Driving It Home!

Let us drive home to you the fact that no washwoman can wash clothes in as sanitary a manner as that in which the work is done at our laundry. We use much more water, change the water many more times, use purer and more costly soap, and keep all the clothes in constant motion during the entire process.

It is simply a matter of having proper facilities.

WHEATLESS DIET NOT INJURIOUS

Howard Heinz, State Food Administrator, So Assures People of Pennsylvania.

Wheat can be cut out entirely from the diet without injury to health. This assurance is given to the people of Pennsylvania by Howard Heinz, Federal Food Administrator for the state. He said:

"I make this assertion without reservation, on the authority of the most eminent scientists in America, who have investigated the question most thoroughly. They conducted their investigation recently at the request of Herbert Hoover, U. S. Food Administrator. The Board of Inquiry was composed of such men as Dr. R. H. Chittenden, Professor of Physiological Chemistry, Dean of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale; Dr. Graham Lusk, Professor of Physiology at Cornell; Dr. E. V. McCollum, Professor of Biochemistry at Johns Hopkins; C. L. Alsborg, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. F. C. Langworthy, Chief of the Home Economics Division, State Extension Service, Department of Agriculture; Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, Professor of Physiological Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania. The other members of the board are men of equal prominence in scientific achievement. No group of higher physical authority could be assembled in America. To them was put this question: 'To what extent can wheat to which we are now accustomed in our diet be reduced without injury to the health of the individuals of the nation?' Their answer was: 'It is the scientific opinion of the committee that in a mixed diet wheat may be entirely replaced, without harm, by other available cereals, namely, rice, barley, corn and oats.'"

"It is only because of the great national and international emergency which exists that the Food Administration makes use of this deliberate judgment of the physiological experts called in for advice. It is recognized that because of economic and commercial reasons not all of the people of the country can go without bread based on wheat, but it is certain that a great many people can do so easily, and it is my belief that most of the people in this country who can dispense entirely with wheat from now until the next harvest ought to do so, for the sake of maintaining the wheat bread supply for the armies and civilians of our fighting associates in Europe, as well as for our own soldiers in France."

FOOD LICENSES REQUIRED

All Wholesalers and Jobbers Come Under the Federal Act.

All wholesalers, jobbers, brokers or commission dealers in food supplies must take out a license to do business under the food regulations whether their annual business in the gross amounts to one hundred thousand dollars or not. Dealers who are strictly retailers are exempt from the necessity of a license if their gross annual business is less than one hundred thousand dollars. Dealers doing a combination wholesale or jobbing and retailing business no matter how small must take out a license. Any person who makes any sales to retail dealers, hotels, restaurants or public bakers is a wholesaler or jobber and is required to take out a license.

The foregoing points with reference to the interpretation of the Federal Food Control Act were brought out by Howard Heinz, Federal Food Administrator for Pennsylvania. Mr. Heinz desires to make it clear that the rule requiring licenses applies to all wholesalers and jobbers regardless of the volume of business they transact.

MOVEMENT TO SAVE THRESHING WASTE

Assistance to Farmers in Harvest Time Planned by the Government.

A project to mobilize America's threshermen to save millions of pounds of wheat, now lost by inefficient threshing practices, is announced by Howard Heinz, U. S. Food Administrator for Pennsylvania.

To do this, a special Grain Threshing Division has been created as a part of the Food Administration Grain Corporation in Washington, with Captain Kenneth D. Hequeembourg, U. S. R., at its head. Captain Hequeembourg is actively engaged in wheat production in Oklahoma, and for some years has had first-hand experience in threshing operations. The Grain Threshing Division will have national headquarters at the office of the U. S. Food Administration, Grain Corporation, 42 Broadway, New York City.

It is estimated that from one to ten per cent of the wheat crop is lost to the country by hurried and careless operation and inefficiency of threshing machines. In some instances, however, losses are materially greater than in others. Waste in threshing depends largely upon the condition of the machine as it enters the harvest field and the care with which it is operated.

It is estimated that a total of three and one-quarter bushels in every hundred threshed may be saved.

Threshermen's assistants will be located in each state to co-operate with threshermen requiring expert help. The threshermen's assistants will be called upon by County Threshing Committees whenever needed. Their duty will be to advise in overhauling the machines, to assist in acquiring expert labor, to supervise repair jobs when the owner so desires and the time permits. The County Threshing Committees will be composed of the County Food Administrator, the County Agricultural Agent, and a retired thresherman representing the state or local Council of the National Defense.

CLEAN YOUR FARM TOOLS

Necessity Exists Now For Strictest Conservation of Machinery.

M. T. Phillips, one of the farmers' representatives in the U. S. Food Administration for Pennsylvania, suggests to farmers of the state the advisability of a special care this year in the matter of farm machinery in view of the seriousness of the manufacturing situation and the scarcity of materials. Mr. Phillips said:

"The present high cost of all farm machinery and repairs of all kinds makes it most essential that every care should be exercised in keeping in order all machinery, tools, etc., used on the farms.

"It takes but little time to rub off the dirt and rub some oil on the harness, at least a few times during the year. This will preserve the leather that is so expensive and necessary just now.

"Clean up the machinery and tools and see that they are repaired when put away, and if kept under cover when not in use, they will be ready to go to work when next needed.

"We farmers are justly criticized for the extravagant waste caused by the unnecessary exposure and lack of care of our machinery.

"This is surely a very necessary way to conserve in these serious times."

There's not a pair of legs so thin,
There's not a head so thick,
There's not a hand so weak and white,
Nor yet a heart so sick,
But it can find some needful job that's crying to be done,
For the Glory of the Garden glorifieth every one.—Rudyard Kipling.

THE HUN

So shriveled in soul is the infamous Hun
Who fiendishly gloats o'er humanities blood,
And perpetrates crimes that are ghastly and foul,
Too low for the most savage beasts to commit.

The stricken and helpless he butchers alive
With devilish torture in a thousand ways,
He mutilates, murders, or burns them to death.
The lust of the beast and the brute prevails.

The children, the aged, and the wounded must die,
The angels of mercy must yield to their lust
To die or be maimed in the German made Hell,
And yet must the murder and carnage go on.

The bestial savage and murderous knave
Has sunken so far from humanities pale
Beneath the mad fury of ravaging beasts,
We brand him for ever—THE MURDEROUS HUN.

The world has grown sick at the work of the fiend
And gathers its strength to avenge the foul crime,
The infamous brute from Justice must get
The penalty full for his dastardly deeds.

The odium covers this foe of mankind,
The future will bury him deep in contempt,
And Hell in its fury is waiting some where
To gulp down the butchering fiend of the world.

—Howard Phillips.
