PENNYPACKER'S SPEECH

What the Republican Leader in His Centre Hall Speech.

FEW HINTS TO EX-GOV. PATTISON

The Policies of the Republican Party In State and Nation Outlined—Some Facts For the "Man With the Hoe." Great Crowds Listen.

Following is the speech in full of Judge Pennypacker, delivered at Centre Hall, on the opening of the present campaign:

"Some time ago I was the president judge of one of the courts of common pleas in Philadelphia, but that situation has disappeared, and now I have no other vocation in life than that of a farmer.

"As the owner of a farm in Montgomery county and of another in Chester county, to that extent at least I may claim to have a community of interest with you and a place in this large assemblage.

"I also appear before you as the candidate of the Republican party for the office of governor of this grand and exceptionally great commonwealth, and I know of no class in the community who are more vitally interested in the maintenance and furtherance of those principles and the support of that party which has brought about the present prosperous condition of affairs than the owner and workers upon the farm.

"The only way to judge of parties and of men is by their fruits and not by their promises alone.

"For 60 years prior to 1861 the Democratic party had control of the affairs of this state and in the main those of the country. It was the same state, with the same glorious early memories, the same wealth which the Lord had given to it in its deposits of iron, coal and oil, the same beautiful streams and green meadows for the pasture of cattle which have made Lancaster county the richest agricultural county in America, and the same industrious and God-fearing people that we have now anxious and willing to turn the soil with labor that they might be gladdened with the returns or harvest.

"THE REPUBLICAN POLICY.

"It has ever been the policy of the Republican party to build up and maintain the manufactures of the country, and around every mill for the making of iron, steel, carpet, silk and even tin, which latter were told only a few years ago could not be produced in this country, are gathered the homes of the laborers and their families. Since that party came into power the population has grown more than in the century before, and all are consumers of beef, corn, wheat and potatoes. All must live upon what the farmer has to sell them. That policy is now doing even more. The success which has followed upon it has developed strength and courage upon the part of our manufacturers and merchants, and they are reaching out in all directions for the trade of the world. Everywhere the American products are being introduced, and not only the wealth which is created at home, but that of farther India is being poured into our lap.

DEMOCRATIC DEBT $40,000,000.

"From 1837 to 1842, under the operation of the anti-tariff legislation of 1833, a cow and a calf sold in the spring of the year for $8, and corn and potatoes only brought in the market 2 1/2 cents a bushel. In 1857 a railway company in Philadelphia advertised for 250 men at 60 cents a day wages, and there were 5,000 applicants. When the Democratic party surrendered control of the state in 1861 there was a state debt of over $40,000,000.

"To meet the exigencies of that debt and the necessities of the state government taxes were imposed not only upon farm land and horses and cattle, but upon all trades and occupations. The only real disgrace which the history of Pennsylvania discloses was when, under Democratic management, in 1843, there was a temporary repudiation of the state debt.

"During the 40 years in which the Republican party has conducted our state affairs that debt has been reduced at the rate of a million dollars a year, until at the present time it practically no longer exists. The taxation of the farmer's land and herds of cattle for the purposes of the state have been brought to an end, and the revenues necessary for the annual expenditure have been imposed upon the corporations. There are in the treasury over $12,000,000.

PATTISON SHOULD ANSWER.

"The distinguished gentleman who leads the opposition said in his speech at Reading the other day that taxation is unequal and that a greater proportion of the burden ought to be laid upon personal property. If he means by that suggestion that a greater burden ought to be imposed upon horses and cattle, corn and wheat, it would be a return to the old order of things, and not an advance. If he means that a greater burden ought to be imposed upon the earnings of corporations, it is certain that the principle was discovered and applied not by the Democrats but by the Republican party.

