Driving It Home!

Let us drive home to you the fact that no washwo-man can wash clothes in as sanitary a manner as that in which the work is done at our laundry.
We use much more water, change the water many more times, use purer and more costly soap, and keep all the clothes in constant motion during the entire process.

It is simply a matter of having proper facilities.

MATERIALISTS.

No, the Socialists are not rainbow chasers.

The opponents of Socialism are rainbow chasers.

Frequently some opponent of Socialism, in one breath, charges us with being rank materialists, who are concerned only with base, physical, material things.

And, in the next breath, he charges us with being rank idealists and rainbow chasers who are attempting to establish an impossible heaven on earth.

Of course, these charges do not hang together very well.
But then, as our critics are in the wrong, we cannot expect them to be reasonable.

We Socialists are neither rankmaterialists nor rank idealists.

We have high ideals but we do not spend our time dreaming about them.

We recognize the fact that the reason men cannot approach their ideals, but are curbed and thwarted, is because their actions and aspiratons are limited and governed by an unfavorable environment.

We have our knife out for that environment.

When we lay that environment in its grave we propose to replace it with a better one.

Men are chiefly the product of their environment, and of heredity, which is chiefly composed of inherited environment.

The nature of the environment of men is determined chiefly by economic conditions.

Economic conditions are determined chiefly by the mode of producing and distributing the necessities and comforts of life.

To make a radical change in the environment, you have to change the mode of production and distributon.

The economic conditions now prevailing make the environment of the average man such that he is condemned to starve himself mentally, morally and spiritually, in order to escape physical starvation.
He is compelled to scramble furiously for money enough to provide a bare existence.

We know that under a rational system the world's industrial work can be done in half the time spent upon it under the present wasteful, unscientific, chaotic system.

We want men to have the time and the means and the opportunity to cultivae their higher natures.

But we know that this can only be accomplished by changing their environment. In other words, by abolishing capitalism and introducing Socialism.

Therefore, when we are charged with being rank materialists or rank idealists, I reply that the Socialist is the only materialist who is not ra nk and he is likewise the only idealist who is not rank. He is neither a materal groveler nor a rainbow chaser.

The man who makes material ends his ultimate object is the material groveler.

And the man who spends his life, as some opponents of Socialism do, in trying to get men to be decent under the present impossible conditons, instead of spending his life in abolishing those conditions and replacing them with conditions wherein men can be decent, is the rainbow chaser.

The Socialist is practical.

famous; the man's cigarette for the men who are working over here, and fighting over there.

The reason? Because it's made of Burley pipe tobacco and because—
