THE VIEWS OF AN EXPERT

"Lying at its very doors Danville has all the material that is required for the building up of a great and profitable industry that would enrich its citizens and give the town a prominence that would extend far and wide.

Such in effect were the words of George Francis, an expert in the manufacture of vitrified brick who is at present in Danville.

Mr. Francis, who is foreman of Manufacturing under the Vitrified Brick and Tile Company of Coffeyville, Kansas, conducted the experiments last winter with the shale sent out from this city, which resulted in the discovery that the deposit here in quality is simply unsurpassed for the manufacture of vitrified brick.

The gentleman was interviewed Monday afternoon by a representative of the Morning News. Mr. Francis left Danville sixteen years ago. When he became identified with the manufacture of vitrified brick at Coffeyville the business was in its infancy.

As to the quality of the Danville shale which is generally known, lies along the P. & R. railway just north of the borough, Mr. Francis states, it is far more valuable than the big deposits near Coffeyville, which up to late years has always been considered the best in the United States.

In regard to the demand for vitrified brick Mr. Francis is of the opinion that that which may be relied upon to take care of itself. In many localities of the west shale brick have crowded the ordinary mud brick nearly out of the market and are used instead of the latter for sidewalks and in building, even for foundation purposes.

Mr. Francis thinks that a plant could be operated here with a maximum of profit. The ground has been deposited, which seems unlimited in extent, is remarkably easy of access.

SCHOOLS FOR TEACHERS

Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer has given out advance sheets of his annual report as Superintendent of Public Instruction. He shows that the number of pupils enrolled during the year ending last June was 1,163,509, and the number of teachers was 39,640.

The conference yesterday afternoon after Mr. Darrow's announcement that terms had been agreed upon came to a sudden termination through the receipt of a despatch to Mr. Wayne MacVeach, representing the Pennsylvania Coal Company and the Hillside Coal and Iron Company, notifying him that at a meeting of the anthracite coal road men in New York today it had been decided not to grant an interview to Mr. Mitchell and his associates, who had been suggested for Friday next.

The report suggests that one enumeration instead of two during the odd years of all children between 6 and 16 years for school assessment purposes would be a saving of money in every county.

On the question of reciprocity in teachers' licenses Dr. Schaeffer says it does not seem wise to change the method of granting permanent certificates. No change in policy is recommended, even though full reciprocity in teachers' licenses be far distant.

In this age, Dr. Schaeffer says, the school master should know more than he is required to teach. Instruction acquires its best flavor when given by a teacher of culture and scholarship.

The new course in the State Normal Schools now covers three years. Dr. Schaeffer says the best is not too good for the pupils of our public schools.

Dr. Schaeffer highly recommends the teachers who spend much of their time at summer schools. In this connection he recommends some provision for summer training for those teachers who cannot afford to attend summer schools at a great distance from their homes.

Dr. Schaeffer says something should be done to raise the minimum salary of teachers. Good work cannot be expected from teachers who get less than $30 a month.

The small appropriation of $50,000 has stimulated the establishment of high schools in a number of townships. Sixty-six township high schools came up to the legal standard and received their share of aid.

In conclusion, Dr. Schaeffer recommends that more attention should be given to the making of a satisfactory school curriculum. He says the work must begin in the Normal schools.

His Heart on Right Side. A dispatch from Beech Creek says that while examining Ernest Rupert, Dr. Saylor J. McGhee made the startling discovery that the boy's heart is on his right side, in a position corresponding to the normal location on the left side.

A New Departure in Banking. The Danville National Bank announces to its friends and patrons and the public generally that it has opened a Savings Department in connection with its regular business and will receive time deposits and allow interest on the same.

Few towns of the size of Danville can boast of so strong an institution as the Danville National Bank, and it is a cause for congratulation that those who patronize banks can have not only the protection afforded by its resources and conservative management, together with the safety assured by the oversight and inspection of the National Banking system; but the encouragement of a liberal rate of interest on their saving accounts.

DISAPPOINTED BY THE OPERATORS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President Mitchell and his party left here last night, sadly disappointed and disgraced. After they had reached an agreement with Mr. MacVeach, representing the operators, as to all the main points at issue, and their remaining only a few minor details to be arranged, a telegram came from President Baer, calling all negotiations off and ordering that the matter of a settlement be reverted to the strike commission.

Mr. MacVeach was under the impression that he was fully empowered to act for the operators in drawing up a form of agreement and had proceeded upon that assumption. All the statements made during the day by members of the conference were the most hopeful character, and had it not been for President Baer's telegram, it is believed that definite terms of settlement would have been prepared for the signatures of both parties within the next day or two.

The conference yesterday afternoon after Mr. Darrow's announcement that terms had been agreed upon came to a sudden termination through the receipt of a despatch to Mr. Wayne MacVeach, representing the Pennsylvania Coal Company and the Hillside Coal and Iron Company, notifying him that at a meeting of the anthracite coal road men in New York today it had been decided not to grant an interview to Mr. Mitchell and his associates, who had been suggested for Friday next.

The conditions are such that no substantial progress toward an adjustment can be made by the suggested meeting. The general judgment of the operators is that it will be best for the present to go on with the hearing.

Many a Danville Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard. With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Danville people endorse this claim. Levi Allegre, baker of 102 North Spruce Street, says: "I had much lameness in my back right over my kidneys. It hurt right to me, and sleeping or sitting any longer caused sharp pains to pass through me. I had pain between my shoulders and running down my spine, which afflicted me for my work. I could not sleep well nights, and was tired all the time, especially first thing in the morning. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills curing others of this trouble and I got them and after taking them I felt all right. They are the only thing which ever did me permanent good."

