WHEN FLIES PLAY POSSUM

Explaining Why the Campaign for Their Extermination Should Begin at Once.

It is not only in the summer that the enemy of the fly should be busy, according to a bulletin issued by the committee on pollution and sewerage of the Merchants' Association of New York, but in the winter as well. "Kill the winter flies," is the burden of the committee's appeal, and it declares that now is the time to begin next summer's campaign, says the New York Evening Post.

"Most of last season's flies, having completed their life cycle, are dead," the bulletin reads, "but those hatched late have left their eggs in a favorable place for incubation in the early spring, and these eggs will survive the winter unless disposed of. They will hatch out during the winter in an even temperature."

"These winter flies will become the progenitors of next summer's countless billions. At the first approach of cold weather the flies seek warmth and protection in houses and stables. From cellar to garret they hide in nooks and corners. Keep them out. If any succeed in getting in, kill them."

"Don't trust the cold to kill them. Don't assume that they are dead when you find them lying on floors or window sills in unused rooms. They are 'playing possum' and will revive when the temperature rises."

"Clean up the house and give special attention to every out-of-the-way place where flies may lurk. Make sure there is nothing left which may harbor their eggs. One fly that survives the winter will become the parent of hundreds of millions next summer."

FRAUDS FOLLOW THE WAR

Little Doubt That This Conflict Will Be Productive of the Usual Crop of Fakes.

The experience of a New York jeweler who was taken in by a brace of swindlers operating as war refugees and a block of tin masquerading as platinum is no doubt but the first of a long line of dupes. The ruined business man, the haughty aristocrat fallen on evil times, the impoverished widow and the demonized heiress will become numerous as the birds of prey wake up to their opportunities. The impostors will have remnants of stocks of plausible jewelry, faces that look antique to untrained eyes, armor that might have been worn in old chivalric days, but wasn't, pictures with the dust of the Renaissance carefully rubbed into the wet paint and a thousand other priceless treasures of fakery. All will be going at bargain prices not exceeding fifty times their real value, and each object will be rendered more precious by the thrilling fable that will account for its escape from the debacle of some Belgian or Polish or Gallic or Galician mart or manor house. Even the swaggering looter will turn up trying to realize on his booty and begging secrecy on the part of his victim. The swindlers will be of all nationalities, with infinite variety of temptation for gulls and ingenious yarns to meet all doubts. People with long purses, short knowledge and artistic aspirations, please take notice.

Teaching Art to Children.

The Children's Hour held under the auspices of the department of fine arts, Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, was inaugurated for the season of 1914-1915 a short time ago. J. Taylor, illustrator, member of the faculty of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, gave a chalk talk on illustrations of interest to children. He was assisted by Norman Kennedy and J. W. Thompson, both of Pittsburgh. Many interesting subjects have been selected for demonstration to the children during the year. There will be exhibitions of modeling, plaster casting, and vase craft, as well as talks, illustrated by lantern slides, on various periods of painting and architecture. The permanent collections and special exhibitions in the department of fine arts will be utilized for the benefit of the children.

Russian's Great Work.

A. A. Balakshin, a Russian, is at the head of the greatest farmers' union in the world, a most remarkable organization composed of the Russian peasantry covering a vast stretch of fertile land from the Ural mountains to the confines of Mongolia. The chief industry is butter making, and almost the entire output has found ready market England. M. Balakshin assumed the task of organizing the farmers some years ago, and has succeeded to an extent not dreamed of at the beginning. He is regarded with loving reverence by the 300,000 souls to whose well being he has devoted his life, and by whom he is affectionately spoken of as "the little grandfather."

Question.

Several of the leading directors of the New Haven railroad retired at the moment when the investigation of the line became most sweeping. Commissioner Whitworth Riggs of the bureau of civics said apropos of these retirements in Pittsburgh: "It's an occurrence, we are told, that has no significance. These directors are overworked. They want a rest. Hence they retire." "But I, for my part, studying this episode, would ask: "If appearances are deceitful, what about disappearances?" — Chicago Herald.

SEE BY WIRE WHILE TALKING

Televisia, Londoner's Recent Invention, Described in Consular Report —Machine is Costly.

Seemingly it will not be long before persons conversing over telephones can see the persons to whom they are talking, if an invention just reported to the state department by Deputy Consul General Carl R. Loop from London, England, comes into popular favor. Mr. Loop reports such an invention for transmitting light by wire as follows:

"Dr. Archibald M. Low, a London consulting engineer, claims to have discovered a method by which light may be transmitted by wire. The invention is, thus described: The contrivance consists of a transmitter and a receiver connected by wire. The transmitter is a screen divided into a large number of small squares—cells of selenium, the electrical resistance of which element varies according to the light that touches it."

"Over the screen is passed a synchronously running roller consisting of a number of pieces, which are alternately conductors and insulators. The roller is driven by a motor of 3,000 revolutions per minute, and the resulting variations of light are transmitted along an ordinary conducting wire. The receiver is made up of a series of cells operated by the passage of polarized light through thin slats of steel, and at the receiver the object before the transmitter is reproduced as a flickering image."

