RAILROAD TIME TABLES PENN'A R. R. 9.14 A. M 12 15 P. M 5 4.53 7.13 A. M. ^{10,17} ¹¹ 2.21 P. M. 6.09 ¹¹ SUNDAYS. D. L. & W. R. R. EAST. WEST 6.57 Å. M. 10.19 " 2.11 P. M. 6.16 " 9.09 A. M. 12.47 P. M. 4.35 " 5,40 " SUNDAYS. 12.47 P. M. 8 40 4 6.57 A. M. 6.16 P M. PHILA & READING R. R. NORTH. SOUTH 7.32 A. M. 4.00 P. M. 11.24 A. M 6.05 P. M BLOOM STREET. 7.84 A. M. 4.02 P. M. 11.22 A. M. 6.04 P. M.

J. J. BROWN. THE EYE A SPECIALTY.

Eyes tested, treated, fitted with glass es and artificial eyes supplied.

11 Market Street, Bloomsburg, Pa. Hours-10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Telephone 1436.

The SPORTING WORLD

Champion Woman Golfer. Miss Genevieve Hecker, the new woman champion of the United States Golf association, has won international reputation by reason of her accomplishments on the links. She has several years held a prominent niche in feminine golfing circles, having won many minor championships at various times. Her recent victory in the national tourney, held on the famous Baltusrol course at Morristown, N. J., fulfilled predictions that she would one day corral the highest honors in her class.

MISS GENEVIEVE HECKER.

Miss Hecker is only nineteen years old, but she is engaged to be married. She is the daughter of John V. Hecker. a millionaire flour manufacturer. Miss Hecker early developed a penchant for golf, and placed herself in the hands of the famous Scotch professional, comely pupil all the tricks of the game, including his famous St. An- after some sharp fighting and losing drew swing. The picturesque links at Wee Burn, Conn., have been her fa-all. You don't suppose," he resumed Love, once a simple madness, now obset The stages of his passionate disease And is twice serrowful, because he sees, in theory," she said vaguely. That shoots a witless, keener pang across The simple agony of love and loss. Nerves, nerves! Oh, folly of a child who dreams Of heaven and, waking in the darkness, screams --Arthur Symons in Saturday Review.

NERVES.

The modern malady of love is nerves

0.0.0.0.0.00.0.0.0.0.0.0.0 "Odd to hear from him again, after all these years! I wonder what made him write directly he reached Southampton!" Priscilla Baberley glanced inquiringly from the open letter in her hand to the mirror over her drawing room mantelpiece as though her reflection might possibly answer the query. The wistful melancholy of her expression was due to an illness which had left her almost totally deaf; though the fact was scarcely noticeable, thanks to the knowledge of lip reading she had acquired, and when this means failed she resorted to the use of an ear trumpet, or an ingeniously constructed fan. "Oh, dear! If only I hadn't been deaf; men have a horror of deaf old have it off directly." maids! But I needn't let him know just at first-he always spoke distinct ly and was clean shaven, which means a great deal to me now. I'm sure I can manage it," she resumed meditatively and wringing her hands. "I will set him talking of his cam paigns.' She crossed the room and touched like this," she sobbed. he bell.

"Catherine," she said to the maid one else?" 'Major-I mean Colonel Ewart will be He turned abruptly away, and flung here presently. Send up hot toast with himself in the armchair, burying his he tea and extra cream." face in his hands. A moment after the maid held aside "Just my luck," he said brokenly the heavy plush portiere and a tall, "But it's hard after all this time, and military looking man, with a flowing now when it seemed all plain sailing gray beard and mustache, filled up the to hear that-that-I have a rival But," reproachfully, "you needn't have "Good gracious-a beard as well!" kept me so long in suspense, Celia." Miss Baberley murmured, horror over the top of the fan.

ed away.

"this is not a time for joking."

stricken, as she caught up her fan and went to meet him, holding it gracefully to her lips. "I can't hear what you say," she said friends. "Ah, major-colonel, I mean"-she corrected herself agitatedly-"delighted to see you! It's like your good nature to call so soon. How you have altered! I should scarcely have known you." 'goodby' at your sister's garden party." His tone was gruff, but hearty, and omewhat above the normal pitch, and she managed to catch a word here and there as she watched his lips anxious doorway.

