SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS

The school board for the year 1902-3 effected an organization Monday night. The officers of last year were re-elected with the exception of Jacob Fischer, who declined a nomination for president on the ground that he had filled that office for two years past and that he felt the honor this year should be conferred upon some other member. Dr. Barber was accordingly nominated for president by Mr. Koefler and he was unanimously elected.

The only change in the personnel of the board this year occurs in Second Ward where Grant Fenstermacher resigned. D. E. Haring, who was elected to succeed him, is at present employed in Waynesboro, Va., and was not present Monday to take the oath of office. Other directors, sworn in, to succeed themselves, were as follows: Dr. F. E. Harpel, of the First Ward; Jacob Fischer, of the Third Ward; and Walter O. Green of the Fourth Ward.

Before the old board adjourned Treasurer M. H. Schram presented his annual report, explaining that his books had been audited. The auditors' report was read whereupon on motion the Treasurer's report was accepted and ordered spread upon the minutes.

On motion of Mr. Koefler the annual report of the school district was ordered to be printed in The Morning News and in the Montour Democrat.

On motion of Mr. Koefler the school term was fixed at 9 months, to open on the second Tuesday of September.

On motion of Dr. Curry Monday evening June 3rd was selected for the annual election of teachers and janitors. Several members urged an earlier date, but it was explained that there will be this year three vacancies to fill and in view of the fact that several of the applicants are at the Normal school, prospective graduates, and will not be free until some time later it was agreed to defer the election as long as possible.

On motion of Dr. Curry the minimum rate of attendance for the school term was fixed at 75 per cent.

On motion of Mr. Green the tax rate for the ensuing year was fixed at 4 1/2 mills. Several members favored a low rate, but it was conclusively shown that a slight advance above last year's rate was imperative in order to meet the annual expenditures of the district.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION tomorrow (Friday) at the usual voting places between the hours of six and eight P. M.

The Last Day of School.

This is the last day of school in this city and in nearly every room special exercises will be held. The summer vacation will be happily spent by the pupils and in a few months they will be ready again for school duties, happier and heartier for their recreation.

The term just closing is one of the Danville schools. There are 1254 pupils on the rolls and they have all done remarkably well. In the upper grades, especially, has the advancement been gratifying. In past years quite a number dropped out during the grammar course, but special efforts were made during this term to enlist the interest of the pupils and to have them continue their studies into the high school. The success of this work is shown in the excellent commencement that are to be held to-day by the grammar seniors and by the number who will receive diplomas. To-morrow evening, the High School commencement exercises will be held in the Opera House.

Consigned to the Grave.

The funeral of the late Charles H. Heath whose death occurred at Upper Macopin, N. J., Saturday morning last, took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Lizzie Miller, 413 Pine street, a sister of the deceased.

The services were conducted by Rev. L. B. Fritchell, pastor of the First Baptist church. The pall bearers were: R. S. Ammerman, Esq., W. E. Gosh, W. J. Rogers, Grant Sowers, William James and E. Y. Seidel. Interment took place in Old Fellows' cemetery.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were: Mrs. Harriet Heath, Misses Ella and Anna Heath, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Heath of Jersey City, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Conover and Oliver Conover of Bayonne, N. J.; Mrs. Mary Diehl and Miss Anna Diehl of Sunbury; Mr. and Mrs. John Blake and Mrs. Anna Heath of Artes; Mr. and Mrs. George Heath of Natalie, and Fred Yeager and Mrs. Kern of Newark, N. J.

The deceased was a stove moulder by occupation. Representatives of the moulder's union to which he belonged were present at the funeral. The moulder employed at the Stove Works here where the deceased at one time worked attended the funeral in a body.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION tomorrow (Friday) at the usual voting places between the hours of six and eight P. M.

A number of members of Danville Lodge, No. 754, B. P. O. E., will go to Bloomsburg this evening to visit Bloomsburg Lodge.

DEATH OF JOSEPH MORGAN

Joseph G. Morgan, a brother of Mrs. W. H. Ammerman died Friday at Milton in the fiftieth year of his age. A widow and four children survive him. The sense of personal loss can come to only those who knew and loved Joseph. He was a Danville boy. In years gone by, he was part of its active life and added sunshine wherever he went.

