautiful flower, but was not associated in a distinctive way with the life of Pennsylvania.

HEFFLEY—DEAL.

Miss Bertha Lee Deal, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Deal, of this place, a sister of Levi Deal, of Miller & Collins' Store, was married in Johnstown Saturday evening to Howard E. Heffley, a well-known newspaper man of that city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Harvey Mickley, pastor of St. John's Reformed church, where both of the contracting pair are members of the choir.

The bride until recently was for a year at the head of the Infants' wear department of the big Penn Traffic store, Johnstown. Mr. Heffley is a native of Stoyestown where he is well known and has numerous relatives all through that section of this county. He is a relative of John Dively of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Heffley will reside in Plainfield, Johnstown, where work will be soon started on a bungalow for them.

Charles H. Fisher, one of the oldest merchants of Somerset, who conducted a bookstore there for 36 years, died there Wednesday of last week. He enlisted as a volunteer in the Civil war when he was 16 years of age. He was a member of Company B, 46th Regiment. In the second day's fight of the Battle of Chancellorsville Mr. Fisher was left on the field with a bullet wound through both thighs. An ounce musket ball fractured and shattered the bones of the left thigh. He was confined to a hospital in Washington for almost a year and never fully recovered from these wounds.

MEYERSDALE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION BEING MISUNDERSTOOD.

New York City, Pittsburg and other newspaper beaconers are hurling more or less subdued invectives against the Meyersdale Ministerial Association for taking the stand that it was inconsistent for them to officiate at a funeral with the officers of lodges which maintain side boards, as such organizations endorse the drink habit and the ministerium opposes the same; besides Holy Writ denounces intemperance, saying "No drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of heaven."

For the Christian ministry to be allied even tacitly with that which is wrong and which industrial corporations are tabooring because of the inefficiency of its votaries, is to play untrue to their trust.

The press of the country distant from Meyersdale is either ignorantly or willfully misrepresenting the local clergy in stating that they refuse to bury a man who in life was a member of such lodge. Those who have read the resolution adopted by our ministers will remember that the position taken was merely against lodges participating in the funeral service and not against burying of the individual members without participation of the lodge at the funeral services. The ministers of the town here have expressed a willingness to bury with a Christian service any person, whose family or friends call upon him to perform that service, but they take exception to participating in funeral services in which a lodge as such maintains a sideboard, which custom is contrary to the teaching of the Scriptures.

One editor, after a long reproof of the short vision and narrow-mindedness of the Meyersdale clergy, breaks forth with the following illogical close—"For those who lie and steal, and commit adultery, and those who bear false witness, will also have to be committed to earth without prayer or song, if men whose ideas differ from theirs, are to be passed by thus."

GOV. BRUMBAUGH STAUNCH FOR LOCAL OPTION.

Though elected on the regular Republican ticket, which avowed nothing concerning a local option law in the pre-election campaign while his opponents were pronounced in favor of such legislation, Governor Brumbaugh's attitude and ardor in favor of local option must come as a shock to the leaders of his party and at the same time is a cause for deep gratitude for pro-local option supporters.

The editor of The Commercial received this week one of the many letters being sent out by the governor all over the state, as follows: "You are earnestly requested to be present at a conference on the Williams County Local Option Bill in Harrisburg morning and evening of April 6th and a hearing in the House of Representatives, in the Capitol Building, Harrisburg, Tuesday afternoon, April 6th, 1915 at 2:30 o'clock.

It is needless to impress upon you that I consider the County Option measure which will receive consideration at this conference, one of the most important bills to come before this session of the Legislature. I am very anxious that it shall be passed.

I trust that you will attend the conference and that you will urge your friends to accompany you to this conference.

Cordially yours,
MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

THE KIND OF REPUBLICAN THE PEOPLE WANT.

There are some aspirants for the nomination of office in the Republican ranks in Somerset county, whose chief qualification seems to be that they are strictly Republican, taking almost the stand, if it were conceivable that if the country were arrayed on one side and their party on the other, they'd stick to their party. They feel more like singing, My party 'tis of thee, rather than "My Country, 'tis of thee."

A man who is so narrow and so prejudiced, can't serve his county to the best advantage. The interests of the people first last and all of the time. Such men are Republicans until after they get the party nomination, then up to the time of the election they are patriots, and then after the election they are for themselves. What the people want in their public officers is that they would discharge the duties of their office as if they were doing the work for themselves. Look out for the man who is so strongly Republican that he can't see outside those narrow lines.

The Waste In Storms.

Many scientists and captains of industry must sigh during a thunderstorm at the vast power running to waste in the heavens, and at sundry times attempts have been made to trap and utilize the energy of lightning. So far, however, all these have had insignificant results. By way of experiment huge rocks have been split asunder by attracting the lightning to them, and in a few isolated cases it has been claimed that paralysis has been cured by shocks administered by lightning, but as yet man's ingenuity has not devised the harness that will turn the wild, free agent of the heavens into tractable "horsepower."—London Spectator.

Stevenson's Whimsical Attire.

Here is a picturesque glimpse of Stevenson's whimsical attire as given in the "Collected Essays of Edmund Gosse."
"Stevenson was not without a good deal of innocent oddity in his dress. When I try to conjure up his figure I can only see a slight, lean lad in a suit of blue sea cloth, a black shirt and a wrap of yellow carpet that did duty for a necktie. This was long his attire, persevered in to the anguish of his more conventional acquaintances. I have a ludicrous memory of going in 1878 to buy him a new hat, in company with Mr. Lang, the thing then upon his head having lost the semblance of a human article of dress."