"The reason for the taxation of land is historical rather than logical. If you were to read the Commentaries of Coke upon Littleton you would find that the whole law at that time was devoted to questions arising out of the ownership of real estate. At the time of the settlement of Pennsylvania there was no investment in real estate in this land, and even in the days of our grandfathers an increase in individual wealth meant an accumulation of one farm after another and perchance a mill.

"The leaders of the Republican party were the first to get away from the traditions of the past and mentally to perceive that the conditions of life had changed. The principle adopted by them ought gradually and wisely to be extended further, so that the expenditures necessary for the maintenance of roads, county improvements and county expenses should be provided for not by taxing one class and imposing the burden upon another, but by a system under which all property, corporate as well as individual, should contribute according to its value.

PERIODS OF DEPRESSION.

"The history of the world shows that every once in a while occurs a period when such a spirit of unrest seizes upon the people that they have been willing to abandon their homes and lands in quest of other and better fortunes. Time and again there have been great deprecations of the value of lands in England and in all other countries. Somewhat similar causes produced in earlier ages the imporing of masses into Europe from the East and to settlement of this country and the flow of people from New England to the far West. About 1750 land fell very much in value and there were during the next few years extensive emigrations from Pennsylvania to Canada to the Genesee country in New York and to the Shenandoah Valley and Kentucky. During the last twenty-five years we have been going through a period in which the conditions were such that in the East at least the value of farm lands was decreasing, the amount of farm mortgages were accumulating, and the farmers were unrewarded for their toil, unhappy and discontented.

"The general cause of this condition of things is easily to be seen. The opening of numerous railroads throughout the country affording facilities for the transportation of grain from the interior to the seaboard, has brought the Eastern farmer with his high priced lands into competition with the West, where a rich soil hitherto unused, and, therefore, productive without fertilizers, could be secured for a nominal consideration. It was a temporary condition, and it is rapidly passing away.

"The governmental and railroad lands of the West are occupied, with each year they become less productive, and great centers of population like Chicago, St. Louis and Denver are calling upon the territories surrounding them for food.

THE MAN WITH THE HOE.

"When the world catches up with its supply of wheat, and the time is ripe to come, and is not far distant, the man with the hoe, if you choose with the plow and reaper and binder, will have his grip on the situation.

"The great revival of business which began with the return of Mr. Cleveland to private life, which has given the manufacturer wealth and his employees abundant and well paid labor, is now beginning to affect the farmer. Every family which influences a good or ill financial affairs, whether in the stock market, then the mills and marts, and last of all, the farmer, who represents the most conservative and stable of all classes in the community. Already we feel the zephyrs which precede the ripple which is the harbinger of the great wave. Within the last two years corn, oats, horses and cattle have all enhanced in value, and it is inevitable that with the increase of the value of farm produce, unless we do something to interfere with existing conditions, there must be an advance in the value of farm lands.

"Like every one else the farmer reaps a benefit from the general prosperity, but he has a double reason for being interested in the success of the Republican cause.

"It has ever been the policy of the Republican party to build up and maintain the manufactures of the country, and around every mill for the making of iron, steel, carpet, silk and even tin, which latter were told only a few years ago could not be produced in this country, are gathered the homes of the laborers and their families. Since that party came into power the population has grown more than in the century before, and all are consumers of beef, corn, wheat and potatoes. All must live upon what the farmer has to sell them. That policy is now doing even more. The success which has followed upon it has developed strength and courage upon the part of our manufacturers and merchants, and they are reaching out in all directions for the trade of the world. Everywhere the American products are being introduced, and not only the wealth which is created at home, but that of farther India is being poured into our lap.

A PICTURE OF THE FUTURE.

"It means, unless we are unwise enough to interrupt and interfere with the tide which is carrying us forward, that this is in the near future to be a country of immense wealth, teeming with happy and prosperous people. The great centers of population which have arisen along the Thames and Seine will be dwarfed in comparison with those which will be found along the Hudson and the Delaware. The development we have seen within the last few years around Pittsburgh and on the Pennsylvania Railroad outside of Philadelphia, where farm lands have risen in a brief period from a hundred to thousands of dollars per acre in value, is but a manifestation of what is sure to happen in many other localities, unless we ourselves by unwise conduct prevent it.

"The Democrats themselves participate in the welfare which everywhere exists, and are enjoying the benefits which have resulted from the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt. It is doubtful whether they, unless it be the few who are only anxious about the office, really want a change, and if they do, they ought in all kindness to be protected from the consequences of their want of good judgment. For the Republicans of Pennsylvania to fall would be in the present, as it has been in the past, the first step in a career of disaster which would inflict irreparable injury upon the whole American people, Republicans and Democrats alike."

It will do you more good to acknowledge your faults than it will do your enemies.—Atchison Globe.

QUALITY COUNTS. In buying Watches, Jewelry, Silverware, Diamonds, etc., unless you are sure of the quality, prices don't count. Ten years of business has proven that things purchased from Rempe must be good, as our guarantee is back of every article we sell. HENRY REMPE, Jeweler and Silversmith.

A LETTER FROM JOHN MITCHELL

The Iron Moulders' Union of this city yesterday received a letter from John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers' Union, returning thanks for the sum of money donated as the proceeds of chancing off a stove, a full account of which was printed in these columns Monday morning.

The committee appointed by the Moulders' Union, consisting of David Rishel, chairman, Michael Tierney, secretary; R. W. Fasterman, treasurer; John Richards, John Herick, John Jenkins and Joseph Gibson on Monday forwarded the money raised—$235.30—to strike headquarters at Wilkesbarre.

The letter dated September 23, which was received yesterday, is addressed to Michael Tierney, Secretary, and signed by John Mitchell, who acknowledges the receipt of the money and on behalf of the miners returns heartfelt thanks. He assures the moulders that the money donated will be used to relieve some of those in distress.

In conclusion Mr. Mitchell says: "I regret to say that there appears to be no immediate prospect of a settlement; but with the support of our fellow unionists we feel confident of our ability to continue the contest for an indefinite period and feel secure that the mine workers will yet secure adequate wages sufficiently high to enable them to maintain themselves and their families and place them in a position where they can repay in part at least the trade unionists who have so generously assisted them in this, their hour of need."

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedy which science has been able to cure in all stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing the work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Death of a Former Resident.

John McMullen, formerly a resident of East Danville, died last week at his home in Corning, New York. He was aged 59 years and went from this city to Corning about twenty years ago. He held a responsible position at the Corning Brick, Terra Cotta and Tile works and was highly esteemed. The funeral was under the direction of Rathbun Post, No. 277, G. A. R., of which Mr. McMullen was a member. During the war he served from 1861 until 1866 in Battery F, Second Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery, being a first sergeant when mustered out. He leaves a wife, one daughter, Mrs. B. M. Lyon, of Corning; a son, Charles McMullen, of New York City; two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Baylor and Mrs. Edward Rishel, of this city; and a brother, Samuel McMullen, of Natalie. The funeral was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Baylor, Mr. and Mrs. Rishel, and Mrs. William Waite, of Sugar Notch, a sister-in-law of Mr. McMullen.

A Commemoration.

Mr. Editor.—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis, and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. Brookman, Bagwell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by Paules & Co. 312 Mill street.

Christian Endeavor Rally.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Mahoning Presbyterian church will observe next Sunday as "Rally Day." Rev. Charles A. Oliver of York, Pa., State Superintendent of Evangelistic work, will lead the meeting. Visitors from other societies are most cordially invited. Services will begin at 6:15 p. m.

The local river "coal miners" are getting $6.00 per ton for their coal and are not overly anxious to sell at that figure.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying or exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 30 cents at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head, immediately dissolves when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.

Has Resigned Position.