"Joe" was kind, gentle and sympathetic. He loved the good and true and beautiful. In the grasp of his hand, the merry music of his laugh and voice, the magnificence of his nature and his genuine wholeheartedness always found expression. "Joe" was a blacksmith—aside from the few early years of romping boyhood, Joe spent his life before the glow of the forge, amid the shower of iron sparks and flashes and the sounds of ringing anvils. He learned his trade with Keely and Trumbower and was an apprentice in the same shop and at the same time with James Scarlet. He became a skilled workman and for the last twenty five years has been the leading artisan in the shop of Shimer and Son.

The sum of his activities is bounded by the limitations of his work such as measure and environ the life of most artisans. Not a wide sphere No, but in it and throughout the whole of the years of toil, Joe, was the champion of Justice, devoted to truth and the practice of virtue and the friend of Charity. In these years, he rounded out the full measure of a man, made the most of the stuff that was in him and shed around him the helpful influence of a noble self-denying manhood. Danville may take pride in the fame of many of her sons, but in kindness of heart and in the achievement of true nobleness of character, none will add more to her glory than good kind and gentle "Joe" Morgan.

And Joe died like a man. To his poor blind wife who had groped from her bed of sickness to touch his hand and say good bye, Joe, was still the gentle "Joe" of old. "My work is done. It is the end of worry and work and work and worry. Be brave and true and we soon shall meet again. God bless you all, good bye." And so he fell asleep.

The lives of those who knew him are the better for it. The memory of "Joe" will always be a helpful inspiration to the hand that pens these lines and in doing so drops a tear in tribute to the friend who shared with him and lightened the toil of many a weary day in the blacksmith shop in Danville.

Every Republican voter should attend the Primaries tomorrow evening.

Home From Miners' Hospital.

Harry Kennedy returned to his home in Riverside yesterday after being five weeks in the Miners' hospital, at Fountain Springs, near Ashland. Nine years ago he was injured in the Northern Central yard at Sunbury and his left leg had to be amputated. It always caused him considerable trouble and became so sore that he went to Fountain Springs and had a second operation performed. Two inches were taken off the leg and it has healed up nicely. Mr. Kennedy speaks highly of his treatment at the hospital and received a hearty greeting from his many friends.

More Machinery For Silk Mill.

The new addition to the east end of the Silk Mill will make room in the main building for more machinery, which is to be installed as soon as the addition is completed. The offices and vaults are to be in the new portion and their removal will give more floor space in the mill. The new machinery is to be of a special pattern for spinning and twisting. Forty employes will be needed to operate the additional frames.

John Buckley will start next Monday to move the Conifer house to the corner of Cooper and Nassau streets. As soon as it is removed work on the new addition will be commenced.

Three Canines in Belligerent Mood.

Three canines sought trouble last evening and got together on Mill street. The battle was fast and furious and the dogs did plenty of growling. They took up nearly the whole street and several times crowded the sidewalk. When they got on the pavement the pedestrians gave them a wide berth. The noise of the fight drew quite a crowd. The animals were finally separated, with their desire for trouble well satisfied.

Hack Ride to Milton.

A hack ride to Milton will be enjoyed to-day by a party of Danville ladies, the affair being in honor of Miss Mary Woods, of the Cooper Hospital, Camden, N. J. Those who will go are Mrs. William Startzell, Mrs. Simon Hoffman, Misses Bessie Hess, Margaret Breckbill, Annie Held, Annie Wendle, Sara Morgan, Hattie Boudeman, Louisa Shultz and Bertha Welliver.

Every Republican voter should attend the Primaries tomorrow evening.

The original Cuban Giants will play the "Old Timers" at DeWitt's park on Friday and Saturday of this week. Maley and Hummer will fill the points in Friday's game.

DEATH OF REV. DR. MCATEE

Rev. Dr. William A. McAtee, since 1881 pastor of the Grove Presbyterian church, died at the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, on Friday night last. That Dr. McAtee was undergoing hospital treatment was a fact not generally known even by the members of his congregation and the news of his death came as a great shock.

Four weeks ago Monday Dr. McAtee left this city, fully expecting to return before the following Sabbath. He seemed in his usual health; that he was in any way afflicted was not dreamed of. He was next heard from in New York, where he was joined by his wife on the Friday following.

The first surprise came with a letter from Mrs. McAtee stating that Dr. McAtee was about undergoing a surgical operation, a preliminary operation having been already performed. The next tidings brought the news that the operation had been successfully performed and that the patient was doing well. A letter quite foreboding in tone written in New York Friday morning stated that a third operation had been performed, as a result of which Dr. McAtee was very low. The letter, which was received shortly before 8 o'clock, was followed three hours later by a telegram stating that he had passed away during Friday night.

