Mrs. Susan Warrick passed away recently at her home in Ursina. The remains were interred at Addison.

A State fire warden was in Hooversville recently investigating the dynamiting of a building there several weeks ago. The structure was destroyed by fire, but it is a question which was first, the fire or the explosion.

Frank Paer, a well-known farmer of near Holsopple, died a few days ago. Funeral services were held at St. James Lutheran church in charge of the Rev. Mr. Rice. He is survived by his widow and two children, Sarah and Jacob.

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Weyant, of near Ralphon died of cholera infantum at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial in Shade Township at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in charge of Undertaker Earl Rhoades.

The town of Jenner experienced a bad fire recently. A large barber shop and a restaurant were destroyed before the flames could be extinguished. The origin of the fire is not known. The store was owned by Nuncio Serocino and the restaurant was conducted by Tony Ledger. Justice of the Peace E. W. Null occupied the second floor of the restaurant building as an office.

J. B. Davis & Sons, of Ursina, have organized a company to work a large timber tract at Stewardston station, on the Western Maryland railroad, to be known as the Brunner Run Lumber Co. The other partners are Logan Rush, county commissioner of Fayette county; J. H. Gwin and H. G. Gwin, the last three from Connellsville. The business is prospering. Some of the saw mills that were operated above Humbert are being hauled down and children Bowers, who with several now ready for operation.

Plans for the erecting of a new Catholic Church, Holsopple have been about completed and a site for the church has already been acquired. The old Berkebile livery and garage in Holsopple has been purchased by the Catholic church and construction work on a new edifice will be started in the near future. The new church is being erected by the St. Ann's congregation. It is probable that the Hooversville parish will be consolidated with that at Holsopple.

The Kautz Hotel, one of the largest buildings in Holsopple, has been sold to Dr. H. A. Zimmerman, who will remodel it and occupy it as a drug store and residence. The Kautz building, which was owned by the Emmertings, Johnstown, has been without a liquor license. Jacob Kautz, who has held a lease on the structure has been conducting a boarding house. Dr. Zimmerman will move his drug store from its present location. He will not occupy the hotel building for a month or more, desiring to make a number of improvements.

Mr. Sembower for a number of years before coming to Rockwood, conducted a mercantile establishment at Marketon.

MUST ENFORCE DOG LAWS

Many complaints of the killing of sheep and other domestic animals by dogs which run at large, have reached the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and the State Game Commission. The non-enforcement of the laws for the assessment, licensing and killing of dogs by some counties has also been brought to the attention of the State officials, and the Attorney General's Department at the request of Secretary of Agriculture, Charles E. Patton and Secretary of the Game Commission, Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, has issued a pamphlet on the laws relating to the subject.

Deputy Attorney General Horace W. Davis, says:

"This Department has, in the past several months, received frequent communications from you in reference to the various General and Special Acts of Assembly relating to the taxation of dogs and the protection of sheep and certain other domestic animals. From your communications, it appears that some counties claim to be governed by the Special statutes, while others claim that the provisions of the General law are inconsistent, partly unconstitutional, and as a whole unintelligible, and that, based upon such claims, the local officers are neglecting or refusing to collect the dog tax or to enforce any of the provisions of the General law.

"You have also reported to us instances where, without giving any reasons, the local officers are doing nothing to destroy dogs upon which tax is not paid.

"As the only proper solution of this matter, this Department has prepared a compilation and consolidation of the present General Acts relating to this subject, which will be furnished you for distribution to those interested. In making this compilation, numerous portions of the present law have been omitted as having been either directly or impliedly repealed or being invalid by reason of their unconstitutionality, or for other reasons.

"The result has been the production of an intelligible system, the provisions of which are valid, subsisting and constitutional.

"I have also to advise you that the law, as set forth, supersedes all Special Acts claimed to be in force in any counties of the State.

"It is the duty of the County Commissioners of every county in this Commonwealth, as well as the assessors, constables, and other officers, to enforce the provisions of these Acts and if, after you have furnished them with the above mentioned compilation they still neglect or decline to enforce the same, this department will, as previously indicated, institute such action as will compel a due observance of their duties by these officials."

JOHNSTOWN RAISES $140,000 FOR MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

A ten-day financial campaign to raise $125,000 to provide maternity and children wards for the Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital came to a close last week. Amid great enthusiasm an announcement was made that not only had the goal been reached, but the mark had been exceeded by $15,000.

Work upon additional buildings will start at once. The Memorial hospital was built with funds donated at the time of the great flood of 1889, left over when the needed all had been provided for. The enlargement of the institution was put up to the people there as a matter of pride, to preserve recognition of the spirit of charity manifested word that city in time of disaster.

HANLY AND LANDRITH NAMED

Prohibs Select Candidates and Adopts Platform For World Disarmament.