Lester W. Seeman, who has been employed in the barber shop of George Malters for several months has resigned the position and has returned to his home in Williamsport, where he will work in a barber shop owned by his father. He will be succeeded by John Carskadden, who comes here from Williamsport.

Levi Miller was tendered a surprise party at his home on East Market street, Tuesday evening, in honor of his 60th birthday. A large number of friends were present and all enjoyed themselves immensely. Supper was served during the evening.

Poorly?

For two years I suffered terribly from dyspepsia, with great depression, and was always feeling poorly. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and in one week I was a new man.—John McDonald, Philadelphia, Pa.

Don't forget that it's "Ayer's" Sarsaparilla that will make you strong and hopeful. Don't waste your time and money by trying some other kind. Use the old, tested, tried, and true Ayer's Sarsaparilla. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

A DESERTER FROM U. S. ARMY

A case at court yesterday involving the charge of desertion by Halderman was brought summarily to a close by the discovery that the defendant had the more serious charge of desertion from the regular army to answer for.

The case was that of Commonwealth vs. Elmer C. Halderman, who was arrested in and in default of bail committed to jail in September 15, Halderman enlisted at Williamsport on April 24, 1901. When he appeared in Danville during the past summer our local police who were aware of his enlistment suspected that he had deserted and they addressed a letter to the Adjutant General, War Department, making inquiries. In reply our Chief of Police received a letter from Major H. A. Greene, Assistant Adjutant General, who stated that Elmer C. Halderman was a deserter at large, having run away from Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he was a member of the 12th U. S. Cavalry.

Halderman pleaded guilty to the charge on which he was arrested. The court however upon learning that the defendant was wanted by the United States authorities suspended sentence. In a day or so Halderman will be taken to New York by Officer Voris and delivered over into the government's hands.

Nature has just one pigment on her palette with which she professes all the marvelous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The sick-like pink color of the face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are very effective in riding the system of clogging residues, which accumulate with constipated habit.

A Good Circus.

Welsh Bros. shows drew two fair sized audiences, despite the inclement weather yesterday afternoon and evening, and left satisfied spectators never left a circus tent. From the time the grand entry took place until the close of the performance, the acts followed each other quickly, and there was just enough to keep the eyes and mind busy and not enough to confuse one, as is the case with the three-ring shows. The performances furnished two full hours of solid enjoyment, including some of the very best to be seen in any circus. The trained animals are wonderful. The clowns are very funny. Best of all they speak their pieces and do not rely alone on pantomime to make good in the humor line. Welsh Brothers have enlarged their show to a great extent and it is their intention to make it even larger next season. Their performances are always clean and interesting.

Suspected of Another Murder.

A New York special yesterday says: Police Captain Schmitzberger, who commands the precinct in which Mrs. Annie Pulitzer was murdered, is working on a theory that William Hooper Young may have been connected with the murder of Mrs. Kate Feeley, who was enticed away and hanged to pieces October 3, 1899. Mrs. Feeley lived in the flat of Mrs. Johanna Lucie, 154 West Seventeenth street. A man called at the house and asked her to go around the corner and attend his sick wife. She went with him and was never seen afterward. Parts of a body supposed to be hers, were found afterward. Captain Schmitzberger commanded the precinct where Mrs. Feeley lived.

A Big Enrollment.

Bucknell university opened the fall term most auspiciously last week. The number of accessions to the college is 129, of which number 116 are in the Freshman class. All the other departments, also, have large accessions. The total enrollment is over six hundred. A number of students entered from other colleges.

SHADES COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Lewis Shades, whose arrest Tuesday was given a hearing before Justice Oglesby yesterday morning. Jacob Engle on whose premises brass stolen from the P. & R. railway was found testified during his trial, Tuesday, that he had purchased it of Lewis Shades. The latter pleaded not guilty before Justice Oglesby. In default of $300 bail he was committed to jail to await trial or until released by due course of law. He was let out on bail last evening.

Watter Cure for Chronic Constipation.