The body arrived at this city Monday on the 12:47 D. L. & W. train accompanied by Mrs. McAtee and Mr. B. F. McAtee, cousin of the deceased clergyman. The funeral taking place from the parsonage, Tuesday at 10 a. m. services being conducted by Rev. Elliott C. Armstrong and Rev. James Carter of Williamsport. The remains were taken to Elmira, N. Y. for interment, leaving South Danville on the 12:15 Pennsylvania train.

Dr. McAtee was a man of extraordinary attainments. As a scholar he had few peers in the Presbyterian church. He was always a student, reading, studying, searching for new facts. He was posted on all subjects—always abreast with the times. As a speaker he was remarkably gifted. Whether in preaching or in conversation his expression was marked with a charm of diction which fascinated one. Unmarked by a word inappropriate or superfluous his elegantly rounded sentences were indeed fit vehicles to convey the ripe thought which marked his discourses. He was a man of strong reasoning power and his sermons, logical, concise, denunciations of wrong yet never uncharitable were gems that were commented upon on every side.

Dr. McAtee was not demonstrative in his manner; he was dignified and to those who knew him only superficially he might have seemed austere and distant, but no conception could be more unjust. A member of the Grove Presbyterian church, whose relations, with the pastor brought their lives very close together Saturday night remarked: "No man had a warmer heart than Dr. McAtee. There was nothing cold or selfish about him. He may have been a man not easily understood but down below the surface he was a mine of love and generosity."

Dr. McAtee was filling his second pastorate at Grove Presbyterian church his first pastorate occupying a period of 5 years between 1874 and 1879.

The funeral of the late Rev. Dr. W. A. McAtee took place Tuesday. Services were held at the manse of the Grove Presbyterian church at 10 a. m. Among those assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased clergyman, in addition to the members of the congregation were several clergymen of this city belonging to other denominations as well as members of the bar and others. Among those from out of town were: Miss Agnes McAtee of Clifton Springs, sister of the deceased; B. F. McAtee, Esq., of Bethlehem, a cousin; Mrs. Sayles and son of Elmira, N. Y.; Thomas Wireman of Harrisburg; Rev. Dr. Hemingway of Bloomsburg; Dr. Watson of Lock Haven, who was a fellow student of Dr. McAtee at college.

The services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Armstrong and Rev. James Carter of Williamsport. Rev. Armstrong read the 23rd psalm and pronounced the benediction. Rev. Carter offered prayer and dwelt at some length upon the life of the deceased. His remarks indeed were most beautiful in their nature and very appropriate eliciting a ready response in the hearts of those assembled. A quartette was rendered by Mrs. W. L. McClure, Miss Weiss, Messrs. A. H. Grono and Harry Titley.

The remains were taken to Elmira, N. Y., for interment, leaving on the 12:15 Pennsylvania train. The pall bearers were Robert J. Pegg, J. B. Gearhart, B. R. Gearhart, Robert Cathcart, George M. Gearhart and J. M. Kelso. R. J. Pegg and George M. Gearhart, along with undertaker John Henrie accompanied the party to Sunbury, returning on the 2:21 Pennsylvania train. The remains were accompanied to Elmira by Mrs. McAtee, Mrs. Sayles and son, B. F. McAtee, Esq., and Thomas Wireman.

To Bore Artesian Well.

Jeremiah Moyer of Roaring Branch, has been given the contract for boring an artesian well at Foust Brothers' brewery, and some of his machinery has already arrived. The well will be bored in the engine room and will go down to a sufficient depth to get a supply of the purest water.

MAKING USE OF RIVER COAL

Several of our industries are replenishing their nearly depleted coal bunkers from a source that was not thought of when the strike began. The supply comes from an extensive mine very near home, one that is easily worked and whose output is unaffected by the strike, namely, the river bottom at Sunbury, which annually yields hundreds of tons of coal of the smaller size brought down from the coal regions by the spring floods.

Our water commissioners have purchased a large quantity of this coal for use at the water works. Two car loads were received at the plant yesterday and will be used today for the first in firing the boilers.

The Danville Stove & Manufacturing company is also using river coal under its boilers, having purchased fifty tons at Sunbury. The coal is thoroughly clean, but seems to have been slightly damaged by its contact with the water, so that to obtain very good results it is necessary to mix a small quantity of soft coal with it.

Several other local industries are using river coal or contemplate giving it a trial. It is considerably cheaper than coal from the mines. But cost has very little to do with it, as our manufacturers may be glad to get hold of it at any price before the summer is over in order to eke out the limited supply of soft coal on hand.

