for invading purposes, needs careful navigation even by steamers of moderate draft. When torpedoes are planted. It is simply impregnable, says a writer in Collier's Weekly. When the war with China broke out, a small steamer was selected to pilot merchant steamers up and down the bay. I remember perfectly the unexpected curves made by this steamer, showing plainly the countless dangers besetting a hostile fleet regardless of the care that may be used in feeling its way. No invading army could possibly land, and even if it succeeded in doing so the rice-fields, readily submerged as they are, would aid materially in thwarting the advance and in isolating the enemy. A successful invasion of Japan is simply impossible.

Translators' Stumbling Blocks.

Some amusing instances of translators' misunderstandings are mentioned by the London Daily News. An Italian paper not long ago turned Mr. Rudyard Kipling's "Absentminded Beggar" into a "Distracted Mendicant. A footnote to the same version explained "son of a Lambeth publican" as a reference to Mr. Kruger! The translator who explains is often lost.

Another Italian editor who franslated a passage from an English paper about a man who had killed his wife with a poker added an ingenuous footnote to say, "We do not know with certainty whether this thing 'pokero' be a domestic or surgical instrument."

In the French version of one of Scott's novels a Welsh rabbit has to be dealt with. The translator, never having met with that article of food, naturally turned it into "un lapin de Galles." Unfortunately he had some doubt whether his countrymen would understand this and added a lengthy footnote describing how the peculiarly delicious flavor of the rabbits of Wales created a large demand for them in Scotland, whither they were exported in bulk that would compare with the trade of Ostend.

The Way to Iron Shirts - A Few Points on Pins - Pretty Fancy Stocks-Chicago Women Who Swim, Beautiful Lady Henry Bentick.

Iowa club women have chosen Mrs. Alice A. C. Bailey of Des Moines as their chief. This lively bit of elecioneering occurred at the biennial convention of the Iowa Federation of Wonen's Clubs at Council Bluffs, where, hough opposed by most of the delegates from her own city, she won with a flattering majority of votes. The opposition was not personal, however, out was due to the fact that Mrs. Baiey is the president elect of the big romotion to the highest position in the state would interfere, so said the with her official duties at home. Now that Mrs. Bailey has the coveted political plum it is expected that she will resign as president of the Des Moines Woman's club.

Rub the iron over the white wax, also in the salt tray, to insure a perfectly smooth surface. If the starch is right-properly made and applied-it will not stick to the face. The slack portion of the cord is rolled around two perpendicular rods, and then by simply moving the crank the rope can be tightened to any extent desired. As soon as the crank begins to work the rope begins to wind itself around the rods, and when it is sufficiently tightened the free end can be securely fastened by means of a prop.
