brass handles and hinges on the other two articles bring them into relationship with it.

Following the same rule of harmony, The Designer, the source of the illustrations, advises as follows: Whatever colors appear in the fit-ments or decorations of the dresser should be repeated in those of the washstand. If the cover, pincushion, etc., of the former are pink and white, for instance the toilet set should be of pink and white china, and if pretty little silver articles are laid out on the dresser top the metal should appear in the mountings of some of the boxes, brushes, etc., on the washstand.

One of the prettiest and newest ideas is to have the toilet set and the dresser Hall several times, those changes de is to have the toilet set and the dresser fitments of cut glass, even the wash pitcher, which is in large size, and the pitcher, which is in large size, and the bowl or basin being of the transparent substance, those who are using the sets declaring they are no more likely to break than fine china. Very little cutting is used on the pitcher and basin, both appearing as if made from clear ice, but the smaller pieces of the set are more elaborately decorated, the very strong.