ly. holding the fan to her own. "Yes-er-I have a little garden here," she rejoined besitatingly. "But come and sit down. I want to hear all about yourself and your campaigns. yours"-Of course I learned a great deal from the papers, but it isn't the same as a personal narrative, so you must just tell me from the very beginning." She seated herself opposite him, her eyes bewildered. still fixed on his face. "Really, Celia-I may call you the old name, may I not?-there is nothing to tell, just the usual changes from hill George Stahl, who taught his apt and stations to the plains, and vice versa; then the outbreak, which we quelled vorite course, and she twice won the | in a lower tone, "that I've come here, all over again? directly I set foot in the old country But it was scarcely necessary, for though she blushed still deeper she did She heard the note of interrogation not now resist when he took her hands in his.-Mainly About People. certedly, murmuring an unintelligible monosyllable. England's Early Coins. "I want to talk something far more When England was being made into interesting," he continued softly-"that mincemeat and blocks of real estate concerns you as well as myself. You've by the Saxons and Danes, silver and no idea what pleasure it is to see you brass were in use as currency, but the again-and to find that you-that you Normans subsequently installed the are not married." aristocratic metal and left the demo-"Really?" she exclaimed after a cratic brass to take care of itself. slight pause, cleverly simulated sur-Gold was first coined by Henry III. and copper made into British coin in 1672. Tin was used for coinage in "Yes, it has always been in my thoughts," he rejoined eagerly, his courage rising. "I should have spoken made of this Cambrian product, with a before I went away, but do you restud of copper set in the center. In member remarking once that you never 1690 and 1691 tin halfpence were isintended to marry unless the man who sued in considerable quantities. The asked you had something more to his only pure gold coins issued in Engcredit than a banking account. That was why I exchanged and went lish history were those of Henry III. abroad. I did think of writing when I was out there, but until these frontier Happy Thought of a Man In a Fix. affairs were quite settled I thought it who had served his company long and who'd been hanged and the rest. fairer not to ask you to the yourself to me, as if I'd been hit it might have well was called into the office one day been a blow to you. Of course that was taking for granted you cared a little for me." And he concluded smiling rather shamefacedly. "Indeed !" She smiled also, feigning was to do. Just after the chief left the bad made a remark which made him she saw what he was about. astonishment. "Now, confess, Celia, this is not altogether a surprise to you. Even if it is -you do not find it disagreeable?" "Dear me-how strange!" she ex

the conductor to take a siding and

"Any accidents, Johnny?" asked the

For Tired Eyes.

This is somewhat difficult to do

easy and is very invigorating and rethe outer angle inward toward the

If after a long day the eyes feel so hot and tired that they seem dim when over his face.

chief.

chief appeared with anxiety written all and Stream.

Or call on

Martin Schweitzer, Montour House Dauville, Pa.

kept me so long in suspense, Cella." A moment's silence followed. Then she left her seat and walked to the tireplace and stood looking down at him, toying nervously with her fan.

"You haven't changed in the least degree," he said gallantly, shaking her have a horror of deaf old her maids." The usher returned in a moment to a steam engine and a mammoth boiler the structure of the structu She laughed hysterically as she pro-duced the trumpet from the little bag at her side and adjusted it. duced the trumpet from the little bag at her side and adjusted it. "It was just my silly pride," she con-tinued quickly, "and I thought I could manage with my fan. You see, it has the task is used to be adjusted to be a prior to be adjusted to b this tube in the center, which carries read immediately. read immediately. may tumble over a trestle somewhere. This incensed the manager, who said I walk along the street; a sign may the sound through my lips-and then-I understand lip reading—if it hadn't been that your mustache conceals "Tell that fool out there that this is thoroughfare; who knows but what "Is that all?" he interrupted eagerly, Get him out of the place-1 won't see

Ise?" "Anybody else, where?" she asked, newildered. back and informed active that the fast time? If I wark along the man utterly refused to go without see-ing him, and that he must be granted ing him, and that he must be granted "I mean any one you care more for than me—whom you intend marrying?" "N—no—" she faltered, the color rush-ing into her cheeks; "but what an odd "meeticn."