This fact frequently has a tendency to impair their usefulness and to prevent them from keeping that careful watch over transgressors so necessary to the preservation of the peace and upholding of the dignity of the commonwealth.

THE SITUATION AS TO COAL

The local coal dealers, who have not as yet been able to fill the domestic orders that accumulated during the miners' strike, are but little inclined at present to bid for orders from either the school board or the water commissioners. Hence both the school buildings and the water works will have to be supplied with coal from other sources until the movement of freight catches up with their trade.

The school board has been buying wood during the fall, and has still some coal on hand at the different buildings. It will probably be able to get coal in limited quantities direct from the mines, should a shortage occur, so that it is not at all likely that any difficulty will be experienced in keeping the school buildings warm.

The water commissioners, who have been relying upon river coal, can not afford to take any risks and are very anxious to get a good supply of coal on hand at the water works, this fall, so as to obviate anything like a shortage after freezing weather sets in. Unless conditions improve very much it would be unwise to rely upon getting coal from the mines as needed, and the water commissioners will continue the use of river coal.

The coal from Shamokin Creek is much the largest in size, but being soft in its nature burns freely and in the end contributes no more to the making of steam than coal from a river. On the whole the river and creek coal is found to answer the purpose very well. Besides, it is slightly cheaper than the coal ordinarily used. Under the circumstances, therefore, it would not be surprising if its use should be continued indefinitely.

It requires about two tons of coal per day at the water works and the quantity on hand will carry the plant until some time after the holidays.

A BRIGHT LIFE CLOSED

Thomas Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Evans, whose serious illness of appendicitis, was noted in our last issue, died at the German Hospital, Philadelphia, Monday morning. The dreaded disease laid a heavy hold upon Arthur and he passed through a terrible siege of suffering. He was first taken sick last spring. His growth better, but suffered a relapse. His condition again improved but with the approach of autumn he was again taken very seriously ill, when the attending physician recommended an operation.

He was taken to the German Hospital and about two weeks ago was operated upon. The case was pronounced serious, but the operation seemed successful and hope was held out to the parents. Last week friends of the family in this city were delighted to learn that the young patient was considered out of danger. This good news, on Saturday, was followed by information of the gravest import, in response to which Mr. Evans, the father, hastened to Philadelphia to join his wife, who had accompanied Arthur to the hospital and had remained in the city within easy reach.

On Sunday a second operation was performed, which revealed an exceedingly critical state of affairs. A telegram received in this city from Mr. Evans Monday morning stated that there was practically no hope, the chances being ten to one against the child's recovery. A second telegram received just after noon stated that Arthur had passed away.

The deceased child was 13 years of age. He was a manly and affectionate little fellow full of kindness and a general favorite. His long illness was characterized by a degree of thoughtfulness and fortitude that would have done credit to an older person. The bereaved parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community.

All that was mortal of Thomas Arthur Evans was laid to rest in the family plot, Odd Fellows cemetery, yesterday afternoon. The funeral was held from the family residence, Perry and East Mahoning streets, at 2 o'clock and was attended by a large number of sympathizing relatives and friends.

The services, which were conducted by Rev. Harry Curtin Harman, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, were very impressive. The pastor's talk was most beautiful in its tender allusions to the life and the passing away of young Arthur and full of consolation to the parents and relatives who with others had gathered around his bier. A quartette of young ladies rendered "Some Sweet Day" with most impressive effect.

The southwest corner of the room at the rear of the casket was banked with a rich profusion of flowers, the gifts of loving friends. Conspicuous among the blooms was a large bouquet of white carnations from the senior secondary school of the First Ward, attended by the deceased. There was a large bouquet of chrysanthemums from the uncles and aunts; a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums from the Misses Evans; a bouquet of pink carnations from the graduation club; a crescent from the lodge of Elks; a large bouquet from David Thomas; a bouquet of pink carnations from Mrs. Will J. Rogers; a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums from Mrs. S. V. Borden of Williamsport and a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums from Robert Cox of Sunbury.

The pall bearers, chosen from among the boyhood companions of the deceased, were as follows: Willie Pritchard, Jay Seidler, Edward Price, Charles Wetzel, David Thomas and Jacob Meyer. The interment was private.

"I feel as if I should fly to pieces." How often those words are on a woman's lip. They express to the uttermost the nerve racked condition of the body, which makes life a daily martyrdom. If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more each day on the nerves. A little more drain each day on the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousands of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with his "Favorite Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

DEFENDERS DEFEATED

In a hotly contested game and badly handicapped by wet grounds, the Defenders foot ball team met with a heavy defeat at the hands of the strong Catawissa foot ball eleven at DuWitt's Park, on Saturday afternoon by a score of 11 to 5. Owing to the murky, cloudy weather the attendance was small, but the handful of enthusiastic rooters that did attend, were amply repaid for their trouble, as the game was most thoroughly fought and the Catawissa eleven came off victorious fully by the most strenuous effort.

The opening of the game found both teams pretty evenly matched and before the half was over Catawissa had scored two touch downs and one goal was kicked. Fortner for Catawissa made a beautiful fifty yard run for a touch down, whilst the ground gained by Miller and McClure in their clever work at line plunging was a feature of the Defenders playing. In the second half Catawissa did not prove so successful. New life seemed to have been infused into the Defenders and they played with an aggressiveness and precision that was remarkable. By dint of hard work, in which excellent foot ball was played, Miller was sent over the line for a touch down. After this neither side seemed to have the advantage and although the Defenders played a hard game they failed to score another touch down but succeeded in preventing any further scoring on the part of Catawissa.

Following is the line up of the teams: Defenders: L. E. ... Catawissa: Pegg ... L. E. ... Fortner ... Fisher ... L. E. ... Miller ... Walker ... G. ... Biddings ... Raver ... G. ... Yeager ...
