LUCK

When a school boy wrote an essay on the above topic and the burden of our little story at that time was what the books, magazines and teachers proclaimed, that there was no such thing. With some years of observation we would say there is something that passes for luck in the affairs of men. You may call it by some other name, providence or destiny, or what not? A man of but ordinary ability invests in some land and the city wants it and he becomes rich. A wiser man in every way, more familiar with affairs in general, at the same time decides to purchase in the direction the town should grow but the town didn't grow in that direction. Mark it down to luck.

We will admit that, often, what is attributed to luck is nothing but genuine merit. Many men obtain good positions because they earned them. Others earned them and never got them.

Booker T. Washington Dead.
Here was a brilliant man with a colored skin. While he had the respect of the great men of this nation, and was even dined by Mr. Roosevelt when president, though it did make a furor he never forgot that he had a great mission to perform and that was to elevate his own people by a practical or common sense education suited to their needs. To do this he established Tuskegee Institute where thousands of colored boys and girls were trained to become noble men and women, though black.

Ye who take pride in your fair complexion don't forget that your ancestors of perhaps 2,000 years ago were savages in the lowlands of Germany. Let honor be paid to this great educator. He has done far more than many of us for the betterment of the world.

Accuracy.
By accuracy we mean exemption from arising carelessness and freedom from the mistakes. Although this term is applied to almost every phase of life and business that which concerns us mostly at the present time is accuracy in school life.

When we enter the High School it is necessary to commence our work in the Freshman class with accuracy. Why is it that scarcely fifty per cent of those who enter H. S. graduate from it? Because when we have succeeded in reaching H. S. we feel that we have education enough and are careless which finally results in leaving school.

Fellow student, do you realize that you are not hindering yourself but the future citizens of your country? Do you not think that they deserve well educated men to rule them in their youth? What will be the result if they are influenced and follow the example of uneducated men? Would you have your country and future citizens thus?

If not, then be accurate in your school life and not only in the Freshman year, but throughout the course and you will never regret having spent your time in accurate work.

Basket-Ball.
The prospect for the 1915 basketball team looks very bright. Most of the members of last year's team are still in school and the new material looks promising. The boys will be glad to get started and show the people of Meyersdale that they have a strong team. There is no reason why they should not be well supported, not only by the H. S. students, but by the people of the town.

General News.
Orchestra—The H. S. orchestra is hard at work in order to make their debut on December 3rd, a success. Although there is a scarcity of musicians in the school, those who are in the orchestra can surely make enough noise. It is not too late to join, and the members will welcome all new members. (They need company.)

The Glee Club.
The Parent-Teacher's Association has requested that the Glee Club be reorganized for this winter. Those pupils interested in singing were asked to lend a hand to make it a success. Most of the members of last year's club and a few new students responded and are now hard at work preparing for the coming meeting of the association.

The Domestic Science Department, is progressing rapidly as far as we can see. We would be pleased if

SALISBURY
(Held over from last week.)
George Hay, of Pittsburg, spent last week at the Hay home on Ord street. We thought Mr. Hay would bring the bride along when he came home to vote for woman suffrage but we were disappointed. He, however, promises to bring the bride a little later.

Mrs. Della Livengood entertained a number of friends on Tuesday evening of last week. The following were present: Misses Florence Maust, Lottie Boyer, Grace Brown, Nellie Statler, Romaine Deltz, Mary Reitz, Flore and Effie Lichtler, Mrs. Harvey Wagner, Mrs. George Lowry of town and Misses Lucile Lowry and Mary Stickell, of Hagerstown, Md.

William Blough, of Trent, visited his nephew-in-law, W. B. Stevanus and family, on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Blough was returning from a week's visit with relatives and friends at Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Menhorn, of Somerset, came to town last week and will likely make their home here. Mr. Menhorn had been conducting a barber shop at Somerset but will now take charge of the Menhorn shop at this place.

Alfred Ringler who is employed in Pittsburg, spent the forepart of last week with his family at this place. "Alf" did not forget to attend election on Tuesday either.

Mrs. C. S. Lichtler, Mrs. W. C. Lichtler, Mrs. James Hornig, Miss Effie Lichtler and Walter Johns motored to Cumberland last Wednesday.

M. D. Thomas has been hired as policeman and truant officer. It seems that the suggestion of your Salisbury Correspondent as well as the call of a number of citizens did some good in that line.

Mrs. Harvey Wahl and son, Guy, of Falls City, Nebraska, are visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity. Mrs. Wahl is a daughter of Lewis Horchler, of Garrett county, Md., and

Senior Banquet
Much to the surprise of the senior girls, last Friday afternoon, their fellow classmates, the senior boys, cordially invited them to attend a banquet given in their honor in the social rooms of the M. E. church. Promptly at 8 o'clock the class was assembled, as well as every member of the faculty and then the fun began. Games were indulged in, and music rendered by a Columbia machine, until 9:30 when the boys announced that the "feed" was ready. The class colors, blue and gold, and the class flower, a marguerite, were tastefully combined in the table decorations and in the center of the table standing high above everything else was the loving cup which was won by the seniors at the recent track meet. The girls all unite in declaring that "the feast sure was there and that the senior boys know how to entertain."

Misses Hoover and Just and several of the boys' mothers kindly assisted in preparing the repast. After playing several more games during which the pupils discovered things about their dignified faculty, they all departed for their homes.

The Girl Hikers' Hike.
The G. H.'s of the M. H. S. took their second hike on Thursday evening at 4:15 when they scaled the heights of Saylor Hill. All enjoyed the hike and especially the apples donated by "Mrs. Murphy." All are ready for the next hike when they expect to use their bob-sleds.

Class Items.
Fred Groff said that any one who wanted to know the history of his nickname, "Hammer" would be informed if that one would let him or her call at their home and explain plain. Now is the time for some fair ladies to be entertained by our comedian.

Have you noticed the difference in the facial expressions of B. M. and S. H. G.?
At the recent banquet of the Senior class, Prof. Arnold came in good condition, but full and went home broke. (If you don't believe this, just ask him.)

BUCKNELL 17—GETTYSBURG 7
Prof. Weaver — Prof. Arnold smiles.
Who said that Margaret Wilson was not interested in hard and soft wood? Why, indeed, while in English class the other day she fell to inspecting the floor.

some afternoon, we, the students would be permitted to look over the new department of our school. So far we have not been allowed to look in the door.

ST. PAUL.
Many porkers are giving up their lives that members of the human family may live more abundantly.
Oscar Sipple butchered two pigs on Monday. A snow storm made it very unpleasant business.

Blanche Engle is home for a short time. She has been assisting various people in this community.

Alverta Miller, who had been employed by Lloyd Engle, has left for her home near Pocahtongas.

The next local institute for the teachers of Elk Lick Township, will be held at St. Paul on Saturday, December 18, 1915.

Are the producers of any other country threatening the producers of the United States? Are they trying to prevent them from producing? If no danger of this kind is threatened why should the producers of wealth be interested in increasing our army or our navy? It may be that there are capitalists of other countries threatening capitalists of this country. If they have a quarrel let them fight it out. The wise laboring man will try to keep out of the squabble.