"Not at all," he answered delighted-ly. "Can't you guess, Celia, what I have been asking you, or—" and his eyes twinkled merrily—"shall I begin all over again?". It just shows the difference between taking one's own life in one's hand and the matter of confronting extraor-dinary danger. These risks are ordi-nary, plain, old, everyday risks. The

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE AN EFFECTIVE REMEDY. A Series of Orders That Rejuvenated

the Ailing Slaves. A correspondent sends the following story of an old Virginia gentleman: Some years before the war a gentle- lience. This is really most material; man of large landed interests counted among his possessions a plantation on food, and a dark kitchen will most certhe James river, an estate of consider-tainly breed more kinds of bacteria nble dimensions. Other Interests kept than are wholesome. What, then, him away from the old place for some years, during which time there was a marked decrease in the revenue. Upon his return to the plantation he discov-cred that many of the slaves were laid ing every corner-sunlight, too, from up with rheumatism and other miser-ies, the farming implements were in bad order and the old homestead was for the data and the old homestead was fast going to rack and ruin. Calling odors of burned food, boiled cabbage, fast going to rack and run. Cause his overseer he said: "Anderson, I notice a great many old wagons, plows and harrows about the place. Have them brought and piled in front of the house, and on Monday next order all the niggers on the place to be present."

the place to be present." At the appointed time they came. The pile was set on fire and the imple-tant it, but not of the inclosed variety, mind you, the horrible dirt trap! At the expense of a few more steps a cold pantry on the outside for fruit, vegements destroyed. The following week patry on the outside for fruit, vegesick and infirm horses, hogs and cattle better kept cool and dry than cold and and gave the same order. When the negroes had assembled all the animals were knocked in the head. The Friday following the landlord again called

"Anderson, I see a great many sick niggers around here-many who seen ley-everything at hand and all imto be laid up with rheumatism and are good for nothing. Give orders that on Monday morning at 10 o'clock they all appear in the front yard." The effect on the slaves was magical.

On Saturday men who had been unable to walk were skipping around like children: the sick grew well suddenly. and from that time on the plantati was most prosperous.-Exchange.

FOOD OF AMERICANS.

An English Woman Tells of the Strange Things She Ate Here. An English woman who visited America a short time ago has been telling er country women about the "strange food across the water." Of course she iscovered green corn, but she had been repared for that. Oyster crabs were ite new to her. "They look like Boston baked beans," she explains, "but they taste much bet-

An oyster cocktail filled her with awe and enthusiasm. She tried it at Delmonico's and thought it was soup. Of course in England one didn't serve soup in a glass; but, then, neither did the English serve boiled eggs in a glass. One could never be sure of Americans.

Of canvasback duck she has a poor opinion, but thinks she might like it better if Americans would have it cooked or even warmed. As for terrapin, she sings its praise. She found it much like calf's head, and she always liked calf's head. Shades of Maryland gour-

"All the puddings in America are pie or ice cream," she says, but it must be understood that pie does not mean game pie. The Yankee pie is a tart and is ubiquitous, she explains. She sat next to an American man who ate a lump of cheese with his strawberry ple and turned a plateful of ice cream over both, but she doesn't know that that is a general custom. The oysters were good, but had most impossible names, and the cockles (meaning clams) are excellent. On the whole. Yankee food and cooking are good, but there is too much of the food on the table at one time .- New York Sun.

ign of Charles II., is chiefly known process it measures for you with ac

Portrait of Cocker. Edward Cocker, who lived in the like, of course, and as you continue the NEW TYPE, when served as a dinner vegetable

First peel the onion carefully, then let it soak for two hours in cold water well salted, then place it in a large saucepan, pour in enough milk to cover the onion to the depth of an inch, stand it over a slow fire, put the cover on the saucepan and let the onion simmer gen-

Odors That Permeate Foodstuffs.

Two of a Kind.

don't either.

A fish dealer in one of the most styl-

tasty, Bill

ter Head,

Ticket, (

Program,

ment or C.

an adverti

for your bu-

satisfaction to you

"I can't hear what you say," she said at last desperately, flinging the fan from her. "I should have told you t at last desperately, flinging the Ian from her. "I should have told you—I am deaf, but I couldn't bear to use my gentleman was waiting at the door to gentleman was waiting at the door to commonplace thing of taking one's own use to how extract an user taking one is solved the simple, commonplace thing of taking one's own use to how extract an user taking one is solved to be an entirely differsee him on most important business. "Tell him I can't come out—I'm very there are a set to business." "Tell him I can't come out—I'm very ent thing.

AN OVERWORKED PHRASE. HOYT'S JOKE ON M'KEE. The Expression "He Took His Life In His Hands." How the Playwright Had a Bit of "The expression 'he took his life in SCRANTON, PA.

"Is that all?" he interrupted eagery, starting up and placing his hands on her shoulder. "There isn't anybody else?" Get him out of the place 1 would see him. I won't read his play." A few minutes later the usher came back and informed McKee that the back and informed McKee that the

"Not at all," he answered delighted-"Not at all," he answered delighted-only too glad to get the play." "Pessimism? No. Logic. That's all, It just shows the difference between

She Was Looking For a Job.

