The Thirteenth Annual Bi-county Con-sending of a fair sized delegation from this city. There being five local societies, it is expected that each society will will go by train while others will drive, orate and should prove interesting.

Death of Mrs. Ellis Morgan.

Mary Esther Morgan, beloved wife of E. H. Morgan, expired at her late home on Honeycomb and Front streets, from consumption at 5:30 Tuesday night. The deceased has been ailing for a year back, but it was not until two weeks ago that she was compelled to take to her bed.

Mrs. Morgan was a woman, much loved by all who had the privilege of her acquaintance. She was a true christian and was a great worker in the church in which she was affiliated. In her home she was a loving wife and an ideal mother, and the loss sustained by the family, will be well nigh irreparable.

The deceased was 36 years, 10 months and 2 days of age. The funeral will be held from the family residence, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. A. B.
Bower officiating. Interment will be made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Undertaker George W. Roat will have charge of the funeral.

The deceased is survived by a husband, three sons, Frank, Lafayette and Edwin C., and three daughters, Mina, Gussie and Susan H.

Send James C. Foster to the Assembly. He is an able man and one that will represent the interests of his constituents.

Wm. Black Weds Miss Brockbill.

A very quiet wedding took place last evening at the parsonage of Shiloh Reformed church, Bloom street, when Miss Anna S., daughter of ex-Sheriff and Mrs.
Michael Brockbill, and William Black were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George E.
Limbert at 8:20 o'clock. After a few friends had extended congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Black immediately took possession of their handsome new home on Vine street.

The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of East Danville and she was the recipient of numerous presents as tokens of the respect in which she is held by her many friends. The groom is the well known assistant agent at the D. & L. W. station. He is a member of the School Board and is one of the rising young politicians of the Fourth Ward.
He is a charter member of the Penn Social club and is at present filling the position of Secretary of the Moneta club.

Accident at the Tubing Works.

Joseph Mayan and Robert Williams, Jr., employes at the Howe and Paik Structural Tubing works, were the victims of a peculiar accident yesterday about noon.

An extra large bar was being pushed through the rolls when the "rider," a device used to protect the roll, suddenly broke, flying through the mill in two pieces. One of the pieces struck Mayan, fracturing the left arm and severely bruising him about the body. The smaller piece struck a pair of tongs in the hands of Williams throwing them against his head so violently as to render him unconscious. Outside of a few bruises he was unhurt.

and a good time is expected. During making will be a feature of the closing Leroy, will delight a large audience at the opera house tonight.

RESIGNATION OF
RUSH YERRICK

He Resigns His Position After Nearly a Half Century of Service.

After 47 years of continuous service, Rush Yerrick, the boss roller in the 16 inch mill at the Reading Iron works, has tendered his resignation to take effect on November 1st.

The Reading company are loath to part with his services as he is regarded as a skilled workman in his line, and a man to be depended on in the conscientious performance of his duty.

Mr. Yerrick left school at the age of 16 to go in the mill, which was then under the Allen management, and consisted only of what is known as the old puddle mill and the large and small rail mills. These departments are now the 20-inch and the 16-inch mills. His first employment consisted of "dragging out" in the puddle mill, filling the position of catcher on the puddle rolls. From this work he went to the puddle furnaces, first as a helper and after awhile taking charge of a furnace. His next position was that of a "rougher" on the large rail rolls. The mill at this time was a large factory in the manufacture of iron rails, this city being known as one of the greatest iron centres in the country.

There were no railroads running into this city at the time and the product was shipped entirely by boat.

At this period the company received an order from the Denver and Rio Grande railway for 8000 tons of small rails, and Mr. Yerrick was placed in charge of the 16-inch train as roller to turn out the work. He was retained in the small rail department and has served there ever since. He has been the boss roller for nearly 25 years, and when the mill was in operation has lost but little time except when ill.

Mr. Yerrick has been the victim of several bad accidents the worst of which was the boiler explosion of a few years ago.

The mill changed hands four times during his service, going from the Allen management into the hands of Grove Brothers, Messrs. Waterman and Beaver then took hold, the firm changing its name later on to the Montour Iron and Steel Company. It was sold several years ago to the Reading Iron Company who have since retained it.

The employes speak of Mr. Yerrick in the highest terms and are sorry to see him go, but like the company, they think he has well earned the rest and ease of a retired life. He retires in good physical condition and is full of anecdote in regard to the history of the plant.

Robbery in South Danville.

The home of Wallace Hoover in South Danville was entered by burglars Monday night. The thieves gained an entrance through the kitchen windows and ransacked the entire house. Bureau drawers and closets were opened and no places neglected where valuables might have been found. The full extent of the loss cannot be ascertained as Mr. and Mrs. Hoover are on a trip through the West.