The Prohibition national convention in session in St. Paul, Minn., adjourned since die after nominating J. Frank Hanly, former governor of Indiana, as candidate for president of the United States and Dr. Ira D. Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., candidate for vice president. Dr. Landrith's nomination was made unanimous after the other vice presidential candidates had withdrawn.

Hanly received 440 votes against 181 for William Sulzer, former governor of New York, his nearest contender.

The platform as adopted expresses opposition to the "wasteful military programs of the Democratic and Republican parties," but favors "preparedness for peace." It suggests a "compact among nations to dismantle navies and husband armies," but until "such court and compact are established we edge ourselves to maintain an effective army and navy and to provide coast defenses entirely adequate for national protection."

"Things are going to happen to show that we will go to any extreme, the same as the controlling class, to preserve what little democracy we still have.

"Don't take this as a joke, or you will be rudely awakened: Awaken (sic) we have sworn to do our duty to the masses and only send warnings to those who are wise, but who are forced to march to hold their jobs, as we want to give only the hypocritical (sic) patriots who shout for war, but never go, a real taste of war."

Kindly ask the chamber of commerce to march in a solid body if they want to prove they are true cowards. A copy has been sent to all the papers. Our duty has been done, so far."

Every possible precaution, policy of socialists had been taken, but the innocuous-looking success standing where a country visitor, or whom there were thousands, might have set it down, attracted no attention.

FOUR KILLED BY DYNAMITE BOMB

Forty Injured at Preparedness Parade in San Francisco

POLICE PROBE THREATS

Warnings Had Been Sent to All City Papers Against Demonstration—Arrested Man Denies Guilt of Crime

At least four persons were killed and forty-one or more were injured by the explosion of a timed bomb in the midst of a throng viewing a preparedness parade in San Francisco.

The police arrested Frank Josephson, a lodger in a sailors' boarding house, who cried, "I didn't do it, I didn't do it," and trembled violently when he was being searched at the station house.

The police said he had not been accused of anything. Charles M. Fickert, district attorney, issued a statement attributing the deed to a mind unbalanced by arguments for and against preparedness. The parade was not interrupted.

The explosion occurred at Stuart and Market streets, two blocks from the Ferry building, on San Francisco's main thoroughfare. The bomb, concealed in a suitcase packed with cartridges, bullets, gas pipe, glass and scrap iron, "blew a gap" through the crowd, blasting men, women, children and babies.

The one-story brick building against which the suitcase stood was wrecked. The holiday throng, cheering a contingent of veterans of the First California infantry of the Spanish-American war, became a shambles. The blast of fifty bands and the roar of drums drowned the cries of the injured, but the sidewalk was strewn with torn bodies.

All the newspaper offices in San Francisco had received a communication written in Roman script with an indecipherable pencil, many of the words being heavily underlined. The communication was signed "The determined exiles from militaristic government, Italy, Germany, U. S., Italy, Russia."

In several instances the writer repeated himself. The communication read:

"Our enemies have been in with in regard to this preparedness parade, so we are going to use a little direct action to show which way we stand around the earth and show that we really know how and military causes are formed, or

What We Know And Do Not Know About Infantile Paralysis

By SAMUEL G. DIXON, M.D. Commissioner of Health

WITH the history of the world's workers on Poliomylitis and the results of our own work before us we have to acknowledge that THE GERM OF THIS DISEASE HAS NOT BEEN FOUND, and further, that we do not know how the disease is communicated from one person to another.

There is no medicine or specific for Poliomylitis. DON'T LOSE YOUR HEAD! Avoid all unproven remedies. Tell you he has a remedy that is a sure cure, and any one who does lies. Long attentive treatment under a good doctor of medicine, and helped if possible by a good nurse, will in many cases bring the child back to health.

There is not as much paralysis as commonly believed. The reports of the outbreak in New York seem to establish this. On the 13th of July New York reported 1,600 cases of Poliomylitis, but only 403 of paralysis. Until we know more about that which produces the disease and how it is communicated from one person to another we, with our present knowledge, STRENUOUSLY RECOMMEND the following precautions:

All excepting the doctor and the one nursing the person sick of the disease must keep out of the room set aside for the patient. If possible keep children out of the neighborhood in which the disease prevails.

Keep all insects out of houses, particularly flies. GUARD FOOD STUFFS FROM FLIES. Flies may carry the disease.

Feed children on cooked food as much as possible.

See that the outside of bread or biscuits is kept clean and away from flies. Wagons, trucks, etc., carrying bread should not be kept in horse stables.

Screen your houses and baby coaches or cribs or beds when the house is not fully screened.

The Department has literature on this subject which you can get upon written request.

THIS DEPARTMENT IS IN CONSTANT WARFARE TO PROTECT OUR PEOPLE FROM DISEASE. TO ACCOMPLISH THE BEST RESULTS WE MUST NOT ONLY HAVE THE CONFIDENCE OF OUR PEOPLE BUT INDIVIDUAL AND PUBLIC CO-OPERATION.
