TOOK A DOSE OF LAUDANUM

Joseph Eck's Rash Act Saturday Afternoon. Tells a Sad Story.

The second Ward, this city, Saturday last came very nearly having a case of suicide. Joseph Eck, an industrious and hard working man, over come by ill health, lost heart under his burden and decided to end his troubles by taking a dose of laudanum.

It was shortly after 3 o'clock when Dr. P. C. Newbaker in response to a call arrived at the Eck home, Railroad and East Market streets, and found the dead body of the family in a deep stupor, the general symptoms being those of opium poisoning. A powerful emetic was administered, which had the desired effect. Afterward the patient was walked about briskly for half an hour or more, so that in time he came around all right.

During Tuesday evening a reporter of THE AMERICAN called upon Mr. Eck. He said that he always tried to get along, and did whatever he could find to do when able to work. Two years ago he injured his back, after which rheumatism and lumbago set in. He has become very much discouraged, and has given up hopes of ever being able to work again. The burden of making a living falls upon the rest of the family and it has become very painful for him, he said, to see his wife working so hard, while he is unable to render any help and only increases the burden to be borne.

He at first stated that he took the laudanum thinking it would relieve his pain. He afterward admitted, however, that he took the drug with suicidal intent, believing that his family would be better off without him.

It is indeed a very sad case. It is hoped that the unfortunate man may recover or at least take a brighter view of life, remembering that no matter how dark the night there is always a dawn.

Elijah Cleaver Fatally Injured.
Elijah C. Cleaver, one of the most prominent farmers, and an esteemed citizen of Columbia county, was fatally injured early Monday morning. He was on his way to Ashland with a load of hay, and attempted to jump on the saddle horse while the team was moving when the animal shied and threw him to the ground, the forward wheels of the wagon passing over his abdomen.

He was about two miles from home when the accident happened and was alone. He managed to drag himself along side the road where he lay suffering and helpless for about three hours until found by a man who was passing that way, and who had found the team standing some distance further down the road with no driver in sight.

With a vehicle obtained from a neighboring farmer the injured man was removed to his home and Dr. Winterstein of Nundaia, and Dr. J. H. Vastine, of Catawissa, were summoned. On their arrival they found the patient in a very critical condition and despite their best efforts death relieved him of his suffering about six o'clock Monday evening.

He is survived by a wife and eight children, six sons and two daughters, namely, Rev. Nelson E. of Danville; Prof. Wesley M., of Milton; Editor Charles L., of Mt. Carmel; Joseph C., of Tamaqua; Brittain W., of Roaring Creek; Clarence G., of Nundaia; and Rosie A. and Hannah L. at home.

Fox and children, May and Roy, Mr. Elmer Fox and children, Gertrude, Frank, Daniel and Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fox and children, Luther, Ethel, Helen and Agnes, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Fox and sons, William, Charles and George, Miss Gertrude Fox, George E. Fox, Miss Ella M. Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Berger, Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Breitenbach and daughter Anna.

Emma Boettinger Passes Away.
Emma, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Boettinger, Cherry street, died Monday morning about 2 o'clock after a lingering illness of consumption. The deceased, who was twenty years of age, was greatly beloved by all who knew her, and her death when just in the bloom of early womanhood falls upon her parents with crushing force. She was a devoted member of St. Hubert's R. C. church and a member of the sodality of that congregation.

Washingtonville Played Good Ball.
A game of ball between the Third Ward and Washingtonville teams was played at DeWitt's Park Monday afternoon. The Third Warders won by a score of 10 to 9. The batteries were Farley and Shepard for the home team and Hoffa brothers for Washingtonville nine. Washingtonville played first class ball, but lost through Yerrick's clever work in the last inning.

Exchanged Pulpits.
Rev. H. C. Harman of St. Paul's M. E. church and Rev. R. J. Allen, of St. Peter's M. E. church, exchanged pulpits Sunday evening. Each pastor made a splendid impression in his new field.

A DESTRUCTIVE AFTERNOON FIRE

Stock of Goods in the Newman and Marks Stores Ruined.

A fire broke out in the men's furnishing store of J. J. Newman, Mill street, shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, which for a small blaze, proved unusually destructive.

The fire originated in the second story at the rear of the building. When discovered it seemed confined between the ceiling and the tin roof in the vicinity of a brick chimney built between the store and the adjoining property, which is the Palace Hotel. The smoke forced its way downward into the building and poured out from under the tin roof through the small interstice around the chimney.

Mill street soon presented a scene of wild excitement. The Continental Hose Company was the first to arrive, followed in succession by the other companies of the fire department.

Water was soon had in abundance and steady streams were poured into the upper stories through the windows front and rear as well as upon the roof above. The fire, however, was hard to get at and about all that was accomplished by the deluge of water was to thoroughly drench the store and ruin the entire stock of goods.

