ST. PAUL

Edward Haydon of Mineral Point, a Socialist speaker, spent a short time with H. G. Lepley last week.

A youthful crowd interspersed with some aged people, one perhaps 70 years old, listened to a very able address on "The Mouldings of the Mind" in the Matcoim Hall at Coal Run by Edward Haydon on Monday evening, October 18. Mental Slavery was represented as the worst of all slavery.

Elk Lick township spent less on its school population in three years than was spent on John Jacob Astor's young son in one year. The people of Elk Lick township are paying much more in tribute to such as he than they pay in taxes for the education of their children.

A deer buck, weighing 140 lbs. hanging in the Dinges market last Thursday evening attracted a good deal of attention. It was brought here by Game Warden Osmer of this place who obtained it dead in a field near Lambertville. It was shot by hunters in the woods by a field. Following a couple of shots, people living in that locality say the animal bounded out of the woods into the field and then dropped dead. Who did the shooting is not yet known. The venison was dressed and sent to the county home in accordance to the law pertaining to

Women as Jurors.

[Editorial from the Philadelphia Inquirer, July 25, 1915.]

Women will be given the ballot in Pennsylvania if the men by their votes next November shall so decide. Women oppose to woman's suffrage are making much of this question put to the men: "How would you like to see your wife or daughter serve on a jury in the criminal courts?"

That is a question that undoubtedly carries a sting. It is one which is going to make many a man pause, for it is bound to afford a text for much thought. It is sure to bring a picture before his eyes of his wife or daughter or sister sitting with a body of men for day after day in a crowded courtroom listening to the testimony in—say a Thaw case, for instance.

Whether a woman is fitted for the work of sifting testimony; whether she is led more by intuition than by reason in judging motives and deeds—that is another question. The husband and father will not be so apt to bother with the mental as with the actual physical conditions. An important murder trial that drags through many days is no holiday for the jurymen, who is locked up at night and is always under careful surveillance. The husband and father will put his imagination to work on such a situation. What becomes of the home while the wife is doing jury duty? What about the children when mother is torn from them to sit for a week or two or even three weeks at a time sandwiched between men in the jury box?

Useless for the vote promoters to pooh-pooh this jury business, for it is very real. In California where women vote, the legislature stood thus far has stood between them and jury service, but such would not be the case in Pennsylvania. Here there would be no escape. And besides what right would the women who want to share all of the responsibilities of the men have to try to shirk any one of these responsibilities, to pick and choose?

The anti-suffragists of Pennsylvania have put a pretty interesting proposition up to the men—to the man with a wife, to the man with a daughter, to the man with a sister and to the man in love with other fellow's sister.

Vote NO on Woman suffrage No. 1 on Tuesday next.

FAREWELL PARTY.

The teacher and boys of Class No. 9 of the M. E. Sunday School gave a farewell surprise party on Tuesday evening for Ross Stauffer who has been a member of the class for some time and who is leaving for Akron, Ohio the last of the week.

The party was held at the home of Master Wm. Irwin on Thomas street who proved himself an agreeable host. The evening was spent in playing games and a discussion for the betterment of the class was enthusiastically taken up by all. About 10:30 Mrs. Irwin served a delightful lunch in the dining room which was tastefully decorated for the Halloween occasion.

Those present were—Ross Stauffer, Wm. Stauffer, Robert Blake, Jack Hohlitzell, Wm. Bradburn, Benjamin