It is a well known fact that coal is deposited along the bottom of the river at intervals between Sunbury and the mouth of the Nesquehanna creek. A large quantity every year lodges a short distance below Danville at the bend of the river. The greater quantity, however, is swept by the swift current down to the junction of the two rivers, where in the dead water this side of the dam it sinks to the bottom.

During the low water of August and September a considerable quantity of coal every year is taken from the river near this place. Owing to the scarcity of coal incident to the strike it is only natural that during the coming summer taking coal from the river may become quite an industry among our citizens.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION tomorrow (Friday) at the usual voting places between the hours of six and eight P. M.

Corpus Christi Procession.

The Corpus Christi procession in honor of the Most Blessed Sacrament took place Sunday at the Holy Family convent. There were four altars, the first at the pavilion, the second near the cemetery, the third at the parochial residence and fourth on the portico of the old mansion.

The procession formed at the chapel, headed by Stoes' band, with the cross, acolytes and candle bearers following. Then came the pupils of St. Hubert's parochial school, the children of the orphanage of the Holy Family convent, the men of St. Joseph's and St. Hubert's parishes, the choir of St. Hubert's church, under the direction of Dr. Stock, flower girls dressed in white, censer bearers, children carrying flags, the Most Blessed Sacrament under a canopy, and the officiating priests.

At the first and second altars the Benediction was given with the Most Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Father Huber, of St. Hubert's church. At the third and fourth altars the Benediction was given with the Most Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Father Feeser, chaplain at the Holy Family convent. The Most Blessed Sacrament was carried from the last altar to the chapel, where Rev. Father Feeser intoned the Deo Deum, joined by the congregation and band. St. Hubert's choir sang at the first and third altars, while the singing at the second and fourth altars was by the Sisters and children.

The beautiful grounds were thronged with visitors and the procession was very large. It started at three o'clock and the entire service was most impressive.

Every Republican voter should attend the Primaries tomorrow evening.

Sustained Compound Fracture.

Ralph Taylor, a 14-year-old boy residing near Sheep's school house, West Hemlock township, broke his leg on Saturday afternoon. He was driving in a truck wagon when his right foot caught between the spokes of the wheel with the result that both bones of the leg below the knee were broken at two places. The fracture was reduced by Drs. Shultz and Barber of this city.

Position Restored.

Joseph H. Barry has been reappointed to his old position as boss carpenter at the Hospital for the Insane and entered upon his duties Monday. Mr. Barry left the Hospital a year and a half ago, after serving as boss carpenter continuously for a period of twenty-seven years.

Toppers Return to Work.

The toppers at the knitting mill who quit work last week because of a difference of opinion over a drop stitch stocking returned to work yesterday morning. The matter has been amicably adjusted and the topping machines will not be removed to Plymouth.

JOINED IN MATRIMONY

The wedding of Miss Cordelia G. Woolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Woolley, to Dr. Thomas B. Holloway of Philadelphia, which took place at the home of the bride at high noon yesterday, proved to be the nuptial event par excellence of the season.

Everything combined to make the wedding auspicious. The day itself was one of the loveliest that ever dawned in the rose month of June. The beautiful residence of the bride's parents never appeared more attractive than yesterday, thronged with the happy assemblage of wedding guests and resplendent under its decoration of flowers.

In the room where the marriage ceremony took place the decorations were entirely white, bride roses and delicate garlands wreathing the bay window and tall palms standing sentinel in the alcove where the bridal party stood. Sprays, great clusters of white peonies, and laurel banded the book cases and mantel. In the drawing room, pink roses and rose colored peonies formed the decorations, garlands of roses trailing across the tall mirrors and hanging in festoons at the doorway. The dining room and hall were gay in their festive dress of red roses, peonies and laurel, so that June seemed to have emptied its wealth of roses at the feet of the bride.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Erskine Wright, rector of Christ Episcopal church. To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, rendered by Mrs. Colvin of New York the bride came down the broad flower wreathed stair case preceded by the flower girl, little Cordelia Frick, and followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. John R. Sharpless of Hazleton.

Mr. Robert H. Woolley met his daughter at the foot of the stairs and led her to the library door where the groom with his brother, W. Dosh Holloway, joined her. They walked to the flowered alcove where the officiating clergyman awaited them and the ceremony was performed.