The fire creeping along under the tin soot communicated to the roof of R. E. Mark's clothing store.

By this time Mill street was filled with a dense volume of smoke blinding and suffocating in its effects. The firemen soon turned their attention to Mr. Mark's establishment and soon had the building as thoroughly drenched as Mr. Newman's furnishing store.

Meanwhile firemen working in the rear of the building cut a hole through the weather boarding of the second story and another on the roof, by which means the progress of the flames was arrested.

While the fire was in progress and the water poured into the upper stories was streaming down through the ceilings at both Mr. Marks' and Mr. Newman's stores willing hands were at work carrying out goods. A greater part of Mr. Mark's stock was carried out into the rear yard and after the fire replaced in the store. A large portion of Mr. Newman's goods was stacked on the pavement on both sides of Mill street and later with what remained in the store placed in a vacant room of the Lyon building.

The fire was finally extinguished. The damage to either of the two buildings, beyond what was wrought by water, is slight. The building occupied by Mr. Newman is owned by Simon Dreifuss; the one occupied by Mr. Marks belongs to the estate of Samuel Goldsmith. Both are insured.

Neither Mr. Marks nor Mr. Newman Tuesday were able to estimate the extent of their loss. Both, however, suffer greatly. Mr. Newman, especially, whose entire stock was damaged. Both merchants carried insurance.

Mr. Bernheimer's Bad Fall.
Harry Bernheimer, the Mill street clothier, met with an accident Sunday morning, which might have resulted very seriously. He was in the act of climbing to the roof by means of a ladder standing in the bath room. Just as he was raising the trap door he lost his hold and fell upon the bath tub, his back striking the spigot. He seemed very seriously hurt at first and suffered great pain. Drs. Kimerer and Paules were called, who had him under treatment during the day.

Guardmen Return Home.
Company F, 12th Regiment, N. G. P., arrived home from Mount Gretna Saturday afternoon on the 221 Pennsylvania train. It was with a weary sigh and a soiled and sun burned appearance that the boys marched down Mill street to the Armory. Otherwise, however, they seemed but little the worse for their week in camp.

The following members of the company were confined in the hospital during the week: Ambrose Miller, Percy Shade, Charles Lewis, Charles Sutton and J. H. Johnson. David Boyer, who accompanied the company as captain's orderly, was also on the sick list, spending a couple of days in the hospital.

Col. Clement expresses himself as very much pleased with the work done by his command while in camp.

Injured by a Fall.
Luther Tanner, grandson of Augustus Ortman, residing near Bee's school house, Derry township, Monday fell from the overhead of the barn lighting upon a pole into which several large spikes had been driven. He was very seriously injured. Dr. Hoffa and his son Sidney gave him surgical treatment.

Quoit Pitching.
The quoit pitching mania has struck South Danville and some of the local pitchers have already distinguished themselves. The quoit club on this side the river boasts of some professionals in the "pitching" art and the South Danville contingent would like to show them the real thing. Can not an inter-county series of games be arranged?

Kline-Fox.
Calvin Jesse Kline and Miss Corinda Agnes Fox, both of this city, were married at the residence of the bride's father, William Fox, Cherry street, at 8 o'clock Thursday night. Rev. Dr. M. L. Shindel officiating. None but the immediate family were present. The couple were given a prolonged serenade by a calithumpian band.

A LOVERS' ROMANCE

How Lizzie McWilliams Overcame Parental Objection.

The Third Ward, this city, has a genuine case of elopement, which during the last two days has kept the tongue of gossip wagging.

When Carl McWilliams, North Mill street, arose Tuesday morning he found his handsome sixteen-year-old daughter, Lizzie, missing. Miss McWilliams' mysterious departure was at once associated with a young man on Sider Hill, who although forbidden the young lady's home was known to be a suitor and Monday was also missing from town.

The Philadelphia papers yesterday morning cleared up the mystery by announcing among the list of marriage licenses granted in that city the name of Lizzie McWilliams in connection with that of John Forred, the young man above alluded to. On the 10:17 Pennsylvania train yesterday the runaway couple returned, acknowledging themselves man and wife.

During yesterday afternoon a reporter of this paper had an interview with Mr. McWilliams, who is a dealer in smoked meats, North Mill street. Mr. McWilliams was very much vexed over the affair; in fact he was quite angry and expressed himself in a way that made it plain that unless he changes his mind the runaways need never look to him for forgiveness.

Forred, he said, was paying attention to his daughter. He didn't fancy him with a tiled roof over him, but he forbade him the place. He thought the affair had blown over until the elopement occurred. When the family retired at 11 o'clock Monday night Miss McWilliams, he said, was in bed and apparently fast asleep. Thus her disappearance fell upon the household like lightning from a clear sky. Mr. McWilliams has written to Philadelphia, he says, to determine under what circumstances the marriage license was procured, as his daughter's age made the whole proceeding unlawful.

