A CANNING FACTORY.

Danville, it seems, is likely to have new industry in the form of a canning factory. Robert S. Harland, of Clark Summit, the promoter, who circulated yesterday, states that he has met with a great deal of encouragement and considers the success of the enterprise as-

His plan is to organize a stock com pany capitalized at $12,000, a sum sufficient to build and equip the factory. The company is to be organized on co-operative basis, and it is this feature which appeals to the owners of the large river bottom farms, who every year find themselves with an overplus of garden truck on hand, which has the effect of glutting the local markets and bearing down prices of truck to a point which admits of little profit. Under the plan proposed by Mr. Harland those holding stock in the canning factory will have an opportunity not only of disposing of their produce at a reasonable figure, but also of sharing in the profits of the concern, thereby realizing from a double source.

The factory will employ one hundred to one hundred and fifty hands and wil be in operation from six to eight months in the year. The site most likely to be selected will be South Danville or Riverside, most probably the former, owing to its proximity to the railway station. Edward Bogert, D..... Among the products canned will be corn, tomatoes, &c., besides fruits of all sorts.

It is strange that the establishment of a canning factory has never been agitated here before. No more suitable locality is to be found anywhere. The sum of money, too, required is a modest one and can easily be raised. The wealthier farmers, especially those on the opposite side of the river, are quite enthusiastic over the enterprise and it is not likely that they will permit it to fall through.

Buried With Military Honors.

Major Frank Lewis, whose death of curred Sunday last, was buried in Mt. Vernon cemetery, yesterday afternoon. with full military honors. The funeral was quite largely attended, the services being held at St. Peter's M. E. church at one o'clock.

A fair representation of Goodrich Post, No. 22, G. A. R., accompanied by the Washington Drum Corps, was present at the funeral. The pall bearers, selected from among the members of the Post, were as follows: John Hunt, Samuel Morrall, Joseph L. Shannon, William H. Treas, Robert Morris and Ellis Best.

The presence of the military lent an added interest and impressiveness to the ard, Nellie Milliken, Jennie Foulk, Sylvia funeral and was a mark of respect most highly appreciated by the family of the dead veteran. On the way to the church from the late residence of the deceased the Drum Corps beat a dirge. A firing squad, chosen from among the members of Company, F. 12th regiment, N. G. P., under the command of Corporal Herbert Dreifuss, participated in the ceremony at the cemetery, firing the customary three volleys over the grave.

The sermon was preached by Rev. F. feeling discourse.

Alfred Forred Badly Injured. Alfred Forred, a former resident of this place, along with several other work men, was badly injured by a premature explosion of dynamite at Cameron colliery, Shamokin, Thursday afternoon. Forred received the full force of the explosion about the face and breast and was shockingly bruised. His right hand was so badly mangled as to necessitate amputation of three fingers. He is receiving treatment at the Miners' Hospital, at Fountain Springs.

Interest in Mrs. Stowe's masterpiece is perennial. "Men may come and men may go"-but, like Tennyson's brook, "Uncle Toin's Cabin" bids fair to "go on forever." A dramatic version of the story will be presented at the opera house to-morrow by Al. W. Martin's mammoth organization. All the characters in the drama are impersonated by white actors, but in the plantation and levee scenes a score of colored ladies and dancing and other plantation pastime. The scenic accessories are gorgeous of the costuming. An immense street parade will start from the theatre at 11:30 to-morrow morning.
