PRESIDENTIAL SUFFRAGE.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17-Defeated in their attempt to have the Legislature give the voters of the state an opportunity to decide the question of woman suffrage, women of of woman suffrage, women of Pennsylvania are again before the House asking the members to give them directly as much suffrage, or the right to vote for all Presidential can-didates.

A bill to his effect was introduced last Tonday (April 30), by Representative Lex N. Mitchell of Jefferson county.

who has sponcered several pro-hition bills this session.
Following the boasts of liquor organization lobbyists that they had defeated the pre-vius suffrage bill, the suffragists of the state also aligned against the dominance of li-quor in Pennsylvania politics, and announce themselves par-and announce themselves particularly elated in having secured Representative Mitchell to Introduce their bill.

The authority under which women ask the Pennsylvania legislature to grant them Presidential suffrage is set forth in Article II, Section 2, of the Constitution of the United States, which provides that "Each state SHALL APPOINT IN SUCH MANNER AS THE LEGISLATURES THEREOF MAY DIRECT, the number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives, to which the State may be entitled in the Congress, etc.

which the State may be entitlwhich the State may be entitled in the Congress,, etc.

The women seeking Presidential shffrage further declare that it has been ruled in other states where Presidential suffrage has been granted to women "The source of this power of the state legislatures being the United States Constitution, the word 'male' defining the qualification of the usual electors of the state does not preclude the vote for Presidential electors being extended to women, becuse, according to Article VI, Section of the Constitution of the United States, that Constitution shall be 'the supreme Law of the Land, anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

This the suffragists and standing.
This the suffragists and

This the suffragists and their advisors say, answers that argument which opponents already have raised, namely that the Legislature already has defined the qualification of electors.

The following are some extracts from the letter sent by the Junior class to Olive Linde-man, who has been in the Cum-Hospital for several weeks. Dear Olive:

Dear Olive:
Sure was glad to hear that your old soul is getting patched up again and can hardly wait until you are restored to us with a whole gizzard and a liver without holes even though your measley appendix is gone. Hope to see you in school soon.
Your beloved.

Your beloved, Guy Floto.

Friend Olive:

I was glad to hear from you. I hope you will be back home and in school again soon as we miss you very much. You cannot realize how much I am suffering from your absence. suffering from your absence.

Monday morning the class

Monday morning the class received a card from Olive, saying that she is getting along very nicely, and that she has improved ten fold since reading the Juniors' letter.

Gregg Darrow constructing a figure in Geometry: "I want a ruler." Harvey Meyers: "Which one George the 111 or Henry the eighth?"

Has any one noticed the different moods Clara Rowe was in this week? During the former part of the week, she wore a frown and a scowl all the time, but on Friday the object of her anxiety returned and she smiled at everyone all day.

Miss Beck: "Trace the progress of Sir Roger's love suit?" Edward Crowe: "Is a love suit anything like a pinch-back suit?"

Eddie the only difference between a love suit and a pinch-back suit, is that in the one you only get pinched in the back but in the other you get pinched on all sides.

Coming In Out of the Wet.

There is an amusing story by Athenaeus which suggests the possible origin of the phrase "He does not know enough to come in out of the wet." Ac-cording to the entertaining grammarian referred to, a town in Greece under stress of evil circumstances borrowed money from a rich man, who took as-security for the loan a mortgage on the handsome portico which surrounded the market place. He was not an un-generous creditor, for when it rained generous creditor, for when it rained he caused the town criers to announce that the citizens had permission to take refuge under the colonnade. Strangers visiting the town who failed to have the matter properly explained to them were so impressed by the extraordinary circumstances that they spread abroad the report that the people were so stupid that they had to betold when to come in out of the wet.
