PROPER BREATHING.

It Plays a Large Part in the Promotion of Good Health. Proper breathing is one of the great big factors in promoting and retaining good health. It is no great number of years since the subject of deep breathing has engaged not only the attention of physicians, but trainers of athletes and the public generally.

REAL DOUGHNUTS.

The Genuine Old Time Cake Never Had a Hole in It. Why will some persons persist in speaking of the holes in doughnuts? The real, genuine article never had a hole in it. My memory goes back to 1840 and earlier, and my boyhood experience extended over a good part of Fairfield, Litchfield and New Haven counties, Conn., and Westchester county, N. Y., up to 1850.

HOW MODERN SHIPS SINK.

Times When Water Tight Bulkheads Are a Menace to Life. Nearly every class or design of vessel sinks in a particular way. For instance, the old type of single bottom steamer, with few or no bulkheads—that is, in the modern sense of the term—almost invariably founders on more or less of an even keel, which means that it sinks level and not with its bow or stern up in the air.

Warding Off Cancer.

Nurses, particularly those engaged in public health work, can do much to prevent unnecessary deaths from cancer, according to a bulletin of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. Many patients, especially women, it is pointed out, speak to a nurse about the danger signals of this disease, such as lumps, persistent sores, ulcerations and other irregularities, when they would hesitate to call a doctor.

Deserved to Get It.

"I want to ask you for a bit of advice," said the insinuating man. "What is it?" "I want you to put yourself in my place and me in yours and tell me how you would go about it if you wanted to borrow $10 from me."—Exchange.

EXPENSIVE FISHING.

Why the Angler Dressed in Oilskins Was Not Hired. An ardent fisherman was President Cleveland, and a writer in the New York Sun says of him that he enjoyed fishing for the fish that would not bite quite as much as he did for those that would. While fishing one day, dressed in oilskins and a slouch hat, he was addressed by an angler garbed in the height of piscatorial fashion.

Strength of the Condor.

The enormous strength of the condor is equaled by his voracity and boldness. This immense bird often pounces upon small animals, but from the shape and bluntness of his claws it is unable to carry anything very heavy, so he contents himself with fixing it against the ground with one of his claws, while with the other and his powerful beak he rends it to pieces.

We're All Like Her.

Terence V. Powderly of labor fame was talking about compulsory arbitration. "The trouble with the world in general," he said thoughtfully, "is that we all know just what the other fellow ought to do, but we take little account of what we ought to do ourselves."

Thrifty Gesso.

The solar gesso are so fond of collecting materials for their nests that they do not desist from the habit even when they are about to abandon their nests for the winter migration.

SOWING MINES IN THE SEA.

How These Ship Destroyers Are Laid and Anchored. Mine laying and mine sweeping are two important submarine functions in a modern navy, and both of these occupations are fraught with danger to those engaged in them.

The Servant Question.

"Beg pardon, ma'am," said the butler, "but your son has just eloped with the cook."

An Expensive Luxury.

"Yes," said the literary man, with a sigh, "style is a fine thing for a writer to have, but when his wife's got it too it takes all the profit away."—Harper's.

Call "Girls!" and those of sixty look up just as quickly as those of sixteen.

Regrets, Inevitable.

"Very well," he said coldly; "there will come a time when your treatment of me will be regretted."

Nothing Like.

"Is your physician a homeopath or an allopath, Mrs. Snooks?" "I don't think he is either one of those. At any rate, those names do not sound in the least like what my husband called him when the bill came in."—Exchange.

An Ancient Clock.

The Tour de l'Horloge, a square tower which forms part of the Palais de Justice in Paris, the ancient palace of the French kings, has the oldest public clock in France. It dates from 1370.

Corrected His Veracity.

James—Papa, I ain't got no sirup. Father—John, correct your brother. John (leaning over and peering into James' plate)—Yes, you is.

Revenge is a kind of wild justice which the more man's nature runs to the more ought law to weed it out.—Bacon.
