Housing Turkeys.

"No fowls require more watching and closer attention than turkeys. They must be brought home at night fore they are let out and if the weather is too wet to be safe for them when young kept in. Indeed not until their necks show the red are they really strong and competent, so to speak, to take care of themselves. Still, in order to be sure of them even then they should be properly housed at night," says an Ohio Farmer writer, "and for this purpose is the structure shown in the accompanying cut most excellent. It is airy and reliable, and if kept clean and the young birds are driven up every evening and shut in they will be safe, but not otherwise.

"It can be built anywhere from 8 by 10 to 12 by 16 feet or larger, if wanted. The posts should be five feet high, the rafters long enough to give to the roof a good pitch and the roosts rest on the plates, with a plank leading to them on which have been nailed crosspieces for

Counting Housewives' Steps. The New York State Household Economic association proposes to discover how many steps a housewife takes in

It is estimated that 2,000 steps make a mile, and the proposition is to compute how many miles are covered a day by the housewife in the preparation of her meals and washing of dishes. Considering 1,000 meals as the average for the year, the mileage involved promises to be something stupendous.

Members of the association have by no means undertaken this labor as a mere course of mental gymnastics. The purpose in view is to discover how often two steps might serve instead of three and to use the statistics as a basis of reform.

woman said the other day: doesn't know much else besides dancing. On the other hand, the dinner man seldom dances, but he is a good talker, is superficially informed upon the lighter topics of the day-the opera, drama, the latest novels-and can more than hold up his end. He doesn't allow conversation to lag, and consequently he is an important factor at a dinner. Men will accept dinner invitations quicker than invitations of other kinds, but don't think from this that they are all dinner men. Far from it.

"The corner man? Oh, he is the one who has the knack of making himself generally useful and is quite in a class by himself. He looks after the comfort of the chaperons, runs handy little errands and can even be depended upor at afternoon teas. The other men don': think much of him, but he has his own value from the feminine point of view." -Philadelphia Record.

Australia is the hottest country on record. I have ridden for miles astride the equator, but I have never found heat to compare with this. Out in the country in the dry times there appears to be little more than a sheet of brown paper between you and the lower re gions, and the people facetiously say that they have to feed their hens on cracked ice to keep them from laying boiled eggs.—Sydney Telegraph.

School Gardens.

Scientific gardening is taught in the national schools of Sweden and in the seminaries for the education of national schoolteachers. There is a school garden in nearly every rural school district in the kingdom. The garden is placed near the schoolhouse, and the children receive practical instruction in the cultivation of plants, berries, flowers, herbs and fruits, the management of hotbeds, greenhouses, etc.

THE POULTRY BUSINESS.

Egg Production Profitable - A Big Flock of Hens the Year Round. The women poultry raisers deserve good deal of credit for the success they make of the business under circum stances that are anything but favorable. The women on the farm need the co-operation of the men to make the poultry business a complete success. The farmer's wife with many family cares and therefore little time to devote to poultry should make the production of eggs her chief aim. Soup by the Pound. In China liquids are sold by weight and grain by measure. John buys soup by the pound and cloth by the foot. A Chinaman never puts his name outside his shop, but paints instead a motto or a list of his goods on his vertical signboard. Some reassuring remark is frequently added, such as "One word hall," "A child two feet high would not be cheated." Every single article has to be bargained for, and it is usual for the customer to take his own measure and scales with him.

A Name Twice Made Famous, Now a Shining Mark for Papering Grand Jury Room... Imitators.

The name "Chase," twice made famous, is a shining mark for the unscrupulous to pounce upon and appropriate in order to foist upon the public their worthless preparations. These birds of prey, by using the name Chase, espect the public to be fooled into believing they are the medicines of Dr. A. W. Chase, who first became noted as the author of the world-famed Dr. Chase's recipe book and family physician, and whose fame is now doubly increased by the wonderful success of his Nerve Pills, with Nerve, Brain and Blood troubles. They play upon the name Chase, but dare not use the initials "A. W."

They imitate, but dare not counterfeit the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, which identifies the Nerve Pills now recognized as infallible for building up pale, weak, thin-blooded, nerve exhausted sufferers.