An Englishman who was staying for nary, plain, old, everyday risks. The mets, what a slur is there!

Metropolitan championship.

Miss Hecker is a blond, has blue to talk about my campaigns?" eyes and is very graceful. She is a thorough athlete and can ride, sail and and dropped her eyes rather disconswim almost as well as she can play golf.

The showing of the western golfers was a great surprise to the spectators at the tourney at Baltusrol. They played remarkable golf and barely missed carrying the coveted title away with them. Miss Anthony, the champion of the west, was slightly out of form, but Miss Lucy Herron qualified for the finals and made Miss Hecker play her prise in her tone. best.

Original Home of Golf.

The Scotsman contends that golf is a Scotch sport to which poetical reference was made in Adamson's "Muses Threnodie," published in Perth as long ago as 1638. The terms used in the sport are for the most part Scotch. But the Dutch assert that it was first played in Holland on the ice, and before 1638 the Dutch poet Bredero described how "the golfer, with ice spurs on, stands ready to smite with ashen club weighted with lead or his Scottish cleek of leaded box." But while this may be the earliest poetical reference to the game it does not show that Holland is the original home of golf. The reference to the "Scottish cleek" seems at first sight to point rather to Scotland.

Ruhlin Has a Temper.

Gus Ruhlin, the Akron giant, who is training to fight Jeffries, recently tried to knock out Tim Heggerty, the clever Australian featherweight, who was visiting his quarters. Madden induced Heggerty to put on the gloves with Ruhlin, and Heggerty landed some hot ones on Ruhlin's face and wind which made the big fellow angry. Then Ruhlin started in to punish his opponent and in the third round floored him twice. When time was called, he refused to stop, and a friend of Heggerty's, who interfered, was knocked down twice by the infuriated pugilist. Madden expressed sorrow for Ruhlin's act.

California Players For Brooklyn.

received from Ned Hanlon of the Brooklyns for two of the best players of the California league. Hanlon has and reproachfully. Lis eyes set on Henry Krug of San Francisco and has instructed Lange to say?" get Krug's signature to one of the contracts. The other player wanted by Hanlon is an outfielder, and he has determined that George Hildebrand will fill the bill. Lange will make an effort to engage these two players for the Brooklyns.

Ruhlin In Poor Form.

Report has it in Los Angeles that while I'm making it-it distracts my Gus Ruhlin has showed such poor attention," she added with a forced litform in his only public appearance in the laugh. months that his prospects for winning the bout with Jeffries are counted light. Ruhlin boxed with Jim and Ben Trimble and was clumsy and slow. He was halr to have met "Denver Ed" Martin, but It was announced that that fighter had make tea, Celia. I wish it would be sprained his thumb. California sports my privilege always." say that Ruhlin "won't do" in a fight against Jeffries.

were shod with wool.

claimed hesitatingly, after a slight pause, still keeping her eyes fixed on his face, while she bit the tip of her fan nervously She broke the silence at last with a little regretful sigh. "Is that all? It is most interesting." "Ah, Celia," he sighed, "you are just as tantalizing and stand-offish as ever -but- I like you all the better for it. And he leaned forward with an admiring glance at the fair face and shapely head, crowned with neat dark brown coils. "Yes, may people have told me the same," she replied complacently, catching the end of his sentence, and, noting the appreciative glance, she concluded

W. A. Lange of San Francisco has exhibited two signed contracts he had hairdressing she had adopted. "But you needn't be stand-offish with an old-er-admirer," he added quietly.

> "I-I beg your pardon-what did you Eyes will be greatly strengthened by

"Oh, nothing, nothing," he respondputting the face down into a glass or ed hastily, fearing he had been too preeyecup of water the first thing in the cipitate. "What a charming room this morning and opening them under wa-

"Now you must have some tea," she at first, but if the water for two or said, after rather an awkward pause, three days be tepid and gradually made laying down her fan, and moving to colder by imperceptible degrees until the table. "Being an old maid I'm it is no shock to put the face into quite rather fussy, so you must not talk cold water it will soon become quite freshing. If done regularly every day, this He watched her with growing pleastreatment alone will preserve the sight ure as her hands busied with the cups. into quite old age. There is a right the lamp rays touching the gold in her and wrong way of wiping the eyes after this, too, and the right way is to pass the soft towel very gently from

"It's like old times, watching you "I told you not to talk." she said with playful severity.

