

Summer Garden

SATURDAY FEB. 17th.

"SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE."

Do you enjoy a picture that holds you in suspense until the very end—a tale so full of mystery that you cannot guess the outcome—a story so gripping that you never notice the passing moments?

Such a story is "Somewhere in France," the new Triangle Play starring Louise Glaum and Howard Hickman, by the late Richard Harding Davis. A thrilling war story of mystery and secret service intrigue it is sure to fascinate you.

Then, too there's a mile of Keystone fun and frolic.

TUESDAY FEB. 20th.

"THE WOLF WOMAN"

Louise Glaum, Triangle-Kay Bee "Vampire Lady," was born in Maryland, but was taken to Los Angeles so early in life that she was there when the motion picture directors emigrated to the Pacific coast. But before her screen debut, she appeared on the speaking stage as the ingenue in "Why Girls Leave Home." Later she played in "Officer 666" and in Nat Goodwin's company.

Soon after California was invaded by the picture play producers, Miss Glaum presented herself to Thomas H. Ince. She has been under his direction ever since, appearing in several well-known Triangle features, the first being "The Iron Strain." Miss Glaum is the star of "Somewhere in France," Triangle-Kay Bee picturization of the Richard Harding Davis novel of that name.

She will also appear in a wonderful Vampire role in "The Wolf Woman" which is scheduled for Tuesday February 20 at the popular picture resort, the Auditorium Summer Garden.

WEDNESDAY FEB. 21st.

"THE UNWELCOME MOTHER"

The Fox feature for the coming Wednesday is an other unusual, out of the ordinary photo-play, like all the Fox productions, it is hard to judge the Fox pictures, you cannot say too much about them, last week Virginia Pearson in "Daredevil Kate" was a great picture, this coming week "The Unwelcome Mother" is another you cannot help like, for the following week, Theda Bara will be the big feature attraction in "Her Double Life" if you are not a regular on Wednesday, for night, you are missing the cream of the photo-plays.

THURSDAY FEB. 22nd.

"CRIMSON STAIN MYSTERY"

This is the serial night at this popular amusement resort, the "Crimson Stain Mystery" the serial photo-play that is different, you see some new faces every Thursday, it isn't too late yet, the first few installments are over but you still have a chance to sit down to the rest of the meal, the best is yet to come, a big six reel program, and music by the real musical four, to suit the pictures.

FRIDAY FEB. 23rd.

"THE PRICE OF SILENCE"

This is the first big William Fox Super de Luxe feature, you have been reading about. It comes to the Summer Garden, Friday Feb. 23rd, with special music by the Auditorium orchestra. Don't miss this big seven reel skating on the above date, doors open at 6:45 p. m. First show at 7.

Children Emancipated
Powerful photodrama on subject of child labor, which has the endorsement of President Wilson and Congress. See the WILLIAM FOX PHOTOPLAY 'The Price of Silence' with that greatest of screen stars WILLIAM FARNUM -AT THE- Summer Garden, Feb. 23rd. Music by The Orchestra. NO ROLLER SKATING.

NOT TO BE TOLERATED IN AMERICA

"We need laws in this country to compel fathers and mothers to work and do their share. Thousands of fathers and mothers today are leaning in their children for support. Look at the loafers on our street corners—where are their children? Working, of course, and giving up every cent they earn. Child labor is a term which is not to be tolerated in America.

"We have laws for the preservation of our forests and nearly every other thing in life, but we neglect our children. "You cannot put the child and labor together, and have a strong nation. "No State, no home, no industry has the right to rob the child of its childhood."

Rev. James V. Chalmers, (From the pulpit of Holy Trinity Church, New York.)

GLADE CITY

Miss Edna Mankamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mankamer, was given a surprise party on Friday night, the occasion being her nineteenth birthday.

The evening was spent in games and music, after which a delicious luncheon was served. Those present were; Naomi Lenhart, Bessie Diest, Ruth Bowman, Minnie and Pauline Swearman, Naomi Wahler, Myrtle and Edna Mankamer. Miss Mankamer received some pretty and useful presents.

The guests departed at a late hour wishing Edna many more happy birthdays.

Quite a few of our people in Glade City, spent Saturday night at Wittenburg for the purpose of witnessing the entertainment given by the pupils of that school. Those present from Glade City are Mrs. John Beal, Robert and William Bowman Grace and Charles Beal, Myrtle Edna and Lester Mankamer, Minnie and Pauline Swearman, Ralph Werner and Norman Pike.

Ray Harding of our town unfortunately fell a short time ago and suffered a fracture of a leg, is recovering as rapidly as can be expected.

Herbet Harrding, who was injured in the mines some time since, is now able to be about.

The Union Sunday School of our town has become a live wire and the attendance is growing weekly and interest manifested is growing. Last Sunday there were 69 children present which certainly is great when we consider that Glade City is only a small village.

There will be preaching next Sunday at three o'clock by Rev. Berkley, and a cordial invitation is given to the fathers and mothers of our town to attend.

... would be politician was once speaking before a small assembly in a village. In the course of his speech he introduced some expression which disgusted his hearers, who thereupon started moving away. The orator, seeing this, put up his hands and said: "Pause, friends!" But the answer he got was from a local wag, who cried amid laughter: "Aye, an' real dirty ones they are too!"—Chicago News.