The house has been in charge of Mrs.
Eliza Bird during the absence of the family. So far as she knows the only things missing are several sheets, a can of lard, some groceries and a clothes-basket. The silver ware has not been found and it is thought that perhaps it was put away along with other valuables prior to the departure of Mr. and Mrs.
Hoover.

A clothes basket is not an article worth stealing but the general opinion in South Danville seems to be that it was well filled before the miscreants left the premises.

The noiseless and easy access to the Hoover residence leads to the belief that the burglars were very familiar with the building and surroundings.

Sheriff David Ruckel sounds well.
Elect him and you will have a man in office that is worthy of the honor.

Former Pastor Occupied Pulpit.

Rev. J. W. Steinmetz, D. D., of Reading, occupied the pulpit of Shiloh Reformed church Sunday, preaching two most earnest and practical sermons. He was greeted by large congregations of his old parishioners and friends, who not only greatly enjoyed the pleasure of again listening to him, but also to grasp his hand. Dr. Steinmetz was a former resident of this city, having served the Reformed church as its pastor.

When he first took charge of the congregation, thirty eight years ago it was a weak mission of the Reformed church, without a church edifice. Within three years after his assuming the pastorate, it had become self-supporting, and the present church building was finished, although it has since been remodelled.

After a successful pastorate of fourteen years he removed to Reading, where he has since resided.

A Serenade.

About two dozen members of the Penn Social club gently reminded William Black last evening that he had been married and that they knew it, in spite of that gentleman's attempt at secrecy.
Everything out of which an exasperat-ing noise could be squeezed was brought into play and the fire works were seen all over the town. The boys were agreeably entertained for about half an hour by Mr. and Mrs. Black in their new home on Vine street.

FIRST SESSION
OF NIGHT SCHOOL

Attracts a Big Crowd—Seating Capacity Inadequate for the Attendance.

The first session of the night school Monday night created much interest and long before the hour set for the opening of the Third ward school, a crowd of boys and girls congregated about the front door waiting eagerly to gain admittance into the building. At 7:30 the doors were thrown open and there was a rush made for the room and Principal Ream had great difficulty in keeping order.
It was not long before every seat in the room was filled and thirteen pupils were compelled to remain standing.

It was expected that fully 50 pupils would take advantage of the evening session but the Board of Education did not figure on the big rush that attended last evening. Seventy-two seats had been placed in the room and they were soon filled. After quiet was restored a careful count showed 85 persons present.

The children lucky enough to get in the room represented all grades of our schools running from the third grade to the high school. Children also came there utterly unprepared to attend the session.

It is said that the big attendance at the session Monday night was due to the fact that the holding of the night school was an innovation and that as soon as the novelty wears off and those in attendance become aware that they will have to apply themselves to their studies, the attendance may not be so large.

Nothing was done in the way of teaching and the entire evening was devoted to grading.

Montour county will have some very important interests before the legislature this winter and it is very necessary to have an experienced representative at Harrisburg to care for these interests, one who can be a real help to the county. Hon. Jas. Foster has the experience and the ability to render excellent service and he should be elected by a good majority.

Washington Hose Horse.

Friday afternoon an exhibition was given by the members of Washington Hose company of the running qualities of their new horse. The affair occurred on Market street, between Mill and Pine streets and was witnessed by a good sized crowd of citizens.

The horse is yet green as to the duties involved upon him in the fire department but he responded to the words of the driver in a manner that demonstrated his good qualities as a fire horse, and one that would soon learn the tricks of the business. His running, when it is taken into consideration that he was pulling a brand new horse wagon loaded down with fire boys, was unusually good and although unsteady and inclined to swerve while in motion, the animal with a little practice should round into form.

The introduction of this valuable addition to our department is certainly an innovation and the members of the Washington Hose company ought to feel proud of their outfit.

With good care and a little perseverance the Washington horse will attain those qualities that make the horses of the city departments not only a part of the department but a valuable acquisition to the city.

John G. Brown of Danville, who is running for Register and Recorder, is worthy of the support of all voters regardless of party affiliations.

Good Lecture Monday Evening.

The lecture given by Miss Stevenson, Principal of the Ashville Industrial School for Girls, at Ashville, N. C., in the Sunday school room of the Mahoning Presbyterian church Monday night, was attended by a big crowd there being nearly 300 people present.

Miss Stevenson was secured by the Woman's Missionary Society of the church to give a lecture on the school and the people of that section of North Carolina who are known to the world as the mountain white people. She explained in every detail the history of this class of people in whose domain she holds a position as chief instructor in the Industrial school and alluded to taken up their abode between the Tennessee and North Carolina mountains.

Miss Stevenson illustrated a portion of her lecture after she had finished speaking by photographs of the interior and exterior of the Ashville school and the inmates and also of the country.

garding games should be sent to W. C.