Mr. Forred, the groom, was also interviewed. He gave a full account of the elopement. Miss McWilliams after slipping out of the parental home about midnight, Monday, found her lover outside with a tiled roof over him, by which they were driven to Milton where they took the late train for Philadelphia. They proceeded directly to Camden, but were unable to find a preacher there who would marry them, as they could not furnish evidence that they were residents of New Jersey. They returned to Philadelphia and at City Hall procured a marriage license.

Mr. Forred, who says he is 29 years of age, makes a favorable impression after a short acquaintance and will no doubt be a good husband to his young bride. The happy couple at present are sojourning at the Forred home, Sider Hill.

As Viewed by Merchants.
A conversation with the merchants along Mill street, Friday, relative to the proposed action of the clerks in entering the union brought out several facts. First there is by no means a unanimity among the merchants relative to early closing the year around and closing on all holidays, which, it is understood, will be one of the first concessions demanded by the union. The majority probably favor the union, preferring themselves to close at 6 o'clock and on those days insisted upon and believing that all other merchants could be induced to follow suit. Quite a number, however, held opposite views. It would be impossible, they said, to induce all the stores to close and as long as one or more remains open no merchant can afford to close up and allow his trade to drift elsewhere. Several complained of losing through early closing at present when only for the summer months. Danville has a large country trade and farmers, during the busy season, especially, are in the habit of driving into town after the days' work and making their purchases. Finding the stores closed here, the considerable number who come from over the river have got into the habit of stopping at South Danville and making their purchases there. One merchant states that in this way he has lost several good customers.

There are seventy-five hired clerks in Danville, of whom fifteen are ladies. Several of the latter were interviewed. Not one of them was sure that she would join the union, although all thought organization was a good thing and even admitted that they might be induced to do so. One vivacious blonde, however, voiced the sentiment of all the rest, when she remarked:

"No strike for me, though, no matter what comes to pass. My employer is a reasonable, kind-hearted man and I can get every privilege I am entitled to without striking."

About 7 o'clock Tuesday night an alarm of fire threw the town into excitement. The roof of the shovel factory above the boilers was discovered on fire. The news soon spread and the bells were rung which brought out the fire department. The Washington Hose Company was the first to arrive but when they reached the works the fire had already been extinguished by the company's own hose. The damage done was very slight.

Shoulder Dislocated.
Frank, the little son of John Wild-smith, Riverside, fell from a tree on Tuesday afternoon and dislocated his right shoulder. Dr. N. M. Smith reduced the dislocation. The lad yesterday was doing well.

WILLIAM AMESBURY

Passed Away Monday Night After Six Months' Illness.

William Amesbury, former member of council and a widely known citizen, died Monday night. The end came shortly before 6 o'clock after six months of terrible suffering.

Mr. Amesbury was born in Somersetshire, England, in 1825 and was therefore in his 76th year. He came to Danville in 1850. He resided a short time in Bloomsburg and also spent some time in the West, but the greater part of his life was spent in this city.

He was a man of perfectly fearless nature, keen, discriminating and conscientious. He was a practical miner and drifts and slopes sunk by him in the vicinity of this city and Grovania, whose output in their day was an important factor in the supply of ore, still remain to attest his rare skill and experience.

For several years Mr. Amesbury was a coal dealer in this city. A few years ago he retired turning the business over to his son, A. C. Amesbury. He served one term in the borough council, retiring last spring.

The deceased is survived by his wife and five children as follows: William, of Wilkesbarre; Mrs. Adeline Dyer, of Liberty township, this county; Arthur C., Mrs. Mary Cromwell and Mrs. Jennie Marshall, of this city.

In One Thousand Dollars Bail.
Erwin Hunter appeared before Justice Oglesby at half past 2 o'clock Monday afternoon to answer the information lodged Saturday last charging him with mayhem.

The case aroused a great deal of interest. The "squire's" office was nearly filled with attorneys and witnesses, while the pavement was lined with curious people, who vainly sought admittance.

The hearing was conducted by District Attorney Thomas C. Welch. Ralph Kinsner, Esq., appeared as special attorney for the complainant, while E. S. Gearhart, Esq., represented the defendant.

Mr. Hunter through his attorney pleaded "not guilty."

Jesse Fisher, the complainant, was the first witness. He said he went to Mr. Hunter's livery stable to collect a balance of $2.60 due him for labor. A dispute arose, Hunter denying that there was any money due Fisher. Uncomplimentary language passed, each giving the other the lie, when to quote the witness, "each struck at the other" and "climbed." On cross examination Fisher denied that he struck first; denied also that he choked Hunter, although he admitted he shoved him up against the wall. Fisher then in his own way described the hitting.

