

SALISBURY.

On Friday night, October 16, burglars entered the West Salisbury Feed Co. store, blew open the safe, but fortunately nothing of value had been left in the safe and the thieves therefore were not really rewarded for their trouble. The explosion shattered a number of windows in the building. The safe was overcharged which indicates that the culprits were not expert safe crackers but were amateurs in the business. Nothing of value was missed from the store. There is no clue to identify the burglars, but three strangers were noticed in that locality the preceding day.

On Tuesday evening, October 12th District Deputy Grand Master, G. W. Cassler, of Holsopple visited Salisbury Lodge, No. 982 I. O. O. F. and installed officers for the ensuing term. Coal Run, a mining village can well boast of having many citizens who besides their regular occupation that of coal mining, delight in various industries, such as poultry raising, gardening, general farming, hog raising etc. Nearly every resident raises his own pork and quite a number raise young pigs to supply the ever-increasing demand for the product of this industry.

Recently Mose Heimbaugh had a brood sow of the I. O. I. C. breed that brought forth a brood of 13 pigs and all are thriving well. If everybody in this line of business had such success, the price of pork would soon be in reach of everybody, but no fear of that for the latest success of Cyrus Hoffman who is a neighbor of Mr. Heimbaugh goes far to even up and to prevent over-production of the pork barrel for the hopeful Cyrus also anticipated quite an increase in the pig line, but lo and behold her swine-ship brought forth but two of her kind and only one has survived. In a Socialist community like Coal Run, it would not be at all surprising if Mr. Heimbaugh should consent to "divvy" up with his less fortunate neighbor.

"Watch Your Step"

"INDIVIDUALITY"

"Watch Your Step"

Is an enviable attribute and is occasionally expressed in various articles of wearing apparel, including Shoes. But rarely is it combined with comfort. In the model shown here, the designers, Tom & Jim have been particularly fortunate.
