MR. HARTMAN'S BERWICK PLANT.

The foundation of the silk throwing plant that F. Q. Hartman is building at Berwick is about completed. The bricklayers will probably commence work during the present week. This new mill 49 will be a branch of the Danville mill and will in no way interfere with the con-31 templated improvements and additions 48 of the latter plant. Mr. Hartman states that he will continue to build in this city as long as there is help enough to warrant it. The mill at Berwick will be 344 feet long and 53 wide operating 15, 292 spindles and giving employment to about 240 hands. There have been many applications made for positions and little trouble is anticipated in secur-34 ing the number of hands required. The 50 most modern system of machinery will be installed and the mill will be up-to-37 date in every particular. At the Dan-47 ville mill pipes are being laid for the introduction of the sprinkler system of fire
