HIT OF THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

The Chief Magistrate of the Nation Gives Notice to the World That the United States Will Preserve All Our Rights in China-Maintenance of the Gold Standard and the Protective Tariff-Senators Hanna, Fairbanks and Lodge, Postmaster General Smith and Samuel Parker, of Hawaii, Also Deliver Addresses.

Canton, O., July 13.—Under an azure sky, with the sunlight glinting through the leafy trees, with the banner of the republic draped above him, William McKinley was yesterday officially no-tified of his second nomination by the Republican party for the highest office in the civilized yorld. Grouped about him were leading men of his party, while surrounding his Canton home were the friends among whom he has lived for more than 30 years, together with vast crowds from the surrounding towns of his native state. The scene was inspiring as, to the eloquent words of Senator Lodge, the president reor Senator Lodge, the president responded in a ringing speech. There was enthusiasm enough and to spare, and to many of the pointed utterances of both Senator Lodge and the president spare. dent there was hearty and cordial ap-

Important features of the speech of notification by Senator Lodge and the response by President McKinley were the references to the Chinese situation. This caused a great deal of discussion during the conferences following the formal speechmaking, and the impression created was that these utterances were a notification to the world that the United States intended to preserve all its rights in China. The impressive portions of the president's speech were his references to the maintenance of the gold standard and the financial public faith, the preservation of a protective tariff, the enlargement of our market and especially the catchy phrase, "prosperity at home and pres-

When he asked, "Shall we go back to the tariff of four years ago?" there were shouts of "No!" "No!" from every part of the audience. A prolonged cheer greeted his words relative longed cheer greeted his words relative to the maintenance of our authority in the Philippines. There was a most impressive shout when he declared that there should be continued legislative control over the territory possessed by the United States and another outburs. when he said such authority would be coupled with "liberty and humanity." His declaration that the United States had "reclaimed 10,000,000 human beings from imperialism" was a decided hit, and there were many requests for him to repeat the sentence. This turn of the word used so much by the opposi-tion was considered one of the adroit features of the speech.

While the speech of the president closed the formal notification, there had not been oratory enough for the gathering, and other speakers were called for. Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, Senator Hanna, Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, Col. Samuel Parker, of Hawaii, and Senator Lodge were heard, the last named speaking twice. Senator Fairbanks evidently intended to make the money question the domina campaign, denying that with 16 to 1 in their platform the Democrats could make "imperialism" the leading issue. In his second speech Senator Lodge resented the criticism of President Mc-Kinley by his opponents, and pointed out the difficulty Bryan would have in selecting a cabinet from the men prominent in the conventions at Kansas City and Sioux Falls.

ceptance was as follows: The President's Acceptance.

Senator Lodge and Gentiemen of the Notification Committee: The message which you bring to me is one of signal honor. It is also a summons to duty. A particular of the president by a great party which in 32 years out of 40 has been triumphant at national elections, is a distinction which I gratefully cherish. To receive unanimous renomination by the same party is an expression of regard and a piedge of continued confidence for which it is difficult to make adequate acknowledgment.

If anything exceeds the honor of office of president of the United States it is the responsibility which attaches to it. Having been invested with both, I do not under appraise either. Anyone who has borne the anxieties and burdens of the presidential office, especially in time of national trial, cannot contemplate assuming it a second time without profoundly realizing the severe reactions and the solemn obligations which it imposes, and this feeling is accentuated by the momentous problems which now press for settlement. If my countrymen shall sentent in the president of the convention at the solemn obligations which it imposes, and this feeling is accentuated by the momentous problems which now press for settlement. If my countrymen shall confirm the action of the convention at our national election in November I shall, craving divine guidance, undertake the exalted trust, to administer it for the interest and honor of the country and the well being of the new peoples who have become the objects of our care. The declaration of principles adopted by the convention has my hearty approval. At some future date I will consider its subjects in detail and will by letter communicate to your chairman a more formal acceptance of the nomination.

On a like occasion four years ago I said: "The party that supplied by legislation the vast revenues for the conduct of our greatest war, that promptly restored the credit of the country at its close, that from its abundant revenues paid off a large share of the debt incurred by this war, and that resumed species "The dollar paid to the farmer, the

The sudden and terrible crisis in China calls for the gravest consideration, and you will not expect from me now any further expression than to say that my best efforts shall be given to the immediate purpose of protecting the lives of our citizens who are in peril, with the ultimate object of the peace and welfare of China, the safeguarding of all our treaty rights and the maintenance of those principles of impartial intercourse to which the civilized world is pledged. I cannot conclude without congratulating my countrymen upon the strong national sentiment which finds expression in every part of our common country and the increased respect with which the American name is greeted throughout the world. We have been moving in untried paths, but our steps have been guided by honor and duty. There will be no turning aside, no wavering, no retreat. No blow has been struck except for liberty and humanity Sir Frederick Mitchell Hodgson, governor of the colony, who recently arrived here after being besieged at Kumassi by rebellious tribesmen, and who bears signs of the hardships and privations to which he has been subjected, in the course of an interview said he considered his escape the most marvelous on record. informs the press that a telegram iden-tical with the one handed to Secretary Hay at Washington by Minister Wu Ting Fang has been delivered to it by the Chinese minister here, which was sent by Sheng, the administrator of telegraphs at Shanghai. The foreign office points out, however, that the date (July 9) mentioned in the telegram probably applies to the Chinese calendar, and is equivalent to July 5, according to the Gregorian reckoning.

There is little further news from China this morning. The attack upon the native city of Tien Tsin was fol-lowed up so swiftly by the allies on the morning of July 14 that the Chinese never had time to reorganize, and, once their lines were broken, their retreat rapidly became a rout. The allies took possession of the native city on the best of good terms with them.' and its defenses. The total losses of the allies in the engagements of Thursday, Friday and Saturday were about 800 killed or wounded. The casualties were greatest among the Russians and

Japanese. The news of the Manchuria disturbances is not regarded as justifying the serious view attributed by The Daily Mail's advices. Amur is boundary territory between eastern Siberia and Manchuria. The district has been the scene of local disturbances for a long time, owing to the provocative conduct o ithe Cossacks toward the 25,000 Chinese employed in the construction of the Russo-Manchuria railway.

Several serious collisions have oc-curred between the Cossacks and the and sixteen men were killed. The extension of the Boxer movement to Manchuria has resulted in a great destruction of the railway, compelling the Russians to withdraw their officials. The Chinese tried to stop the Russian steamer Michael, carrying ammunition, and the steamer Selenga, with the Russian frontier commission on board, from passing up the Amur at Aigun. They fired on the steamers, wounding an officer and a few men, but the steamers reached Blagoveschensk. The local Chinese commander at Aigun seems to have sent the Russians a sort of ultimatum to quit Manchuria.

The Chinese, according to The Daily Mail's St. Petersburg correspondent, have thrown up fortifications and placed 40 guns at a point 12 miles from Aigun to dispute the progress of the Russians. The official Russian advices leave the inference that Blagoveschensk is still in Russian hands, the