Slow Travelers. Great ideas travel slowly and for a ime noiselessly as the gods whose feet rere shod with wool. The thist source prime diagonal for a little needs ing, dearest. I'm not to touch tea till product a little needs ing, dearest. I'm not to touch tea till ing, dearest. I'm not to "But I must. Don't be so tantalizone tries to read or to do a little necestime noiselessly as the gods whose feet ised, in fact-" his voice dropped to an leaves have been removed. earnest whisper, and he crossed the

v inviting the persistent "Where's that idiot who insists on eeing me?" he asked of the treasurer horse, the hero who will plunge into with arithmetical rules. I saw the othpointed to a man standing in the shadhis arm

It was Hoyt, with his newly finished play, which he handed to McKee, who aid to those present "It's on me-what'll you have, boys?"

-New York Clipper.

What Is a Runaway Horse? ocrat. They have nice horses and cuttle out west, but they have little ways of their 1680, and the national farthing was own. For instance, a broken horse out west has points of difference from a broken horse in the east. Some of the a short time at Nice decided one mornsaddle horses caused me most unaffect- ing to have a dip in the sea.

Woes of the Grocer.

departed.

ed misery when I had to ride-and it On proceeding to the shore he began was the same thing with the driving to look out for some secluded spot horses. I used to spend my winters in where he might undress. At last he the east, and when I went back to the got clear of every one except some old no portrait, and there is too much rearanch I would of course want to hear An operator for a western railroad the latest news about my neighbors- and whom he could not manage to was added by some ingenious owner My foreman had a grievance against til at last there was only one left. and asked if he thought he could hold a professor from Ann Arbor who Finding it impossible to shake her off and through ignorance of the language promptly replied that he could and was hired a team, which ran away, smash- being unable to ask her to leave, he told to report for duty that night, and ing things up and breaking the profess- decided to begin undressing in the office it began to blow and snow, and hot. He didn't mind his saying that he had fallen into a den of sharks-be- rified to see her making a rush for him. new night dispatcher soon had develop-ed a bad case of "rattles" and almost and, besides, he didn't charge the pro--his relief, she rapidly undid a huge cried. He did not want an accident, fessor for the use of the team; what bundle she carried and began to erect and he could not handle the trains. So made him hot was the remark that he a portable tent round him. As fast had foisted on the professor a team of Then he perceived it was for this the as a report came in he replied, directing runaway horses. women had been following him all the "He had no right to call them that," time.

wait for orders, and it was not a great while until he had every train on the been driven twice, and could-hardly be Mice May Cause Daldness. division sidetracked. Then he took a called a confirmed runaway, and the A barber had been giving the writer book, lighted his pipe and sat down to other-well, there were lots of times much information about the hair, and wait for daylight. In the morning the when he hadn't run away,"-Forest then remarked that not long si quife a young man had come into his shop who had lost all his hair. It had come off very suddenly and for no ap-It was an uptown grocery which a parent reason. "Not an accident. I've got 'em all little girl about five years of age enter- The barber said, "You have a cat?" on the sidetrack, snowed in and waited the other day, saying "I want a spool of cotton!" "You won't get that the house." "No," he replied "We have not a get 'em out. I am going to blow this here," replied the grocer jokingly. job." It took the chief and his force "You'll have to go to the blacksmith's mice, and it comes in contact with your head?" nearly all day to get the trains straight-ened out and traffic resumed on the road.—Indianapolis News. "Yes," said the man, "I have, and irritations hand. And she continued to reiterate armchair, close to my head. the request for a long time before quitting the store. Presently her mother appeared in the longing to mice, that could be pased on door, with a very frate countenance, to human beings by contact with an "D'you mean totell me that you haven't animal that touched them. Whether the nutmeg in her hand?" reforted the "an order that will paralyze him." mother, "I saw something in her hand," "What will you have, sir?" presently but I didn't know what it was." "Well," asked the waiter.

the final shot with which the matron verulam and ova."

customers require when they don't ter containing something hot. themselves.-Philadelphia Rec fireman who dashes into a burning to the present generation by the say- curacy each portion of liquid conbuilding to rescue a child, the fellow who grabs the bridle of a runaway Cocker." which means in accordance

at the box office. Then the treasurer the river to save some person who is er day amid the treasures of a private Few housekeepers remember, as they about to drown-these are the persons collector a copy of the first edition of should, that when it is necessary to ow with a roll of manuscript under who confront what I would call ex- Cocker's immortal work on arithmetic, dilute strong tea it should be done with traordinary dangers, and the worn published by T. Passenger at the water at the boiling point. The poor platitude of saying of one of these 'he Three Bibles on London bridge. Only flavor of tea made strong at first and took his life in his hands' would not two, or at most three, perfect copies then reduced, such as is too often servfit the case because there would be in are known to the book collector. One ed at receptions and "at homes," is use the act an element of heroism which is in the British museum. This par- ually caused by the addition of hot, not would place it much above the com-monplace."-New Orleans Times-Dem-fully faded, tears on its title page the lesson in this matter may be had from inscription. "Cocker's Arithmetick, the Russians, who serve the most de-

