SENATOR QUAY'S GREAT SPEECH

He Challenges Proof of the Charges Made by Democrats.

DEPENDS PARTY'S POLICIES

And Points to its Achievements In the State For Forty Years.

NATIONAL ISSUES IN CAMPAIGN

There Will Be No Tariff Changes, He Declares, As Long As Pennsylvania Holds Her Position In the Republican Ranks—A Great Pittsburg Meeting.

The Carnegie Music Hall, Pittsburg, was packed to its capacity last Friday night to hear United States Senator Quay, chairman of the Republican State Committee, discuss the issues of the campaign.

HON. WILLIAM M. BROWN.

Senator Quay's speech was one of the most striking ever delivered by a political leader. He unreservedly defied the Democratic assaults of the Republican party to prove their assertions, and declared that the policy of protection was safe as long as Pennsylvania stood firm in line.

Attempts have been made by Democratic newspapers to distort the speech and for that reason it is here given in full. Senator Quay said: The conditions in the Republican stronghold in Allegheny county are not happy. I remember the fable of the man who interfered in the battle between husband and wife, and if I were to pronounce upon the merit of your present controversy I would not be here. Always I have stood for party regularity. Always since the Republican party was organized I have voted a straight Republican ticket.

Many of my best friends at times have disagreed with this policy, but generally I have found them dissatisfied in the end with the result of their experiment. In alliances with the Democratic party the Democrats always get the oyster, the Republicans get the shell. Some gentlemen in Allegheny county in 1890 assisted to place Mr. Pattison in the gubernatorial chair and will remember the bitter recriminations and disappointments they experienced at his hands.

Within more recent years some of your people in the legislature became involved with the Democracy in a lock-up of the United States senatorship at Harrisburg. Since then they have endured much buffeting whilst the Democracy thrived and laughed. I hope my friends in what is known as the Citizens' party may do better than this, but I fear they will do worse.

NO TARIFF REVISION.

We in Pennsylvania are satisfied with existing conditions, and as to revision, will have none. Adapters may cry "revision," "revision," but there will be no revision while Pennsylvania maintains her commanding position in the Republican party and a nation—a position she can only maintain by absolute harmony in council and unity in action among her Republican voters.

The present campaign of the Democracy in Pennsylvania presents a spectacle unique in its effort to obliterate the evidence of the existence of that party and the memory of its misdeeds.

They merely scold and defame public officials, before the reputation of the state which shelters them, bark at Quay and vouch for their own integrity. You have all heard their cries of agony evoked by the consciousness that their fellow men were so much worse than they. I need not recapitulate and I reply, it is false that any member of the last legislature was paid to vote for Mr. Marshall for the speakership of the house. If it is true, who was the member who paid him and what was the amount paid?

It is false that any member of the senate or house of representatives was paid to vote for me for United States senator. If it is true, who was the person purchased, who paid the money and what was the amount paid?

A LIE NAILED. It is false that I was elected by any coalition with Democrats. My majority of 12 included just one Democrat, who voted against my express wish.

It is false that the vote of a single delegate was purchased in the late Republican state convention. If it is true, who was the delegate? What was the amount paid and who paid it? It will be remembered that the same charge was made by a distinguished and defeated candidate for governor before the Democratic state convention, which met at Altoona in 1896 and nominated Mr. Jenks.

It is false that Samuel W. Pennypacker was my "self-selected" candidate. There were two men in Pennsylvania who were absolutely hostile to the suggestion of Judge Pennypacker's name; one was Judge Pennypacker, the other was M. S. Quay. It was very certain that the broad-minded leaders of the opposition would make a personal campaign upon the ground that the great grandfather of Judge Pennypacker was the half-brother of my grandfather, and the prospect was not pleasant. Judge Pennypacker himself preferred the bench to the executive chair.

As to legislative corruption there may be evil spirits in the legislature, as in all civic and military bodies, but to denounce a legislature as corrupt upon the newspaper assertion of the corruption of one or two of its members, is as equivalent as to charge that the people of Pittsburg were thieves because a thief had been arrested on your streets.

HONESTY MUST GIVE NAMES.

I see that my friend Hensel has experienced a sudden attack of Quay-phobia and that he is in trouble because of corruption which will only be brought to light upon the challenge of Senator Pennypacker or Senator Quay. Whenever the case met who over the criminal, I challenge Mr. Hensel to produce his charges, his specifications and his proof. If he does not, he falls to his own ruin.

The probabilities of the opposition produce will have among all anti-corruption at Harrisburg which they claim were fully established. First, there was the scandal on the Clarion Normal School. It was asserted that $2,500 had been paid to the legislature for an appropriation to that institution.

Have seen no statement anywhere to establish that it had been actually paid nor by whom, nor to whom it was paid. The only member of the legislature named in its connection were two Democrats, one of whom has been re-nominated.

It was alleged also by the same circle of scandal mongers that a bill for 1896 was made out against Mr. Harris, the present state treasurer.

Investigation disclosed that Mr. Harris was a member of the legislature who had returned after the legislature had adjourned at the request of the officers of a Clearfield county institution to represent them before the governor, and had returned a bill for $100 or $200 for that service and other extra legislative services in their behalf which the institution had refused to pay. That was the extent of the horrible case of corruption in Clearfield county.

Apparatus is said that my friend, David R. Oliver, is coauthor of a case in point—indeed, I have read his speech, which was direct and pertinent, but Mr. Oliver does not disclose the identity of the heavy villain in the case nor the attendant circumstances. Mr. Oliver should give them to the public. He should have to the line, let the chips fall where they may.