Making Sure of It. District Visitor—Well, one must do something for the suffering poor. Friend—Quite so, but are you really quite sure that they do suffer? District Visitor—Oh, yes. I visit them and talk to them for hours at a time.—London Stray Stories.

Quite a Resemblance. "Didn't you have a brother in this course last year?" "No, sir; it was I. I'm taking it over again." "Extraordinary resemblance, though. Positively extraordinary!"—Harvard Lampoon.

LITTLE TALKS ON HEALTH AND HYGIENE

(by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon.)

Army Blankets.

United States army blankets are not economical for private or permanent hospital use. For the reader to fully appreciate this criticism he must disabuse his mind of a common fallacy that the purpose of blankets and clothing is to give heat off to the body by preventing it from being taken off by the general atmosphere. Therefore, you want blankets soft and pliable so that they will fall of their own weight and fit snugly to the body, so as to prevent the air from circulating between the blanket and the body which it had to be carried on the soldiers' backs, or on saddles of horses, or in the supply wagons. Owing to the fact that they were made of all wool, had long lives, and were made in a substantial way, they soon found their way into general use, particularly in hospital use, and more especially into hospitals where the open air treatment was necessary.

The State Department of Pennsylvania has its blankets made according to the following specifications:

Double blankets not to be less than 80 in. long by not less than 60 in. wide when finished. Weight to be 4 1/2 lb. per pair when finished.

Warp—To be of cotton, long staple. To be well carded and evenly spun, of No. 14 yarn, 43 threads to the inch.

Filling—To blend or mixture of not over 20 per cent cotton. Balance to all wool, staple good and true, 32 picks to the inch in finished product. Color to be medium gray.

Border—No color. Each pair of blankets to be bound on the ends with 0 2 in. mo. hair binding. To have two pairs of stitching 1-4 in. apart and to count about six stitches per inch.

Embroidering—Each pair of blankets to be embroidered with the letters P. S. C. S. 4 1-2 in. high. To be in centre of blanket. —Note a blanket showing the general design and construction is on file at the Philadelphia Office.

The army blanket is woven so closely and becomes so rigid when thrown over the body that it falls to fall in close, but stands out and permits the air space between itself and the body. This interferes with the heat retaining qualities to the extent that after practical application in our large hospitals in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we find in the cold high mountain regions we can get along with three softer woven blankets instead of having to use five army blankets.

With this discovery and practical application we not only save much in maintaining our hospitals, but we give our patients more comfort. The blankets are warmer and at the same time are lighter in weight.

AN ANCIENT CLIFF CITY.

The Ruins of its Primitive Dwellings in Walnut Canyon.

Walnut canyon, near Flagstaff, Ariz., contains some of the most interesting ruins on the continent. The canyon itself is remarkable, being a thousand feet deep, a quarter mile in width at the top and a few hundred feet at the bottom. The sides do not rise up in gentle slopes, but leap upward, tier upon tier, a giant limestone stairway. Here were conditions that appealed to primitive man. The smooth shelf or ledge formed a floor, the projecting rock a ceiling, the sloping strata rear walls. He had but to throw up front and side walls and a home was completed, with a floor that would never wear out and a roof that would never leak.

It is estimated that there are at least a thousand of these primitive dwellings in the Walnut canyon. There is but a single entrance to this cliff city. The trail leads over the face and down the sides of the cliff and on through the ruins of one of these houses. When the walls of this building were standing it completely filled the width of the ledge. As no one could enter without passing through this house or gateway, one man, armed with a primitive stone ax, might well have stood off an army.

All articles of furniture have been carried away, but there are still traces of a fireplace, and the blackened ceiling tells of its long occupancy. In the ashes and litter have been found broken pieces of pottery—red, black and gray decorated in colors and with patterns displaying their artistic tastes in small pockets, dug out in the rear walls and carefully sealed up. Occasionally found pieces of cloth, a lamp and tier of yucca, corn-cobs, squash shells, beans, etc.—Exchange.

REAL DOUGHNUTS.

The Genuine Old Time Cake Never Had a Hole in It.

Why will some persons persist in speaking of the holes in doughnuts? The real, genuine article never had a hole in it. My memory goes back to 1840 and earlier, and my boyhood experience extended over a good part of Fairfield, Litchfield and New Haven counties, Conn., and Westchester county, N. Y., up to 1850. Our mothers at that time are to be regarded as the best authority on old fashioned American cookery.

The doughnut of that period consisted of bread dough raised overnight, with hop meal cakes, or "emptions," sweetened with brown sugar, shortened a little and fried to a rich brown in leaf lard and were somewhat larger than a goose egg and about the same shape. These were known among the old Dutch New Yorkers and are described in Barber's "History of New York," published about 1840.

"Wonder cakes" were similar, with a little more shortening and sweetening. The dough was rolled about three-quarters of an inch thick, cut into squares of three inches, with three slits, which were pressed apart into a fantastic shape, and were the idolized Sabbath day lunch, eaten under the maple tree or the horse shed between the morning and afternoon services.

I first remember crullers twisted and with holes when I came to New York in 1854. The very name of doughnut is suggestive of a round or oval shaped article.—C. P. Benedict in New York Times.

Why Disease is Caused by Fear. An eminent medical authority once made the statement that a great deal of contagion is due largely to nervous apprehension and fear. Terror causes radical changes in the secretions and nerve cells, and while the possibility is not the direct cause of disease it certainly is sufficient to put the person in the proper condition to be attacked by the prevailing malady.