Perused and Published by John Haw- licious tea in the world, and who prekins by the Author's Correct Copy." It contains what purports to be a portrait of "ingenious Cocker." Ex- to the strength wished with water perts, however, shake their heads over kept boiling in the samovar. This the authenticity of this work of art.

There are many engraved portraits of but is renewed as needed. Freshly the epoch, but there was only one boiled water is insisted upon by all con-Cocker. The British museum copy has noisseurs in teamaking. Preparing Spanish Onions. women who followed him everywhere son to fear that this embellishment Spanish onions cooked or sliced raw shake off. He walked and walked un- of an earlier century. Cocker died in for a salad are an appetizing viand. A 1675. This rare relic of the past bears delicious way of cooking these onions date 1678.-Scotsman. is to boil them in milk. One large onion is sufficient for four persons

Possible Motive. Maperson-Just look at that ocean greyhound go Merman-Yes: I wonder if some sea urchin hasn't tied a tin can to its tall!-Detroit Journal.

Not the Kind.

tly for three hours. Then serve it in a He ordered to the state of the deep vegetable dish with plenty of melted butter. Season with pepper and salt and a little finely chopped parsley.

As a Food For the Skin. To Make It Smooth, Healthy and Beautiful, Dr. Chase's Ointment is Hailed by Thousands of Fair Women.

Every woman, no matter how beautiful her kin, finds need at times of some preparation o overcome the redness and roughness, and o cure the pimples, blackheads and skin ish parts of New York was deeply hurt and badly worried one day by the com-

Powders may cover up the disfiguring plaint of one of his big customers that rowders may cover up the ousnguring ruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase' a fine salmon which he had sent to the house for a big dinner had proved to be entirely uneatable when served owing to a most penetrating taste of creo-Ointment is a food for the skin. It is sote that pervaded it. The fish dealer realized, although the charge was not made directly, that he was more than readily and thoroughly suspected of having sold a stale fish ures each that had been washed or brushed with an antiseptic preparation to hide its condition. He knew that the salmon

Arthore up clear. No had been perfectly fresh when he sold No woman's , and for days he puzzled in vain over oilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointthe problem. But suddenly he rememment, for besides being the most perfect skin bered that on the day the fish was sent beautifier obtainable it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely tures eczema, departed.
 "Yes, sir."
 of different ways. It absolutely tures eczema, alt rheum and the itching to which women out a tank wagon full of creosote had stopped before his place and that his cart, into which the fish was being placed, was directly alongside of the powerful stuff. That appears to have been enough to permeate the delicate Inflammation in a surprisingly sho flesh of the fish.-New York Press. Guest-What a splendid dinner! I don't often get as good a meal as this. Little Willie (son of the host)-We

A trial will make you our customer We respectfully asl

that trial.

French Frozen Pudding. Scald one quart of milk; mix one cup No. II E. Mahoning ful of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of flour, two eggs, all well beaten together; turn this into the milk, stir well and cook twenty minutes; let this get cold DANVILLE. and then add one quart of cream, one cupful of sugar, one dessertspoonful of vanilla, two ounces of port wine, onehalf pound of French fruits; freeze and OUR STOCK OF serve with one pint of whipped cream was never n ore complete.

TRIMMED HATS

We have just receive from New York an in volle of the latest effect in outing and ready-to wear

HATS.

122 Mill Street.

got a nutmeg?" she inquired indignant. Iy, "Was that what the child wanted?" there is anything in this or not I cannot say.—Spectator. a spool of cotton," "Couldn't you see "T'll give that waiter," said Rivers, all you had to do was to smell it," was "Bring me," replied Rivers, "some themselves ever since, asking the gro-cer why he doesn't exercise greater de-gleam in his eye and returned about the terms to which women wreespecially subject. When the feet are sore and chafed with tective skill in finding out what his intercontaining something hot.

"Here you are, sir," he said. "Bacon Then for burns, scalds and every sort of and eggs. In ordinary English it would be twenty-five cents. In classic form Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain