MAN KILLED AT BOSWELL BY OFFICER.

In a pistol duel which occurred at a late hour a few evenings ago, on the streets of Boswell, John Angelo, an Italian miner employed in the Morgantown operations, was instantly killed by Special Officer Mack Alexander, while the latter and John Logan were slightly wounded. Two other Italians were mixed up in the affair, but they made their escape. The officer was on his beat when he came upon three Italians who were quarreling. He arrested the trio and called upon Logan to assist him in taking the men to the police station. The officer had two of the men in custody. Suddenly one drew a gun and fired at Logan. The latter was struck in the right arm. Then ensued the battle between Angelo and Alexander. The Italian fired five shots in all one of which struck Alexander in the head, inflicting a flesh wound, before a bullet caught the Italian in the forehead, killing him instantly. Of course the officer is absolved from all blame.

The Randolph Coal Company with operations at Randolph, near Boswell plans extensive improvements for this summer. The present power house will be discontinued and the mines will be operated with electricity procured from the Penn Public Service Company, with a plant in Johnstown. The mines in the mines will be disposed of and replaced with electric motors. The Randolph Coal Company is extending its field of operations and has recently acquired additional coal lands adjoining its present holdings. "We have all the orders we can handle," said Supt. Geo. W. Waddell when asked regarding the business of his company. The mines have been running full time for months, and it is imperative that the mines be put in better condition to meet the demand for coal.

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY.

A movement has been launched to form an Episcopal mission in Windber.

The town council of Hooversville recently defeated a movement for the annexation of a part of Quemahoning township to the municipal plot.

The carcass of a deer was found several days since on the farm of former Sheriff Hoover, west of Somerset. The animal evidently had been run to death or killed by dogs.

Frank Moore, trainmaster on the F. M. & P. branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, died Saturday at the home of his brother, George, at Rockwood. Mr. Moore was employed for several years as a conductor in the freight service on the Connellsville and Pittsburgh divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R.

At a recent meeting in Milwaukee of Troop A, First Cavalry, Wisconsin, National Guard, Corporal E. V. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas M. Cook, of Somerset, was awarded one of the first honor prizes for good marksmanship at the pistol meet held last fall. The prize was a 45-cal. Colt pistol.

Notice has been given by Clerk of the Courts Harah that an application will be made to Judge Ruppel asking for a transfer of the liquor license held by Rockwell Marietta at Humbert to Reuben S. Rakestraw. The application will be heard on Friday, April 23rd. Mr. Rakestraw is a justice of the peace in Lower Turkeyfoot township.

The Somerset County Inter-denominational Sunday-School convention will be held at Windber next June, and local committees have been appointed to make the gathering a success. The convention held at Somerset last year was the best of its kind ever held in this county, and the men's parade in connection therewith was the largest of its kind ever held in the county.

Sherman Marker, a Listie miner, lost an arm and a leg a few days ago in a peculiar manner. He was riding on the top of a coal car from Listie to Somerset and when the train was near Mukden, the bottom of the car dropped causing him to fall thru. That he escaped death was miraculous. He was removed to the county hospital and later was taken to Johnstown by Dr. H. I. Marsden, the B. & O. surgeon.

The value of real estate was emphasized at Somerset on Thursday when a jury rendered a verdict in the case of Elias Cunningham's heirs vs. the Somerset & Cambria Railroad Company. The verdict was for $30,000, the estimated value of 11 acres of land which the railroad company traversed in building the Boswell cutoff. The company will ask for a new trial. Judge Reiber, of Butler County, heard the testimony.

Last week at Johnstown, Mrs. Nancy Wingard, aged 57 years was married to David Shepherd, a bachelor of 70. The bride is a daughter of the late Jacob Zimmerman. Her late husband was Franklin F. Wingard and he was brutally murdered on the night of April 6, 1909 in his store at Reading No. 3 Mine settlement, a few miles from Stoyestown. Mr. Wingard's lifeless body was found sitting upright in a rocking chair, with the skull fractured and his head badly disfigured and mutilated. Persistent efforts on the part of the authorities in that section have failed to disclose the identity of the murderer and the crime, will probably go down in history as another unsolved mystery.

