nk

915

65,000.00 2,350.84 64.000.00

2.875.57 rrency.

1,524.73

enn'a

the

gry

'or

VE

of

he

he

a

SO

RS

ld

ge

ft at ram-

ohns

who

e for their

ship,

aber

will

e

?

A few minutes later he looked up with a smile. "The women are com-ing forward in this crisis with great spirit," he said. "Here is a young girl advertising for a position as chaufteur and gardener. Says she would like to take the place of a son who has gone to fight for his country." The general looked up wonderingly at his wife. "That young lady would he a traced "That young lady would be a treas-ure. Is the salary too awfully large?" Mrs. Malvery questioned hopefully. "She asks no salary, bless her," re-plied the general. "She asks only bousing and fooding." housing and feeding." "We will write today," Mrs. Mal-very said promptly, her eyes shining. So it was that General Malvery and his will be to the total Malvery and his wife became the possessor of a "motor maid," as Marion Wells chose

"My brother has gone to the front," she told her employers while she, too, tried to hide the tragedy in her brave smile. "He is all the family I have. Life was intolerable without occupa-

MOTOR MAID MARIAN

By HOPE AINSLEE.

8......

The morning vas fresh and fragrant

The morning as fresh and fragmant with the odd pening fruit. Gen-eral Maivery signed as he realized that he could no longer take his daily drive through the glorious country roads. His only son had joined the army and gone to the front and without Bobby to drive the car to the station and re-turn home with it the general found his motor useless. He wished he had been able to run the car himself. The Indian mutiny of long ago had robbed him of his right arm. A few minutes later he looked up

A few minutes later he looked up tion." She was a slim, pale girl whose eyes shone with determination and hope. Otherwise Marian Wells had nething to compel admiration. Her hands, too, were slim and white. The marvel was that they were so useful a pair of hands. She handled the gar-den tools no less skillfully than she managed the wheel of General Mal-werv's motor.

managed the wheel of General Mal-very's motor. Marian had been shown the portrait of Bobby Malvery and, as all women did, she had freely expressed her ad-miration for the clean-cut, debonair private in the Irish Guards. "My brother, also, is in the Irish Guards," she said. "It would be strange if Dudley and your son should be fighting side by side." There was no concertunity to write be fighting side by side." There was no opportunity to write and ask, for it was not a day later that news reached the Malvery home from the front. The two men had fought side by side, or rather Bobby Malvery had fallen exhausted from wounds and it was Dudley Wells who had gone out under heavy fire to drag his comrade back to the trenches. Now both men were coming home wounded but cheerful. "He saved my life for you who love

"He saved my life for you who love e," Boby had written to his parents. Marian laughed softly when this was read to her. There were tears run-aing unrestrainedly down the cheeks of the two women and the general burled himself in the depths of the daily paper.

Soon everyone in the Malvery house was dashing about preparing rooms and putting fresh flowers in vases. and putting fresh flowers in vases. The general stood on the railway platform, blowing his nose vigorously and trying to look unaffected, when two stalwart men in khaki and band-ages were swept into the embrace of Marian and Mrs. Malvery. No one said anything for a long moment. The general laid the arm the Indian nu-tiny had left him across the shoulders of his son. Bobby looked up and smiled into his father's eyes over his mother's head. Then the general of-fered his hand to that other hero who was Marian's brother. After that they was Marian's brother. After that they all burst into speech at once. The tension was over. Marian, in her neat brown uniform, led the way and stepped into the déver's seat of the car. She smiled softly at her brother as his eyes opened wide. He had not known that opened wide. He had not known that Marian was helping her country after this fashion. She toid him the story as they spun along. "There are not many girls like you,"

JELLICOE MOST would give his official dinners. POPULAR OF ALL time of war the cabin is parily screened off, as there is more room than Sir John and his staff need for meals. Aft of this is what would be BRITISH CHIEFS

Frederick Palmer Writes of Fighting Commander of Britain's Great Fleet.

MASTER OF HIS PROFESSION

No Matter What Difficulties Arise H Is Always Smiling-The One Man

Who Cannot Risk Being Ab-sent From the Fleet-Loved by Officers.

By FREDERICK PALMER.