Dr. Curry described the nature of the injury, stating that it required "8 or 9 stitches" to draw the wound together.

John Fisher, father of the complainant, testified, after which the justice announced that in his opinion there was a prima facie case and that inasmuch as the penalty for the offense is a fine of $1000 he did not feel justified in accepting less than $1000 bail. Bail, therefore for Hunter's appearance at court was fixed at that sum, Lewis Tittel becoming bondsman.

Death of "Potzay" Peters.
Ferdinand (Potzay) Peters, a well-known resident, who of late has been living in the alley between Lower Mulberry street and D. L. & W. avenue, died Tuesday morning aged 52 years, of dropsy. The deceased during his entire life was connected with the different breweries of town in one capacity or another. Of late years he has been unable to work and at the time of his death was in destitute circumstances.

To provide for his burial several persons, among them a reporter of this paper, interested themselves in soliciting funds. Subscriptions were received from his old-time friends and enough was raised to purchase a burial lot and to pay an undertaker. The funeral was held on Wednesday at 5:30 o'clock. Interment took place in Odd Fellows' cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his wife, who is in very ill health and two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Hinekey and Mrs. Rose Belandier of Easton.

A Sham Battle.
Goodrich Post will hold a campfire at DeWitt's Park tonight. A very interesting feature will be a sham battle fought on the base ball ground. The G. A. R. will be assisted by a detachment of the National Guard and three soldier boys recently returned from the Philippines. The sham battle, which will be fought about 8 o'clock, will prove very interesting and together with the presentation of war pictures by "Bro." Hicks, will well repay any one for a visit to the Park.

Moonlight Picnic.
Miss Cressman of the Montour House gave a moonlight picnic at Indian Run Hollow, last night, in honor of her two nieces, Misses Carrie and Mame Cressman, of Sellersville. The party consisted of two hack loads which left town about dark.

Jubilee Concert.
A free religious jubilee concert will be given at Hunter's Park by the camp meetings workers, every night this week. Meetings free to all. The public is invited.

SUSTAINED A FRACTURED LIMB

In a Runaway Tuesday—Mrs. Victor Vincent Seriously Injured.

Mrs. Victor Vincent, of Valley township, while returning from this city Tuesday had a runaway and as a result sustained a fractured limb.

Mrs. Vincent drove in to town Tuesday morning with a horse and buggy. Soon after arriving here her horse was taken sick. To enable her to return it was decided that she should drive a horse belonging to her brother-in-law, Thomas Vincent, the sick animal to remain in Danville.

Before reaching the Fair grounds, the horse became unmanageable and started to run away. It is not clear whether Mrs. Vincent, who was the sole occupant of the buggy, was thrown out or whether she became frightened and jumped.

At all events the buggy and driver parted company. The lady in falling broke her right leg just above the ankle. She was assisted into a horse near the Fair ground, while the horse ran on to Maudsloe, where he was caught by Walter Best and Sylvester Jones of this city. The buggy was not broken. Meanwhile news of Mrs. Vincent's accident was brought into town and shortly after 12 o'clock, Thomas Vincent, accompanied by Dr. E. A. Curry drove out to the residence of Mrs. G. S. Springer, where the injured lady was kindly taken care of. Dr. Curry reduced the fracture which was found to be a rather serious one, both bones being broken.

Later in the day Mrs. Vincent was removed to her home, near Mooresburg.

"Old Timers' Defeat Berwick.
The "Old Timers" added another game to their string of victories Tuesday afternoon. This time it was the strong Berwick nine, by far the best base ball aggregation that has played here this season and our boys can indeed feel proud of their victory. Bell and Kilmer of the Montgomery nine were the battery for the "Old Timers" and they made an excellent showing. Bell allowed but seven hits which were scattered enough to prevent damage. Yerrick played a fast game at second, his work being more encouraging than on Saturday. The large and enthusiastic audience present proves that the national sport has by no means lost its popularity in Danville and the old "fans" and many new ones are seen at every game. Baggage Car Gone Astray.
Up to last evening the baggage car belonging to Company F shipped from Mt. Gretna Monday morning had not reached its destination at South Danville. When last heard from, Tuesday night, it was at Williamsport, where it had been sent by mistake.

The car contains the mess tents and camp equipage, all of which were packed at Mt. Gretna while wet, expecting that the car would reach South Danville Monday night or Tuesday morning. The members private trunks and boxes were also in the car, in addition to two barrels of potatoes, two barrels of bread, seventeen pounds of butter and a quantity of onions, hardtack, &c. The clothing contained in the trunks and boxes, like the tents, &c., was packed while wet and owing to the delay under the circumstances it is feared that the entire contents of the car will be ruined.