The jitney traffic is now on in full at Windber. All that is required to be a transportation magnate now is to own a Ford car. In nearly all of the large and many of the small cities the "jitney" bus is cutting into the profits of the street car companies and making owners of autos rich. When it was first suggested that owners of machines could make any money carrying passengers for a five cent fare it was thought to be impossible. A few wiser than the rest started "jitney" lines with their machines. It has been demonstrated in San Francisco that the owner of a car can clear from six to ten dollars a day by carrying passengers at the "jitney" rate. In most of the cities these busses follow the routes of the regular street cars and are making trips on regular schedules. A "jitney" by the way, is a nickle, five cents. Cumberland is to have them now.

A report, just made public, by the Auditor General's department, shows that there was a increase of $1,812,203 in the personal property in Somerset county subject to taxation for county purposes. A number of counties showed decreases. This was the first year that such property was taxed for county purposes only. Under the law, the counties must return to the state revenue commission figures on all personalty assessed.

ROCKWOOD.

The late musical by local talent in high school auditorium was conceded by many to be the best entertainment of the kind ever held in Rockwood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Critchfield entertained at a six o'clock dinner a few days ago, the following being present—Mr. and Mrs. Penrose Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wolf and son Irvin Wolf, Jr.; and their guest, Miss Faye Beals, of Pittsburg.

Mrs. H. E. Smith, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Mollie Gildner, of Rockwood, for the past few weeks, has gone to Hollidaysburg to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Gates, before returning home to Laurel, Montana.

Mrs. W. R. Wadsworth is spending several days with Baltimore friends.

There are a number of reports regarding a big coal option and Rockwood's importance as a railroad centre in the near future as the result of the traffic agreement between the Western Maryland and the B. & O. Wilsoncreek Junction, a report says, will be the site of classification yards, from which trains will be operated over the new high line and transferred to the Western Maryland division on the south bank of the Caselman River at a point, nearly opposite the local B. & O. depot. For the time being, B. & O. tracks will be used all the way from Rockwood to the various mines of the Consolidation Coal company in the north of the county.

R. S. Souser has been appointed postmaster at Rockwood.

Frank Otto is moving his family and household goods from the Dull property on Main street to a flat in the Miller building.

Mr. and Mrs. Hostetler announce the birth of a daughter.

Jacob S. Wiltrout has returned from Harrisburg, where he spent several months visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Critchfield. He is now visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. R. Pritts, of Rockwood.

Ross K. Enfield recently sold his Main street property and moved to the Frank Kimmel house on Market street.

Miss Lucy Shober, one of our popular teachers, recently visited her home in Garrett.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SWAT THE FLY

Uncle Sam is waging a relentless war on the deadly housefly and in a late bulletin prepared by the Department of Agriculture, valuable information is given on the best means of combating this deadly pest. The most effective way of exterminating the fly, according to the bulletin, is to eradicate his breeding places. The breeding season of the fly begins early in March and continues throughout the spring and summer months. All dirt should be removed from the premises, stables cleaned and decaying vegetables destroyed.

The fly has rightly been called the undertaker's traveling salesman, and in addition to his regular line of "typhoid bugs" he carries a side line of tuberculosis, Asiatic cholera and other disease germs. NOW IS THE TIME TO SWAT THE FLY.

THEATRE FOR BOSWELL.

The Orenda Theatrical Company has been organized in Boswell and application for a charter will soon be made. It is the intention of the company to erect a new building 50 by 100 feet, two or three stories high on a site yet to be selected. The building will be of concrete blocks with a finished brick front. In addition to the theatre auditorium, the structure will contain business rooms and probably a gymnasium. It is estimated that the cost will be about $15,000.

The temporary organization has George B. Somerville, Esq., as Chairman; F. C. Elden as treasurer and C. S. Ickes as secretary. The board of directors is composed of L. M. Ickes, Geo. Crossland and C. S. Ickes.