By FREDERICK PALMER. London.—Of all the great leaders of the war Sir John Jellicce, command-ing the British grand fleet, is least known to the world, and his is the known to the world, and his is the portrait which receives the most cheers when it is thrown onto a screen at a London theater. But the British public knows nothing of him except that he is the fighting com-mander of the "invisible" power of the British navy. When war was threatening it is re-lated that a meeting of admirally lords and others who would have the say was held to decide who, in case of hostilities, should command the British fleet. The opinions ran some-thing like this, it is said: "Jellicoe! He has the brains!" "Jellicoe! He is young. He has the health to endure the strain. He has the nerve."

has the nerve." "Jellicoe! His fellow-officers be-lieve in him." "Jellicoe! He has been tried in every branch of the service." That sort of recommendation helps when a man has to undertake such an immense responsibility. He was given supreme command and the resi-left to him.

A Marked Man. "From the time he was a midship man, fellicoe has been a marked man in the service," said one of his ad mirals. "He is one of those men who seem to be been with tireless energy

Sir John Jellicoe.

No matter what difficulties arise, he is always smiling. Both he and Beatty were on the first attempt to relieve the Peking legations at the time of the Boxer rebellion. Captain Jellicoe was then Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Seymour's chief of staff. When he was wounded and the little band of and it looked as if every minute might and it looked as it every minute mignu-be their last, he was smiling as cheer-ily as if he had been on the quarter-deck. Nothing ever seems to ruffle his equanimity. His personal charm would win him his way anywhere; but when you have served with him from side to side of the ship, which in a house would be called the dining room. Here when he was in port in time of peace the commander in chief Tennis Players Find Bird Dead and Enjoy a Feast Out of Season.

In

New York.—Four New York men who left here about ten days ago for a holiday at golf got back yesterday with a tale of a pheasant eaten out of season. S. L. Snowden, a bond broker; A. A. Surjege a thole here T. M. Jane than Sir John and his staff need for meals. Aft of this is what would be called in a house the sitting room. The furnishings are of the simplest. Everything inflammable could be re-moved promptly in case of action. The few names in the visitors' book on a table were suggestive of the fleet's isolation from intercourse with the rest of the world. One name was the king's and another the prince of Wales, and a few others were those of high officials. The visitor looked about in vain for sary for the focal point of a vast in all other respects. The actual di-recting of the three thoused ships and auxiliaries of the British navy is c. rried on in a space occupied in a New York office by a lawyer and two or three clerks. An orderly went and came with messages from the wire-less room, which aside from the in-space occupied in a space occupied in a count the messages from the wireless operators to stand and no officers said that it was difficult to see the solution officers said that it was difficult to see the solution of the wireless operators to stand and no officers said that it was difficult to see the solution of th

Too Often.

New York.—Accused of having fall-en into coal holes several times too often, James Smith was arrested at the Brighton Beach hotel, where he is omployed. Smith had been indicted by the New York county grand jury for attempted grand larceny on evi-dence obtained by James H. McCool, an examiner in the office of the cor-poration counsel. Frank V. Burton and J. H. Burton, owners of property, were the com-

His Fighting Admirals. His Fighting Admirals. Beatty, who sank the Bluecher, is the youngest of Sir John's young ad-mirals, forty-four years of age, bey-ish and quick. Sturdee, victor of the Falkland islands battle, smooth shaven, as smiling as Sir John, is quiet-spoken and rather studious in appearance, he is an expert in naval owners of property, were the com-plaining witnesses. Smith had brought an action against the Messrs. Burton for $20,000 dam-ages for injuries alleged to have been received on April 12 by falling into an open coal hole in front of the premises. appearance, he is an expert in naval In the British navy promotion i

WAR SCENES IN LONDON

A county of London battery not "somewhere in France," but on Hamp-stead heath, where they are training

START ANTI-AIN'T SOCIETY

Kansas Normal School Students Plan to Abolish "Ain't" From Vocabulary.

Hays, Kan.—Organization of an Anti-Ain't association has just been completed by students at the Fort Hays Kansas Normal school.

The association has for its purpose The association has for its purpose the teaching of its members, among whom are most of the students in the school, the correct use of simple Eng-lish, the abolition of long, unnecessary words, and especially the abolition from their vocabularies of the word "ain"."