Miss Woolley's dress was of white Paris muslin trimmed with lace and insertion and finished with a sash and stock collar of white satin. In her arms she carried a huge loose bunch of white roses. Her matron of honor wore white and carried pink roses and the small flower girl.

A large reception followed the ceremony, attended by friends of the family in Danville and many from neighboring towns. The luncheon which was served on the third floor, was the most recherche and elegant.

An entire room on second floor was filled with the many and costly wedding gifts, which testified to the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway left on the 2:31 train for a wedding journey and later will be at home at their new and beautifully furnished residence in West Philadelphia.

Among the guests were the following from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sharpless of Hazleton; Mr. and Mrs. Myron Low, Lime Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. VanAllen, Northumberland; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Kirkendall, Wilkesbarre; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schreyer, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kelly, Sunbury; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rhoads, Natchez, Miss.; Mrs. Frederick L. Smith, Hazleton; Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, Berwick; Mrs. John Doris, Huntingdon; Mrs. Edward Colvin, New York City; Mrs. C. Z. Otis, Binghamton, N. Y.; Mrs. Joseph Nohsitt, Lewisburg; Mrs. Stuart Curry, Mooresburg; The Misses Jewitt, New York City; Miss Francis, Lewisburg; Miss Woolley, Lime Ridge; Miss DeLong, Philadelphia; Miss Sade Sloan, Bloomsburg; Miss Elizabeth Frick, Deal Beach, N. J.; The Misses Eckman, Roaring Creek; Miss Otis, Binghamton, N. Y.; Mr. Fred Godcharles and Mr. Harry Chamberlin, Milton.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION tomorrow (Friday) at the usual voting places between the hours of six and eight P. M.

A Pretty Home Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Linker, on West Mahoning street, was the scene of a pretty home wedding yesterday morning when their daughter, Clara E. Linker, and Joseph W. Ephlin, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The ceremony, which took place at 10:30 o'clock, was performed by Rev. L. D. Ulrich, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church. Miss Gertrude Linker, a niece of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and the best man was W. C. Stewart of Wilkesbarre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ephlin left on the 11:25 Reading train for a trip to Tanawana. They will reside at the corner of Front and Cedar streets, this city, and will be at home after June 9.

Are Now at Monte Carlo.

Mrs. Emma Heller has received a letter from her daughter, Mrs. Harry Thomas, stating that she and her husband are now at Monte Carlo. They expect to visit Mr. Thomas' uncle, Hon. W. W. Thomas, United States Senator to Sweden, after which they will go to Iceland and Greenland. They expect to arrive in Danville in September, where they will remain during the winter.

SOLICITORS BEGIN WORK

The call for a citizens' meeting was responded to Tuesday by some forty business men and others mostly residents of the First and Third Wards, who placed the project of a Fourth of July celebration by the citizens firmly upon its feet. The meeting which was held in the Grand Jury room, was called to order by Burgess W. G. Pursel, Ralph Kimer, Esq., was chosen chairman and William A. Sechler, secretary.

C. P. Hancock explained that there was a balance of $119 on hand left over from a Fourth of July demonstration gotten up by the citizens three years ago. In order to make this money available for the present demonstration, he said, the celebration will have to be one solely by the citizens. This, he held, would not be much of an event without the participation of the different fire companies and other organizations. He understood, he said, that the Continental Fire company itself is planning to hold a celebration. He questioned whether the field was not already occupied so as to leave no room for a demonstration by the citizens.

At this juncture Thomas Trainor on behalf of the Continental Fire company took the floor and explained that that organization was ready at any time to abandon the demonstration as planned by it and to fall in with the citizens in an observance of the day.

On motion it was ordered that a committee of four be appointed by the president to act in conjunction with himself in appointing solicitors and making arrangements in general. The following were appointed as a committee: Burgess W. G. Pursel, John L. Evans, C. P. Hancock and Dr. Jno. Sweidort.

At nine o'clock the meeting adjourned to reconvene at the call of the president. The committee remained, as it was essential that no time be lost in getting solicitors at work. It was the sense of the committee that no less than $800 would be required to get up a creditable Fourth of July celebration, also that soliciting should begin at once and that if the responses are not sufficiently encouraging the attempt to hold a celebration by the citizens should be abandoned.

The following were appointed as solicitors: First Ward—John L. Evans, Sam. A. McCoy and Frank G. Schoch. Second Ward—Robert Pursel, John L. Jones and Albert Kemmer. Third Ward—D. C. Williams, Michael Ryan and F. H. Foster. Fourth Ward—Alex. Foster, Andrew Schatz and J. T. Magill.
