This timid animal, the type of meekness and purity, has no doubt had much to do with the moral elevation of men in all ages. Abel was a keeper of sheep and brought to the altar of the Lord the firstlings of his flock, and the fat thereof and lambs were the most at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the said day. the following described real estate, viz.

All that certain messuage, tenement and town lot of land situate in the Borough of Danville, County of Montour and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Fronting on Front street on the South, by lot of Jacob Ashton on the South, by lot of Jacob Ashton on the West, an alley on the North and Nassau street on the East, being Fifty feet more or less in front on Front street and extending back One Hundred and Fifty feet to Alley, being lot Number Fourteen (14) in Snyder's Addition to Danville. The improvements on the premises are a both wild and domesticated, the differentiation in domestication being in the direction of mutton growing and wool growing, many of the best mutton breeds being also producers of heavy fleeces of useful if not fine wools, for there are many purposes for which the finest grades of wool are not suited. Sheep have always and in every civilized country been found fairly profitable. But it is as a farm animal rather than a ranch animal that they develop their finest traits, for thus kept they can be given the careful treatment that their nature demands.