"The process is referred to by the inventor as a 'kinematographic application of common electrical principles.' The system has been tested through a resistance equivalent to a distance of four miles, but in the opinion of Doctor Low there is no reason why it should not be equally effective over far greater distances."

"The cost of the apparatus is considerable because the conductive sections of the roller are made of platinum and many wires are required for the transmission of the images. The invention is called the 'televista.'"

LAMP POSTS MADE OF WIRE

Chicago Inventor Constructs Strong and Ornamental Support Made of Common Woven Wire.

Using woven wire in cylindrical form for lamp posts, telegraph and telephone posts and supports for belustrade or newel post lamps, a Chicago inventor has constructed a strong and ornamental support, which, if bent or twisted by accident, may be pulled back into shape, says Popular Mechanics. Telephone posts made after this design, being of open wire net work, offer much less resistance to the wind and are far less liable to destruction by fire.

ELECTRICAL NOTES

An electric flash light contained in a watch case has been patented in Germany.

An American automatic telephone system has been established in Simla, the summer capital of India.

Wireless messages are sent much more easily at night than in the daytime and in winter than in summer.

Electrical machinery is used almost exclusively in a Philadelphia ice cream factory that turns out 10,000 quarts a day.

According to a German scientist, hailstones are formed by the electricity of the thunder storms which they accompany.

The first English plant devoted exclusively to making steel by electrical processes is being erected by a Sheffield company.

Paris now has the largest steam turbine electric plant in Europe, a street railway power station producing 120,000 horse power.

A Connecticut inventor's farm tractor consists mainly of a huge wheel, within which is the motor that furnishes the power.

As an advertising novelty an umbrella has been patented to be placed over electric lights in stores to diffuse their illumination.

URSINA.

Miss Sarah Schaible was a shopper in Confluence, Thursday. Misses Helen Kalburgh, of Cumberland; Laura Blades, of Somerset; Helen Kutcher, of Braddock, and Alice Friedline of Meyersdale, are visiting at the home of Misses Ethel and Nellie VanSickle.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson and children are visiting at the former's home near Johnson's Chapel.

Mrs. W. S. Crowe, of Dunbar and Mrs. Chas. Cross of Tarr Station, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Willis for a few days.

Manager W. R. Willis has arranged for a base ball game at Johnson's Chapel on Saturday, August 21.

Miss Hazel Irwin is visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. VanSickle.

Harry Campbell was a recent business visitor in Confluence.

COUP AND WHOOPINGCOUGH.

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Esu Claire, Wis., says, "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. Our milkman cured his children of whoopingcough." Foley's has a forty-years record of similar cases. Contains no opiates. Always insist on Foley's. Sold everywhere.

Hundreds of health articles appear in newspapers and magazines, and in practically every one of them the importance of keeping the bowels regular is emphasized. A constipated condition invites disease. A dependable physic that acts without inconvenience or griping is Foley Cathartic Pills.

"Get Up" and Get

Don't you back up or stop until you've tried FIVE BROTHERS. It's the one perfect tobacco for the big, two-fisted, out-of-doors man who wants a rich, mellow tobacco for both chewing and smoking.

You get hold of FIVE BROTHERS. Note the honest sweetness of this pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, to bring out all its mellow fragrance and flavor. FIVE BROTHERS has the genuine snap and taste that you want in tobacco.

FIVE BROTHERS

Pipe Smoking Tobacco

is purposely made up for the sturdy man who is hungry for a real man's tobacco. For many years all sorts of brands have tried to beat out FIVE BROTHERS, but the old he-boy is still the king-brand of them all.

Nothing fancy about the FIVE BROTHERS package—we put all the cost into the tobacco. As you say of a horse, "he's all horse"—so we say of FIVE BROTHERS—"it's all tobacco."

FIVE BROTHERS is sold everywhere—get a package today.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

POCAHONTAS. Farmers in this vicinity have begun the cutting of oats. The barn dance held in the new barn of A. G. Yutz last Friday evening was well attended. Is it necessary to say that all had a good time? The Pocahontas Brass Band and Tin Band are tuning up for the serenading in the near future. The following persons toured to Stonycreek last Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. George Baer and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baer and daughter, Nellie. Dr. F. E. Sass made a professional visit to Frostburg on Monday. The Sunday School picnic held at this place last Saturday was well attended. Millard Steiny was in Meyersdale on Monday last transacting business. Austin Friedline formerly of Pocahontas, but late of Akron, Ohio, has returned and will work for Union Mining Co. at Mt. Savage. Mrs. Wm. Garlets, of Conneville is visiting her mother-in-law, N. C. Paul. Adam Diette and wife were the guests of Millard Steiny's last Saturday and Sunday. Simon Werner is wearing a broad smile. It's a boy. Sunday School next Sunday in St. Mark's Reformed church at 10 a. m.
