WILSON HALTS DEPORTATION

Russian War Widow Escapes Return to Battlefields by Executive's Order. A Russian mother and her sixteen-year-old daughter at Ellis Island were saved by President Wilson from deportation to their native land. They already had been taken aboard the Nordram when word came from Washington staying the deportation order.

The Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid society has learned of the case of the two unfortunates and a telegram was sent to President Wilson in their behalf. Mrs. Sarah Shmelson came to this country Aug. 5. She brought with her two children, the girl, and Reuben, aged eleven. There was some physical defect to cause the authorities to refuse to pass the girl. Age was against the mother. Reuben passed the requirements and would have been allowed to proceed to Chicago to join several of his brothers.

Mrs. Shmelson, already having suffered from the war in her native Suwalki, was heartbroken when she learned she and Esther must return to Russia and leave Reuben behind. As her last hope waned the glad news came from Washington that President Wilson had interceded in her behalf. The woman's husband was killed early in the war.

AUTO BANDITS ROB WAGON

Detroit Highwaymen Get $4,000 From Standard Oil Collection Wagon. Two automobile bandits held up a Standard Oil collecting wagon on the Rockner road, near Dearborn, a Detroit suburb. A report to the police said the robbers obtained $4,000 and escaped. The collecting wagon was driven by J. Labell. Labell, it is said, was assaulted by the men. A workman attracted by Labell's cries found him lying near a tree. Labell said the men, who were in a small automobile, overpowered him and after throwing the cash into their car, drove away.

AMERICANISM

We stand for an Americanism, that allows no American for private gain, to embroil us in war with any nation. That allows no hungry children in a land overflowing with food. That allows no long hours of labor while plenty can be provided with short hours of labor. The People's College News. That allows no stunting of child life by mill, mine and factory, while idle adults seek the boon of work.

That allows no idle shirker to appropriate the fruit of others' toil. That allows no man or set of men in any office to plunge our nation into a needless war.

That denies the right of the nation to interfere on behalf of the property of our citizens in any other lands. That denies the right of our enemies within our borders to make enemies for us without our borders.

That demands to know all the facts upon which our relation with other nations are based. That will fight no war for reasons upon which we have not passed. That demands of government that it serve all the people equally.

That will follow no flag for an ignoble purpose. That stands for a responsible, thinking citizenship. That stands for no blind obedience. That stands for our country for all our people.

That stands upon the principle that do unto other nations as we would they should do unto us, is the essence of statesmanship.
