BELIEVES PROHIBITION CERTAIN.

"In my judgment," says Congressman John W. Langly of Kentucky, referring to the prohibition amendment to the food bill "there are two things just as certain as death and taxes, and they are national prohibition and universal woman suffrage in this country." He advises everybody to refrain from loss of temper and prepare for the inevitable. Although he believes the measure a very far-reaching one to be acted on so hastily, Mr. Langly was numbered among the 365 Representatives who aided in the final passage of the bill, but it is his earnest hope that it will be administered with conservatism, and a due regard for the rights and vital interests of the people whom it will effect.

JAIL FOR FOOD PIRATES.

Washington, July 10, (Special Correspondence). "I would jail the Ponce de Leon who follows no flag except the one on the windshield of his limousine and endeavors to inject perpetual youth into cheap eggs" exclaims Congressman Fred S. Purnell of Indiana. He regrets that he had not a hundred votes to give in support of the food control bill aimed at such speculators. There is much in the food bill that does not meet the approval of Mr. Purnell, as indeed, is the case with a great many Senators and Representatives, but he considers that the good overweighs the bad, and realizes that we must grant tremendous powers to the Administration to enable it to cope with the problems that are before us. Representative Purnell declares he is willing to swallow the bad in the measure if by so doing he can assist in lowering the burdensome high prices that are now upon the people.

GLENCOE GOSSIP.

After spending a month's vacation here with his grandmother, Archie Tressler left on Friday to resume his work in the Rubber Works at Akron, Ohio.

Misses Vesta and Annie Sharp spent a jolly 4th at the G. G. Delozier home.

Mrs. Frank Petry of Salisbury left on Monday after spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. G. G. Delozier.

Mrs. Henry Smith and children of Cumberland attended the picnic at Mt. Lebanon on the 4th.

Miss Mabel Bittner was tendered a surprise by her many friends on Friday evening.

Prof. and Mrs. Kretzman of Meyersdale motored to our town on Sunday p. m., where the former gave a fine address to our people in the Reformed church.

Miss Thelma Miller returned home Sunday after a prolonged visit with her grandparents at Johnsburg.

Mrs. C. A. Poorbaugh and children of Connellsville are spending a few days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Meyers.

Thomas Cummins, advertising manager for Swartz Bros., of Johnstown, and family, and Wm. E. Weaver and family of the same place, motored to the Alfred Broadwater home where they enjoyed the 4th.

In spite of the inclement weather the Children's Day Exercises were well attended and enjoyed.

Miss Pearl Schrock left Tuesday for a few weeks' visit with friends and relatives at Somerset.

Mr. Alfred Broadwater was a business caller at Somerset on Tuesday.

Mr. J. L. Snyder spent several days of last week visiting his new grandson at Stoystown.

To Keep From Losing Breath. Where respiration is rhythmic there is no loss of breath in walking fast, running uphill or going upstairs. The method of preventing breathlessness consists in maintaining the rhythm and the speed of respiration. When the breathing is rhythmic the breathing keeps pace with the step. The out-breathing must be twice the length of the in-breathing, and not more than eighteen or twenty complete breath circuits must be made per minute.

KEYSTONE PARAGRAPHS

On the Uniontown speedway Wednesday L. P. Fetterman of Pittsburgh, driving a Peerless car, won high honor and with it a purse of $1,450 and a handsome silver loving cup. Besides winning the automobile dealers' race of 112 1/2 miles, the Australian pursuit race and the championship of the Uniontown speedway, he shattered the local track's record, making an average of 91.5 miles in 112 1/2 miles. The record was formerly held by Louis Chevrolet, who made 90.4 miles an hour. Fetterman's time for the 112 1/2-mile grind was 1 hour 13 minutes and 40 seconds.

Ulysses Ferrenberg, aged twenty-four, was killed near Sharon, Pa.; John Dupley, twenty-one, an Erie railroad brakeman, was seriously hurt, and E. O. Kline was slightly injured when an Erie switch engine struck and demolished an oil truck driven by Kline. Ferrenberg was riding in the truck and, when he jumped, a piece of steel from the shattered machine pierced his body, causing instant death.

"Present coal prices may be expected to continue for some time, although there will no doubt be a gradual reduction to a more reasonable basis. It may never be as cheap again as it has been at times during the last four or five years," says James E. Roderick, state chief of mines, in his report on the state of the coal production and trade of Pennsylvania during 1916.

It is announced by the Pittsburgh Steel Products company of mammoth building projects, including new plants and a new town, involving expenditure of more than $3,000,000. Work has already begun and a large water works system is being put in with an immense pumping station on the river bank. On the mill site will be built the largest works of its kind in the world.

Big pays are being received by coal miners in the vicinity of Greensburg. Since coal went skyward miners have reaped a harvest along with the operators. A fair average now for a miner is $200 a month. Carlo Riolo, a miner employed at the Rainey works at Elm Grove, during the two weeks ending June 30, dug 160 wagons of solid coal, which netted him $119.70.

Two men were wounded, probably fatally, and another is believed to have been wounded, in a revolver battle between three foreigners in Bradock. Several hundred men, women and children, panic stricken, ran into their homes under a shower of bullets. More than thirty shots were exchanged in the battle. The wounded men are foreigners.

With both ankles broken, three gashes in his throat and an open knife in his pockets, the body of a man thought to be Joseph Collins of Scranton, was found in Stony creek, near the Stone bridge, Johnstown. The theory of the police, who are seeking to locate the man's relatives, is that the man committed suicide.

It was announced the wages of conductors and motormen of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company had been increased 2 cents an hour. The minimum rate under the increase is 30 cents an hour for new men and the maximum, 35 cents for men five years in service. More than 6,000 men are affected.

Culminating a controversy relative to the purchase of text books, Professor H. H. Balsh, superintendent of the Altoona school district, resigned at a special meeting of the school board. Professor Balsh declares that when the books recommended by him are not accepted his usefulness is at an end.

Adjutant General Stewart of Pennsylvania has informed the war department that the strength of the national guard organizations not in federal service on June 30 was 589 officers and 15,839 men. Included in the number are 677 reserves. There are four regiments in federal service.

Bill Hinchman, Pirate left fielder, is laid up in Philadelphia with a compound fracture of his left leg as the result of a daring dash for home plate in Friday's game. Hinchman's accident occurred when he slid for the home plate.

Hugo Bezdek is manager of the Pittsburgh baseball club. Hans Wagner has tossed aside the reins. The new pilot assumed his managerial duties Wednesday morning and directed the Pirates from the bench in both holiday games.

Three persons were killed and three were injured, two seriously, when their automobile was struck by a southbound Pittsburgh, Harmony Butler and New Castle railway street car at Criders crossing, near Evans City, Pa.

James Kuntz, Jr., aged sixty-eight, of Washington, Pa., considered one of Washington county's wealthiest men, died in Atlantic City following a year's illness. He had gone to the coast for his health a short time ago.

Mrs. Frances Coyle of North Bradock, received a cablegram announcing the death of her husband, Richard Coyle, a corporal in the British army, in France. Coyle was killed in action June 7.

Four killed and four injured was the Sunday automobile and motorcycle toll in Allegheny county, Pa. One of the injured probably will die.
