For Margaret J. Phillips, Mary L. Evans, and Sarah J. Lytle, Attorneys Francis J. Kooser and E. O. Kooser, last week began a proceeding for the collection of $455 alleged to be due the plaintiffs from the Enterprise Lumber Company of Markleton. The plaintiffs reside in Pittsburgh. The statement sets forth that Sarah J. Lytle, as agent for the plaintiffs, conveyed a large timber acreage in Black Summit, Elk Lick and Addison townships, to William B. Dibert, Hugh T. Newell, and James B. Anderson, giving them five years time in which to remove the timber, for which privilege the plaintiffs were to receive a rental of $300 a year. Subsequently Messrs. Dibert, Anderson and Newell conveyed their interests to James P. Phillips and Arthur M. Lowentritt of Oil City, who formed the Enterprise Lumber Company. ### ARE YOU THE CHAP?

Someone's always feeling blue,
Are you the chap?
Someone don't know what to do.
Are you the chap?
Someone sees disaster pending
Someone's trials are extending;
Someone's woes are never ending.
Are you the chap?
Someone's always out of luck.
Are you the chap?
Someone lacks backbone and pluck.
Are you the chap?
Someone always is repining;
Someone all the time is whining;
Someone sees no bright sun shining
Are you the chap?
Someone never gives a smile.
Are you the chap?
Someone's grouchy all the while.
Are you the chap?
Someone's always cross and sour;
Someone's grumpy every hour;
Someone doubts God's saving power.
Are you the chap?
Someone laughs the whole day long.
Are you the chap?
Someone's lips are wreathed in song.
Are you the chap?
Someone's heart binds us the tighter;
Someone makes our burdens lighter,
Someone makes the old world brighter
Are you the chap?

BURIED IN COFFIN

BOUGHT YEARS AGO.

At Somerset, last Thursday, David J. Miller, an eccentric old bachelor, was buried in the casket he selected more than three years ago and which was held in storage at an undertaking establishment until taken out and dusted preparatory to receiving the remains of the owner.

Miller's body was interred in a grave dug by men engaged long before to perform that service in the little cemetery at Husband.

At the head of the newly made grave stands a massive granite monument on which the name of David J. Miller and the date of his birth are chiseled in large letters. The monument was erected six or seven years ago in the Husband Cemetery Association grounds adjoining the northern Somerset borough boundary line, but about three years ago, Mr. Miller changed his mind and deciding that he wished to be interred at the village of Husband he caused the monument to be transferred to the cemetery at that place.

Mr. Miller was born in Somerset township June 1, 1827. When a young man he went west and for many years was successfully engaged in farming near Waterloo, Iowa. About twenty years ago he returned to Somerset and purchased a property on Catherine street in which he resided alone until the time of his removal to the Miller called at the Huston undertaking rooms in Somerset early in July 1912 and after examining the caskets on hand selected one costing $150, it is said. His name was written on the bottom of the case and it was placed in the corner of the ware room where it stood unmolested until last Thursday--The Somerset Herald.

Every seal you buy is a bullet in the fight against tuberculosis. It helps protect your country, your neighbor, your family and yourself from the disease and its cost.

Tuberculosis is our most destructive disease. One person out of every four in America who die between the ages of fifteen and fifty die from tuberculosis. It is a chief cause of poverty.

But it is preventable and conquerable. This war, man against disease, is a winning war--not a wasting war, man against man. It is THE WAR THAT PAYS--IT BRINGS PROSPERITY.