Take two cups of hot water half an hour before each meal and just before going to bed, also a drink of water, hot or cold, about two hours after each meal. Take lots of outdoor exercise—walk, ride, drive. Make a regular habit of this and in many cases chronic constipation may be cured without the use of any medicine. When a purgative is required take something mild and gentle like Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Paules & Co. 312 Mill street.

Mrs. Anna Wartz, Cherry street, on Tuesday evening was tendered a surprise party. Among the guests were the following: Mesdames Mitchell, Mann, Hommerly, Wilson, Johnson, Toog, Birks, Keefe, Wartz, Heiss, Cromley, Morgan, Elwell, Misses Elsie, Beatrice and Sadie Keefe, Misses Amanda and Anna Heiss, Misses Nell and Mary Toog, Miss Edith Huntington, Miss Edna Wartz, Master Francis Wartz.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, impure blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that kidney troubles were to be traced to kidney, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

WHERE PAIN MOST HURTS.

Extreme Sensitiveness of the Fifth and Dental Nerves. Which part of the human body is the most sensitive to pain? A sharp definition must be drawn here between irritation and pain. Irritation is not pain, but only a frequent cause of it. Thus, a crumb lodged in the larynx near the vocal cords produced violent irritation and prolonged coughing, which often results in a bad pain. So, too, a fly or speck of dust in the eye sets up violent irritation and inflammation, followed by acute pain. Of the surface of the body, the finger tips and the end of the tongue are most sensitive. For instance, a burn on the fingers is much more painful than one on the back would be, while one on the tongue would be more painful still.

Deep wounds are not painful, as a rule, save as regards the surface here. Pain is not caused by external injuries, neuralgia of the fifth nerve, the one which supplies the skin of the head and face, is the most intense. It has frequently driven people mad for the time being, and sufferers have been known to cut and even burn the flesh in desperate attempts to relieve it. The rupture of the branches of the dental nerve in tooth drawing also causes agony so intense that it has been stated that no human being could endure it for more than two seconds at a time.—Pearson's Weekly.

Trading on the Niger.

A recent traveler on the Niger writes: "I was anxious to buy some fruit from a native woman who came down to the ship, and to this end I produced a handful of coppers which I had brought out from England. I first showed her five, then six, seven and eight, but she pushed them all aside in a most unceremonious manner. Moved by way of a joke than anything else, I then produced a three penny piece, which she at once accepted, giving me in return just twice as much as I had asked for my eight coppers. I also discovered that she had a great quantity of white glass bottles, which I happened to have about half a dozen empty soda water bottles, for which she gave me the same number of eggs. I afterward found that any white glass bottle had this purchasing power all over Nigeria. The natives send them to Biafra where they are melted and made into rings about three or four inches in diameter, to be worn either as armlets or anklets."

The Bark of a Dog.

Strangely enough, barking, which seems to us so characteristic of the dog, is not one of its natural sounds at all. No wild dogs bark, and what is more remarkable, if dogs are isolated for a long time from their human masters they seem to lose the faculty. Thus a number of dogs turned loose on Juan Fernandez Island were found in thirty-three years to have completely lost the habit, but to be able to re-acquire it. On the other hand, wolf puppies, as well as young wild dogs, if reared among tame ones, readily learn to bark. It almost seems as if the sound were differentiated from the howling and yelping natural to the wild canine in order to communicate with man and serve his purpose. It is worth observing that the habit can be eliminated when desired, as in some breeds of dogs favored by poachers.

Historic Trees.

Litchfield, Conn., has more historic trees than any other town in New England. Among others are two elms planted by John C. Calhoun, a general more said to be one of the thirteen planted by Oliver Wolcott, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and named after the thirteen original colonies; an elm which served as a whipping post in colonial days, and a wild rose which grew from a walking stick stuck in the ground by Colonel Talmadge, the American officer who captured Major Andre, the British spy.