At a meeting of the Somerset County Hotel keepers' Association, a few days ago, John Brennan of Ralplton, was elected president, and E. C. Armstrong, Jr., of Seanoor, was elected secretary. George Logue, of Meyersdale was chosen treasurer to succeed W. W. Landis, who has quit the hotel business.

BERLIN.

The Berlin schools will close on Tuesday, May 11th.

Mrs. H. B. Landis, of Berlin, has returned home from Cumberland where she successfully underwent an operation several weeks ago. She is recovering as fast as can be expected.

The First National Bank, of Berlin has instituted action in assumpsit against J. H. Moore for the collection of $399.93, alleged to be due on a promissory note.

Jacob Ross, of Berlin, who celebrated his 96th birthday anniversary in February was on business in Somerset a few days ago. He is remarkably well preserved, but insists that he cannot get around "as well as he used to" because of a slight paralytic stroke in his left leg. He went to Somerset in an automobile with his son.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller on Sunday when their daughter, Miss Grace was united in marriage to James Pierce, of Garrett. The officiating clergyman was Rev. H. B. Burkholder, of the Lutheran church. Miss Eleanor Groff, of Philadelphia is spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Groff.

Wm. Walker, of Waterloo, Iowa, was in Berlin Monday. He is a guest at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Mahlon Reiman.

The Rev. L. O. Hubbard, pastor of the Brethren Church, Conemaugh was called to Berlin on Monday night to preach the funeral service of Mrs. James Bird. The services were held the following afternoon with interment in the Odd Fellow cemetery. Mrs. Bird is survived by her husband and two children, namely—Mrs. Geo. Riggle and William at home. The cause of Mrs. Bird's death was heart trouble from which she suffered several years.

Mr. John M. Gambert, one of the most successful and prominent farmers of Brothersvalley Township, died suddenly, April 2, at his home at Pine Hill. He had not been in good health for several weeks but had been doing his accustomed daily work. He fell dead at his home. He is survived by his wife. The deceased owned several farms, was also engaged in the lumber business and was a stockholder in the Economy Telephone Company. He was aged about 60 years. The funeral took place on Saturday, services being conducted by Rev. H. B. Carney, of Garrett. Mr. Gambert was a good citizen and a devoted member of the Lutheran church.

NEARBY COUNTIES.

Invitations have been issued to the Annual Assembly which will be held at the Somerset House on Friday evening, April 16th, at Somerset. The Supreme Court has made an order refusing to advance the appeal of the Wilmore Coal Company against Russell Holsopple, which was appealed from this county. Two strangers one evening recently secured board and lodging of Mrs. Talena, of Boswell, and after their departure the next morning the woman reported to the police that $200 had been taken. The police officers immediately started a search but no arrests have as yet been made.

A Blair county citizen was shocked the other day to find that his wife had been a prostitute for the past sixteen years, and it was only after a quantity of carefully concealed morphine, which the woman had on hand, had been found and taken away that she, in her suffering told her husband about her falling.

The remains of Patrick Hogan, who died in Chicago, recently, were brought to Confluence last week and then to Meyersdale for interment. His mass was celebrated by Father Brady in SS. Philip and James Catholic Church, after which burial took place in the Catholic cemetery.

While lumber prices will not be as low as the dealers expected to make this summer, because of the increased freight rates, yet there will be a reduction of from 50 cents to $3 a thousand feet of various kinds of the product. It is also learned that cement prices will likewise have a downward tendency.

Large increases in outgoing mail have raised the Bedford postoffice from third class rank to that of a second class office, according to a statement made by Dr. Marcus Enfield, the postmaster. The office now handles more than $100,000 per year. The second class mail ran above 11,000 pieces in January, a dull month and the third class mail ran above 5,000 pieces. Much of the increase in the mail handled by the Bedford Post Office is due to an increase in the business of Henry Heckerman's pea nut factory and the wholesale house of Blackburn and Russell.