The association was organized by

After the gruelling hard service you have put your car through during the past season, don't you think it would be a wise thing to have us overhaul it and place it again in tip-top shape?

The finest cars will wearworn parts must be replaced. bearings adjusted, carbon removed, valves ground, etc. if it is to pe quiet, powerful and safe.

We offer a repair service here that is equal to the best factory product-a trial will prove it. Genuinely expert work at ordinary rates in a thoroughly equipped shop.

Our Job Work HAVE YOU TRIED THE JOB WORK OF THE COMMERCIALS OUR WORK IS OF THE BEST AND OUR PRICES ARE RIGHT. GIVE US A TRIAL How to Cure a La Grippe Cough. Lagrippe coughs demand instant treatment. They show a serious condition of the system and are weakening Postmaster Collins, Barnegat, N. J. says: "I took Foley's Honey and Tar

Compound for a violent lagrippe cough that completely exhausted me and less than a half bottle stopped the Office: 229 Center Street

Both Phones.

cough." Try it. Sold everywhere CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED. with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and inorder to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is ont a quack medicie. It was prescribed by one of the cians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combised with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

In the British navy promotion is by selection up to the grade of cap-tain. A man with a single flaw in his record as Heutenant must wait on others before he can become lisu-tenant commander. Those with per-fect records in each grade are can-vased by boards and these who have shown industry and initiative are chosen to go over the heads of less active men. The aim is to apply the system of civil life, where ability rises and mediocrity must be content with the lower rungs of the ladder. Jellicoe, Sturdee and Beatty en-tered the navy as boys of fourteen. None had any particular influence; they made their way by industry. Sir John has served in every branch. He is regarded as possibly the ablest ordnance expert in the navy, which heaved for the section. De the bis anability, all agree the the has only one enterion-suchas only one emiterion that he has only one enterior-suc-cress. If an efficient fails he is super-reded Most of these young admirals sleep on the bridge even in harbor. For the last ten years the average Friftch naval officer has worked hard-or then a man of any profession in drift life. They have kept up the winding drill, which continues since the war becan he war began.

to be letter perfect in his part.' Prompt in His Decisions. In all actions thus far the firing has

In all actions thus far the firing has begun at extreme range-eighteen thousand yards. At that distance a ireadnaught painted the color of the sea is a vague speek. But one for-tunate hit may be vital, and either side wants to get that fortunate hit first. The accuracy of fire both at the Falkland felands and in the bat-the of the Dorrer Bark officers said tle of the Dogger Bank, officers said, had been as good as at battle pracontemplate how such a naval cam-aign as the British in this war could paign as the British in this war could have ever been conducted without the wireless. Sir John could talk with the admiralty in London or with any ship, whether off Helgoland or Ice-land. He knew what each one was doing. Let a German cruiser show her nose in the North sea and he had the news in a minute or two after she was sighted.

stratezy.

het he

the war began. "We can take no risks," one of them said. "Our responsibility to the nation requires that we neglect noth-ing that devotion to duty will accom-plish. Most of these crews you see have been at their posts, whether gun-pointing or passing ammunition, for five or six years. We want each man be helter perfect in his pert"

Dudley said. And that, naturally, was the exact and that, naturally, was the exact opinion Bobby Malvery held from the moment of his arrival home. General and Mrs. Malvery soon exchanged glances that suggested their having discussed a probability. Bobby had done with startling swiftness and en-ergy that which from the first they had thought possible. He hed fallen had thought possible. He had fallen hopelessly in love with Marian as the "motor maid."

"motor maid." "I wonder whether I shall give the bride away or he best man." Dudley laughed one day while he was stroll-ing with General and Mrs. Malvery about the fading gardens. Bobby and Marian had gone off together for a short spin through the twilight Eng-lish lange lish lanes

"You are to be my second son, Dud-y." Mrs. Malvery smiled and laid ley.' her hand affectionately on his un bandaged arm. "We have managed to pick up a rather jolly family," the old general chuckled happily. Out in the motor car Bobby looked blissfully into the shining eyes of the girl whose slim fingers were guiding the car so firmly. His uninjured arm had slipped closely about her waist. "We'll all be tremendously happy, my little 'motor maiden'," he whis-red, with his head against her Moulder

