Instantly it occurred to us that there are many more readers in nearby towns who desire to patronize Commercial advertisers but never think about asking an advertiser to forward articles which they desire to them by parcel post. Our advertisers can mail you any article up to 70 pounds in weight and it will be delivered right to your door if your town has free delivery carrier service. The pure Lavoptik advertised in The Commercial is sold by Mr. Collins at 50 cents per bottle—no price being stated in the ad.
