THE LAW OF CANADA THISTLES
 Patches of Canada thistles, that detestable weed which chastises the legs of raspberry pickers, for instance, are about ready to go to seed and should be cut. Not many persons are aware of the law in regard to Canada thistles. If some one complains to a constable that official must send a notice to the one responsible for the patch that the thistles must be cut in five days and the constable can collect fifty cents for sending the notice. Then if the thistles are not cut in five days, the constable is required to go and cut them himself, for which he receives mileage and $2.50 per day. This is not all, for $15.00 fine is collected from the person who refuses to comply with the constable's notice.

AGRICULTURAL COMMISSIONERS

Governor Brumbaugh's plan for reorganization of the department of agriculture will really call for the aid of every citizen. The governor does not mean to stop at the reorganization of the administration of the department, but according to his present plans he means to make it the means of showing the people how they can increase the yields, make loafing lands work and get more out of what he calls the by-products of farming—the chicken and the pig. The governor will probably choose his secretary of agriculture this week and if he makes the announcement he will lose no time in calling the new commissioners together and telling them what he wants done.

It is the idea of the governor to have the reorganization of the office forces of the various bureaus fit in with the work he expects of them. The administrative end will be gradually changed. First and foremost, however, will be the framing of a program for agricultural advancement, conservation of the soil, betterment of rural life and the building up of a popular sentiment which will be reflected on the next legislature and secure from it the funds necessary to make the department one of the most active in the government. The governor intends to make the department figure as much in the public eye as do the health and highway departments. The commissioners will divide up the state and make visits to the agricultural exhibitions and fairs and in addition to find out what are the needs of each locality will outline in an intimate way the governor's plans.

People who have been looking for a turning inside out of the department, most of whose bureaus have been doing work that has attracted much attention, are due to disappointment. The reorganization is to be rather in ideals and then methods and men. The plan of Dr. Brumbaugh is to give personal attention to agriculture and highways and he will make an automobile tour of the state this year for the sake of observations and to learn public sentiment.

NEARBY COUNTIES.

 C. E. Osmar, of Cambria County, has been appointed a game warden for Somerset and Cambria Counties. The scramble for appointment, with each branch of the fish and game associations advancing a candidate, caused such confusion that the game commission went outside of the county for a man.

Operators of the Smokeless Coal company mine, near Johnstown, in which an explosion recently killed eight men and resulted in the death of Gomer Phillips, first-aid man for the Cambria Steel company, are settling the claims of the widows and other relatives of the disaster. It is doubtful whether any of the cases ever reach court. The company claims the accident was caused by the explosion of a number of percussion caps carried into the mine in the hat of one of the men against orders and without any authority, as he was not a miner.

After thoroughly investigating the conditions in Fayette county, Game Wardens Ralph Ross, of Uniontown, and Joseph Kennedy, of Monongahela City, found that the deer turned loose in Saltillic township some time since, had done no damage to the farms in that section. It had been reported that the animals were destroying crops of a number of farmers, but all who were visited by the officers said that while they had seen a number of deer, their crops had not been molested by them, and that they would favor the importation of more deer, rather than to decrease the number.

Surrounded by his relatives and boyhood friends, who gathered for the ninth annual Brumbaugh reunion recently at Matrisburg, Governor Brumbaugh renewed his election pledges for moral and political reforms, and urged his hearers to give more attention to such matters and take a larger part in public affairs. For shooting a doe last November, in Bedford county, E. M. Hoffman, of Conneville, was recently fined $100 and costs of $5.66. Hoffman admitted shooting the doe. It was alleged by Game Warden Ross, the prosecutor, that the man shot the doe and that he then secured two large horns and fastened them to the doe to give the impression that the animal shot was a male deer.