And the car chugged contentedly on through the winding, fragrant lanes. Copyright, 1915, by the McClure News-(paper Syndicate.)

but when you have served with him, then you realize what a master of his profession he is." Only the commander in chief's flag which she fites distinguishes the flag-ship, which is in the center of the fleet, from the rest of the gray fight-ers in their precise lines at anchor in harbor. Sir John takes his exer-cise and his holidays pacing the guar-ter-deck. He never leaves the fleet even for a few hours. The command-or in chief is the one man who must take no misk of being absent if the take no risk of being absent if the German fleet should come out. Not tall, spare, his face tanned by the breezes, he walks up and down the deck, sometimes with one of his attes or with his chief of staff, again with one of his officials. Everyone in the fleat is familiar with the quick, light step of that slight figure with a ight step of that sight light step. elescope always under his arm. If a ship should come to anchor with a bow out of line, he knows it. All his fighting ships are under his eve and every human being on the fleet feels his personal prese

Makes It Look Easy.

Descend a ladder under the shadow of two great 13.5-inch guns and the visitor is in a large cabin extending.

Seen among his admirals, Sir John Jellicoe seems the head of a family. In frequent consultation, they know one another in the fellowship of their confined existence. If he had anyconfined existence. If he had any-thing to say to one of them or they to him, the definiteness of their reand to say to one of their or they to him, the definitioness of their re-marks and the promptness of his re-biles were impressive. Decision seemed automatic with him. He showed the visitors over the flagship himself, calling attention to hings which he thought would inter-est them, as he led the way along the oramped passages behind the armor or pointed the way to enter one of the turrets where the gun rever were going on with their drill, which they went through like so many machines. Most of them were in the late twenties or early thirties, mature, experienced and confident. "All they ask is that the Germans will come out," said an officer. "They will come out," said an officer. "They could not work ray harder than they iid before the war. But the war has given them renewed eagerness."

Thirteen Popular in This Family. South Bend, Ind.—The thirteenth baby of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kyles of Mishawaka arrived at the Kyle home on the 13th of October. The child is a daughter and is the third one of the children to be born on the 13th day of the month. Mr. and Mrs. Kyle were married on the 13th of the month month

P. Casper Harvey, professor of Eng-ish, in one of the classes, and has spread gradually through the school. Misuse of the words "come," "came" and "nice" also is under the ban.

DISEASE WIPES OUT RABBITS

Tuberculosis Making Terrible Inroads Among Bunnies in Northern Minnesota.

Duluth, Minn.-It is asserted that tuberculosis has wiped out the rability family in this part of the country. Hunters say they no longer see Bunny in the woods and around the city, and the sport offrabbit shoating is gons. Last year it was found this almost every rabbit caught or killed for our amination wassuffering from incipient tuberculosis, and a warning was sent out not to use rabbit food. It is generally believed among phy-sicians and some others that the little animals have been wiped out by the disease.

His Ashes in Parcel Post. West Palm Beach, Fla.—The ashes of A. Ninomiya, a Japanese who died. here several days ago, have been start-ed for Japan by parcel post. Shortly before his death Ninomiya requested that his body be cremated and the ashes sent to Ehima, Japan, where he was born. The ashes were placed in a metal receptacle which was hermetically sealed.

the Old Floors

Hide uply boards with new and neat linoleum. Cheaper than parquet—casier to keep in

Armstrong's Linoleum

is sightly and sensible. Clean-cut designs, clear colors. Sanitary and durable. Fits the needs of the hitchen-fit for the parlor. Patterns for every room in the house.

Cuts down house-work.

Don't waste energy in scrubbing floors. Use a mop-and linoleum. ARMSTRONG'S IS THE BEST.

R. REICH & SON

THE HOME FURNISHERS Complete From Cellar to Attic

120 Centre St., Meyersdale

Send for testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY, & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75 cents por ottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for Con sipation. ad

A healthy man is a king in his own right; an unhealthy man an unhappy slave. For impure blood and sluggish liver use Burdock Blood Bitters, On the market 35 years, $1.00 per bottle.

Harsh physics react, weaken the bowels, will lead to chronic constiput tion. Doan's regulets operate easily, 2 c a box at all stores.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA