Mrs. Robert Cook and daughter, Betty, went to Brownsville Monday to visit the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Price.

Monday was sparrow day, and hundreds of the feathered little fighters fell victims to the hunter's aim. Some of the sportsmen, however made some ridiculous shots at times, sometimes had the bird been as big as a full sized German he would have gone scot free. Oh, well, our soldiers wont be armed with air guns.

Last Monday evening the Boy Scout Band made their debut upon the streets and was met with as cordial a reception as any debutant could wish. Under the leadership of instructor Baldwin they played a number of pieces in very fine style and won the applause of audiences. It is hoped they will favor us with more of the same kind of music frequently during the summer.

On Monday morning the editor arose with the lark and with a shovel turned over a part of the lot on which he lives, fully determined to raise vegetables enough to supply his family and a division or two of the allies armies. Our better half had planted radishes, beets, pickles, sauer kraut and other vegetables, but at night some body's old crow bait of a horse broke into the lot, rolled over the planted bed and trampled holes as big as a clothes basket. The old plug isn't worth what we paid for seeds but we intend wasting a half bushel of corn on him should he call again. He looks hungry.

Sun Bros. Shows.
Now on what is termed their twenty-fifth Jubilee Year and Tour, the Sun Brothers' World Progressive Shows are coming back to Meyersdale and will give two performances on Tuesday, May 29th.

It is hardly necessary to state here that this tented show is alright, for the reason that our citizens know, that it is all right and besides it is simon pure, all clean and respectable.

A POSTAL FREAK.

Representative Platt of Poughkeepsie, New York, says he has been working with the Postoffice Department for four years, and hasn't made a dent yet, with reference to carrying the mails between Poughkeepsie and Highlands. The postoffice are two miles apart, and are separated by the Hudson River, about half a mile in width. Transportation is kept up between the two points by means of a ferry service which makes a crossing every fifteen minutes, and there is also a bridge connecting the two shores. To get mail between these two points the Postoffice Department sends it up one side of the river to Albany, seventy-five miles; and then back down the other side of the river, another seventy-five miles. Mr. Platt publishes a newspaper, and he does not think the postal way is the best method for reaching his subscribers on the other side of the river, so he sends his papers across on the ferry, and puts them in the post office, and thereby succeeds in catching the morning mails, and the rural deliveries. He would lose a whole day by the postal method, but by using common sense instead, he gives his subscribers their papers while the news is fresh. The Government at one time carried the mail across the river, but decided to try the longer route, and now it is impossible to get it into the heads of the Department officers that their method is ridiculous.

Two miles off that regular 150 mile haul would leave a saving of 148 miles. Queer thing, isn't it? Nevertheless it is true, and it is happening several times a day.

CARRYING THE LOAD.

A strange spectacle has been presented of late with reference to individual responsibility in war matters. The newspapers that have cried the loudest for war now find the greatest number of reasons why advertising and postage rates should not bear any part in the increased burden. The most enthusiastic parents seem to think their children should be exempt from military service. Brewers, bakers, bankers, barbers and manufacturers of bags, baby carriages, band instruments, barrels, bathtubs and balloons, have all been sending up their wail. If there ever was an instance of universal national shirking, we have it right now. Nearly everyone appears to be deferring the war policy, but most of those who are vigorously proclaiming its righteousness are wishing the responsibility onto their neighbor.

J. T. Yoder JOHNSTOWN Sells the Champion Cream Saver

THE NEW DE LAVAL

BUTTER made from De Laval-separated cream has won first prize at every convention of the National Creamery Buttermakers' Association for the last twenty-five years, as well as in every other important contest, and you must admit that this fact can mean but one thing—

The De Laval user gets not only more cream, but better cream

De Laval-separated cream is better simply because the construction of the De Laval bowl makes close straining possible at a speed so low that the butter-fat globules are delivered from the cream spout unbroken.

If you make butter yourself, or if you ship to a creamery and want the highest rating for your cream, you cannot afford to use any separator but the De Laval.

Have you seen the NEW De Laval? The new self-centering bowl with its patented milk distributor is the greatest improvement that has been made in cream separator construction in the last thirty years and we'd like to have a chance to show you how it works. The NEW De Laval also contains many other important improvements that we know will interest you.

SATURDAY
BAKING day. A roaring hot fire! Goodness knows it's hot enough anywhere this weather, but that kitchen is almost unbearable. Why should it be? There's another way. All over this nation busy housewives are using
NEW PERFECTION OIL COOK STOVES
and they get the same big brown loaves, crisp cookies and flaky pies without heating up the whole house and wearing themselves all out.
A Perfection is always ready to fry, boil or roast. No waiting for the fire to draw up. No carrying wood, shoveling coal and toting ashes. The fireless cooker and the separate oven are two big features. Ask your dealer.
Perfection Oil Cook Stoves burn the most economical of fuels—kerosene. And the best kerosene is Atlantic Rayolight. Ask for it at the store that displays this sign: "Atlantic Rayolight Oil for Sale Here."

Driving It Home!
Let us drive home to you the fact that no washwoman can wash clothes in as sanitary a manner as that in which the work is done at our laundry. We use much more water, change the water many more times, use purer and more costly soap, and keep all the clothes in constant motion during the entire process.
It is simply a matter of having proper facilities.
