With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply on the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

At little cost one can get a small bottle of freezone at any drug store, which will positively rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or sore-ness or the danger of infection.

ness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding skin. Just think! You can lift off your corns and calluses now without a bit of pain or soreness. If your druggist hasn't freezone he can easily get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.—adv.

New York Women Pay Great Prices for Shoes

NEW YORK.—While almost everyone is kicking about the high cost of living these dolorous days, it may be surprising to some to learn that there are some folks so reckless regarding expense that the blue sky seems to be their only limit when it comes to the purchase of footwear. For instance, a woman from the sunny Southland stopping at one of the big hotels, according to the sober statement of a New Yorker, recently paid $63.50 for a pair of shoes. The hotel clerk, who paid the bill for her ladyship, nearly fainted at the price, although popular opinion accredits those people with being price proof if anyone is exempt from such shocks.

But the lady from the South did But the lady from the South did not by any means rob the city of its highest-priced footgear, according to representatives of fashionable bootmakers. For instance, any indulgent husband may pay $75 for his wife's simple black evening slippers with rhinestone heels to twinkle in the dance and trample on the heart of man. But it is not necessary to pay so much even for elaborate footwear. A nice, quiet pair of boots for a windy day may be had for $45. The vamps of these shoes are of purple-blue metallic kid and the tops are light green, embroidered with dull red flowars. Then there is a pink kid short-vamp shoe, with the top embroidered in gold, which is only $45.

Having one's boots made with short vamps makes them more expensive because the model is French and American bootmakers find difficulty in copying it. For this reason a great many women are "going in" for the short

Twenty years ago I began the sale of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and I believe there is not a medicine on the market that enjoys such a splendid reputation or has met with more success in the ailments for which it is recommended. My customers praise it and I am pleased to say that it was very effective in my trouble. It has stood the test for years on its merits and I believe with a fair trial it will accomplish what is claimed.

Very truly yours,

because the model is French and American bootmakers find difficulty in copying it. For this reason a great many women are "going in" for the short vamps nowadays. It costs real money for society women to be well shod. According to a well-known bootmaker, the average woman has a pair of shoes for every dress she wears, some customers buying as many as 100 pairs a year. "Our customers order from six to eight pairs of shoes at a time," said the bootmaker, "at an average price of $40 per pair. Of course, simple sports boots, and evening slippers made from customer's own material cost less. Prices are going up every day. The only thing for the women to do if they want their footwer to be less expensive is to have their skirts so long they are a very purple of low shoes." can wear pumps or low shoes.'

B OSTON.—When sailor boys strike Boston, the first place they lay a course for, after they get shore leave, is a little post office, as it were, in Water street, Charlestown, which is not under federal jurisdiction. The post office consists of a wooden case, with a glass door about four inches deep and about 25 or 30 inches in its other dimensions. It is fastened on the wall of the game recome on the second floor of the Sally.

room, on the second floor of the Sail-their "hours of ease." This post office, of which the glass door is padlocked, seldom contains more than 30 or 35 letters at a time. There isn't room to arrange more than that on display. Then they're gathered up by the consignees just about as fast as they're arranged.

But sometimes, so great apparently is the world-wide faith in the depot for letters, and so great is a boy's habit of not going just exactly where he announced, letters are not called for. So, stretching back, in instances for a couple of years, many letters have been docketed and stowed away by Miss Hunt.

Hunt.

The docketing isn't really necessary, for years of practice and acquired familiarity with the characteristics—epistolary and otherwise—of her "boys" has made Miss Hunt able to track much-wanted letters at a moment's notice. Her great big heart helps, as well as her head, in this.

The eyes of a philatelist would be interested in a glance at this case on the wall. The letters bear stamps from as far away as India and Australia and New Zealand. Now and then is one right from the front, "somewhere."

There will be many bearing that unromantic libel "opened by the censor." And these are not all addressed in the hard-to-decipher German script. Some have English postmarks.
