MISSIONARIES TO CHINA

KILLED
By Chinese Bandits
LAST WEEK

By telegraphic reports we learn of the death of three missionaries of the Passionist Mission of the Catholic Church, at Shenki, Hunan, China.

The defeated Wu Han armies, in retreat, seem to have withdrawn, in part at least, by way of the Yuen River into Western Hunan and Kweichow. Defeated and largely disorganized, there can be no doubt that these "Red" troops devastated and looted and ravished as they went. From time to time some of these soldiers would join bandit groups, and from time to time bandit groups would join the retreating army. Occasionally there would be armed conflict.

Chen Yu Mon the patriotic military genius in charge at Shenki would not permit the passing ruffians to devastate the city without protest. Yet he would have a difficult time of it, for as these disorganized Reds approached from the East, local bandits would converge in the vicinity from all directions, hoping by the aid of the Reds to overpower Chen and gain control of Hsiang Si as the district is called.

With the town in imminent danger of being destroyed—together with much loss of life and property, the citizens would naturally turn to the Foreign Missionaries for aid. What the missionaries would be expected to do would be to go in person to the leaders of the retreating soldiers, and to the leaders of the bandits, to act as middle men in staying off an attack on the city.

The bandits might listen to reason, but the disgruntled, retreating Reds whose ire had long been directed against foreigners would hardly appreciate the truce commission of Americans. In such a case the three missionaries—Fathers Godfrey, Clement and Walter—as we spoke of them—doubtless rather than being protected from fire, became the special target of the invaders.

In 1924 at Shenchow, Rev. G. R. Snyder and I undertook just such a commission of truce, and we very nearly met the fate these three missionaries have met. Both of us had our left arms penetrated by lead.

Doubtless the three priests were doing their bit in a peaceful way to try to save the lives of their Chinese constituency.

Sincerely,
KARL H. BECK.

LEGION AUXILIARY HOLD BANQUET IN HONOR OF OFFICIALS

The Somerset American Legion Auxiliary was greatly honored Tuesday night by a visit to the Unit by the State President, Mrs. F. B. Emery, of Williamsport and the following department officers: Mrs. Walter Lotz, of Tyrone, Western Director; Mrs. Charles W. Dressler, of Swissvale, Secretary-Treasurer 1922-1928; Mrs. Milton R. Swank, of Johnstown, Chairman of the Membership Committee, and Mrs. J. H. Thompson, of Beaver Falls, Past Department President.

The Somerset women held a banquet in honor of the State officials at the Methodist Episcopal Church and there were 110 Auxiliary members in attendance. Auxiliaries from Berlin, Confluence, Meyersdale, Central City and Salisbury were represented at the banquet.

Mrs. J. W. Stouffer, President of the Somerset Unit, opened the program at the banquet with a short talk, after which Mrs. W. E. Griffith, Past President, presided as toastmaster. All the department officers responded with brief speeches. Mrs. Emery made the principal address of the evening.

Two vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Herbert Jones, and Miss Dora Martin. A vocal duet was given by Miss Scott-Brashear and Mrs. J. Guy Gagny. David Brashear, five-year-old son of Mrs. E. Scott Brashear, rendered three pleasing vocal numbers. Walter Jones, Jr., six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, played several drum solos.

UNITED CHURCHMEN'S LEAGUE TO BE FORMED BY REFORMED CHURCH

A plan for a permanent men's organization in the Reformed Church in the U. S., which will muster its laymen into a more active service for the Church, is to be presented to the General Synod of the denomination at its triennial meeting in Indianapolis in May.

Elder Wm. W. Anspach, Milton, Pa., a member of the Executive Committee of General Synod, is the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and was presiding officer of the recent Reformed Churchmen's Congress.

It is proposed that the organization shall be known as "The United Churchmen's League." Its purpose will be to develop co-operative effort among the men of the Church for the work of the Church, especially in evangelism, stewardship and missions. The aim is to have in each congregation a local unit of the League which shall maintain organic connection with the denominational organization.

The congregational unit under the proposed plan will be free to organize and conduct its work as local conditions will warrant, but its purpose will at least embrace the three objectives of the League.

The first concerted movement to enlist the men of the Reformed Church in the work of the Church was made twenty-one years ago through the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The General Synod is constituted of an equal number of ministers and laymen (elders), and at every meeting of the District Synod and the Classes, elders are members. Beyond this the average layman has not been actively identified with the work of the Church. The present plan grows out of the Reformed Churchmen's Congress, attended by more than 500 men, which was held last November in the historic Salem Reformed Church, Harrisburg, Pa.