These are the only instances, so far as I have found, produced by the scandal mongers to sustain their charges that the state which gives them shelter and has given them prominence and wealth is debauched, robbed and misgoverned.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. And now I desire to present to you some statistics bearing upon the alleged misgovernment of the state of Pennsylvania, a state whose only cause to blush is that her own children are traducers. I assert that Pennsylvania is the best governed state in this Union—look at her educational system.

Under the Democratic administration in 1860 the amount appropriated for common schools was $280,000. In 1868 the Republicans had removed the state tax from real estate and increased the common school appropriation to 75 per cent. over 1860.

In 1874 they had increased it 374 per cent. over 1860, and at the last session of the legislature it was increased more than 500 per cent. over 1874.

From 1851 to 1860, inclusive, the last ten years of Democratic control, the amount appropriated for common schools was $15,550,000. From 1883 to 1892, inclusive, were $21,000,000, showing an increase in the past ten years over the preceding ten years of over 250 per cent.

The appropriations for salaries of county superintendents of common schools from 1883 to 1892, inclusive, were $1,062,000. From 1883 to 1892, inclusive, were $860,000.

The amount paid by that state to its counties for school purposes at the rate of $1.45 for each unenrolled youth, was $1,759,229.23, which the real estate of the counties contributed all but $490,725.53, while the tax upon horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, etc., paid a large part of the last named amount. This tax on real estate was in addition to the local school taxes.

Pennsylvania pays about $4 each for her total number of pupils, and its real estate contributes nothing.

During and since the Civil War to May 31, 1902 Pennsylvania has expended for the support and education of soldiers' and sailors' orphans $11,573,829.92.

Over 17,000 of such pupils have been admitted to her soldiers' orphans' schools and we nearly one hundred, and educating nearly eleven hundred.

Another comparison of great importance may be cited. The state of debt of Pennsylvania in 1861 was $9,448,213.82, or over $19.21 for every man, woman and child within its borders. Today the state debt of Pennsylvania is not five cents per capita.

The annual interest on our state debt in 1860 was $1,960,000. Today it is practically nothing.

AS TO BALLOT REFORM. The Republican state committee at its recent session appointed sub-committees to formulate new ballot and primary election laws. Their report was published on an early date, but the chairman of one of the committees has been in the field with the National Guard, and the other committee, after giving full hearings to interested parties, is awaiting the report of two distinguished attorneys, Hon. Alexander Simpson and Hon. Richard C. Dale, who are engaged in the preparation of a ballot reform bill.

When these committees are ready to report the Republican organization will take position. Speaking for myself, the Van Dyke primary law, which passed the house of representatives at the last session of the legislature, was as fair and effective an instrument as could be framed.

My own presence would be for a return to the old law, which permitted every voter to write or print his own ballot; with a proviso that each voter shall enter a private booth alone and in which he shall seal his ballot in an official envelope, which he shall hand to the clerk in the office. This would prevent espionage upon the voter, secure an absolutely free vote and rid us of the present litigious and cumbersome ballot and mushroom parties. I regret to say that my views do not seem to impress the distinguished jurists now operating upon the issue.

HENSEL TAKES WATER

The Democratic Ex-Attorney General Refuses to Accept Quay's Challenge. The defiance of Senator Quay to Democratic Ex-Attorney General W. H. Hensel and his associates, following his recent denunciation that he would reveal the names of members of the legislature who had been bribed, was met with a back-down. Hensel failed distinctly to name any one.

It was in Philadelphia at the Academy of Music on Saturday night last and a more complete political back-down was never seen in state politics. Hensel was the star speaker at the Democratic mass meeting. When he came to Senator Quay's defiance, uttered in Pittsburg the night before, he endeavored to turn it aside.

Instead of answering Quay's demand that he give the names of the bribed and bribers, he invited Senator Quay to make his queries on that subject of some one else.

The Philadelphia Press had this to say of the Hensel fiasco: "Disappointment was the central feature of the Democratic meeting at the Academy of Music last night. The big auditorium was only half filled at 8 o'clock, when the managers, who had been hopefully awaiting the arrival of more persons, reluctantly forced their star attractions onto the stage and called less than 1,500 people to order.

The chief disappointment, however, was for the comparatively small number of persons present—most of them had been attracted by the Pittsburg challenge of Senator Quay to former Attorney General Hensel to be specific in his charges of corruption and name members of the legislature who were bribed, the amounts they received and the men who paid them. Following the many charges of bribery and this bold note of defiance to the Democrats from Senator Quay the expectation was general among those who were present in the Academy of Music last night that Mr. Hensel would say something sensational. He did not, however.

The Press then gives some quotations from Hensel's back down speech, refusing to give names or specifics.

What Mr. Hensel failed to say was that all rumors of bribery concerned Democrats, members of his own party, and for that reason he did not dare to mention names.

This coded the Democratic sensation being given by Hensel, and promptly questioned by State Chairman Quay.

A Child's Narrow Escape. A thrilling spectacle occurred on Ferry street near Evans' stone yard late Saturday afternoon. A four-year old child of Peter Welsh, who resides near the D. L. & W. railroad, was playing in the street when Oberdorfer's junk wagon came driving along at a leisurely trot. The driver did not see the child until he was upon it. The position of the little one was such as to lead the driver to suppose that it was clear of the wagon. The front wheel had just passed when the child by a sudden movement thrust its head in front of the hind wheel which struck it on the neck running over its neck and shoulder.

The driver stopped the wagon and jumping out picked up the child and carried it into the house to its mother. Remarkable as it may seem the little one was not seriously injured.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not exactly from it. The body is weak and the blood is impoverished.

The pocket can be mended, the stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for all most all disorders of these organs, and cures such diseases as indigestion, blood liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.
