DONNED REGULAR ATTIRE OF AN ITALIAN LABORER AND NOT SUSPECTED

Now Employed as a Domestic in Pittsburg and Happy in Her New Dubois, Pa.—Each morning at 7 o'clock for three years a youthful coal digger went down into the mines at Pyler, Clearfield County, clad in overalls, a blue shirt and miner's cap and lamp. Throughout the day, until it came quitting time at 4 o'clock this young miner labored hard with pick and shovel, doing more than the average man's work.

The young miner was known as "Joe Ricatone," from sunny Italy. Bright and happy of face and disposition, always ready to engage in a trolic or in a fistfight if occasion demanded, "Joe" won a place in the hearts of the other miners, and was not only regarded as a good fellow, but a friend whom they trusted and admired.

Clean cut and handsome, broad of spoulder, deep of chest, powerful, yet graceful, and with a voice of deep Italian sweetness, "Joe" was a figure of interest in the little mining town.

Rather suddenly, one day recently, "Joe" decided to give up the mining life and try something else. There were brothers to be consulted, and after a family council it was decided that "he" should don a woman's wig and feminine attire and go to Pitts burg to find some other kind of semployment.
