FIRST WOMAN GIVES TESTIMONY

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Another big array of witnesses, non-union miners and members of their families, who suffered violence and abuse at the hands of their union colleagues during the recent great coal strike were on hand in the United States circuit court room, in the post office building, this morning when the anthracite strike commission met at 10 o'clock for its second day's session in this city.

The first witness was B. C. Tiffany, of Ashley, an outside foreman for the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company, who said that on September 17 he received orders to start up No. 3 washery. Later the dam, used to operate this, was blown up by dynamite.

On cross-examination by Lawyer Darrow for the miners' union, the witness said there was a hole in the top of the dam.

"And that is what you call blowing up the dam?" "Yes."

The witness said an empty dynamite box was found at the dam.

Robert A. Reed, of Wanamie, who was at No. 18 mine of the same company, said that on September 25 he was informed that Albert Howard and other men employed at the steam shovel, were being fired upon by the strikers, and he boarded an engine to go to the scene. The engine was blown up by dynamite before it reached the shovel, and after those in the engine had recovered their senses they found seven sticks of dynamite unexploded on the tracks.

On cross-examination the witness said that the tracks were not blown up nor was the engine blown out from the rails, but every window of the right side of the cab was blown out. The witness said he received a note after the explosion.

George W. Jasper, who was a member of the coal and iron police, also employed by the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company, said that he was there when the fences were burned. He saw six boys pouring a liquid, which he imagined was oil, on a bridge afterward set on fire.

The first woman to be called was Mrs. Thomas P. Jordan, of Lost Creek, Schuylkill county, whose husband worked during the strike. She said she had four children and whenever they appeared on the streets they were jeered at. She left and came to Philadelphia and remained ten days, but as the children became homesick, she went back to Lost Creek. The next night some one threw a stone through her front window.

"Go on and tell about the boycott," said John T. Lenahan; "let us know how you were unable to obtain milk, meat and groceries."

Mrs. Jordan said the baker refused because her husband was a "scab" and others were afraid they would be done bodily harm by the strikers. She also said the women jeered at her.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. The Sunbury Item prints the following: "Republicans and princes are ungrateful, and it would seem as if the United States Post Office department is in the same class. Although he has faithfully served the department for several years, Elmer Farnsworth, a clerk in the Shamokin post office, will likely lose $5,000 on account of his carelessness."

Recently the National Tribune, a weekly paper published at Washington, D. C., offers prizes ranging from $25 to $1,000 for the nearest guess to the amount of U. S. treasury receipts for December 29, 1902, and a bull's eye prize of $5,000 to the person naming the exact amount.

Farnsworth proved himself a wonderful guesser, for $1,629,945.73, the sum he guessed, proved to be the exact amount. He made three other guesses all very near and in addition to the $5,000 bull's eye prize is entitled to $1,000 extra.

Farnsworth mailed his letter on December 26 and the Post Office department proved his undoing. Although addressed plainly the letter was mislaid and did not reach the Tribune office until December 31. The publishers claim the guess came too late and refused to pay the money notwithstanding the letter was mailed in time and was mislaid.

Farnsworth will appeal to the Post Office department at Washington and will endeavor to get his money.

The Vitrified Brick Project. The organization of a company for the manufacture of vitrified brick in this city seems to be an assured fact. Some capitalists from out of town are negotiating for the purchase of the clay bank and other properties adjacent which it would be necessary to own in order to have sufficient ground for the establishment of kilns and other buildings composing the plant.

It is more likely, however, according to authoritative information that a company of local men will be formed. Several of our townsmen are deeply interested in the venture, which is believed, will be a profitable one.

The manufacture of vitrified brick will necessitate an investment of some twenty thousand dollars.

YOUTHFUL MURDERER HANGED.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 7.—Paul Woodward, the youthful murderer of the boys, John Coffin and W. Price Jennings, was hanged at 10:31 this morning.

Sheriff Christopher J. Mines conducted the execution, which was his first, with decency and dispatch.

The crime for which Paul Woodward forfeited his life, was the murder of two boys, John H. Coffin and W. Price Jennings, aged 11 and 14 years, respectively. The former was the son of Wm. Coffin, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad company and the latter of Joseph Jennings, the well-known leader of the Third Regiment band, both of this city. On Wednesday morning, November 14 last the boys left home ostensibly to visit the Trenton fair. As they did not return home that night the police were informed and a general alarm sent out.

The following day the bodies were found near Haddon Heights. At once the police set to work to apprehend the murderer. Woodward was indicted by the grand jury October 24 for poisoning with strychnine for the purpose of robbery. The trial lasted five days, the jury convicting him in the first degree November 17, only one ballot being taken. A reprieve was granted by Governor Murphy to carry the case before the board of pardons, but the latter refused to act in the case and the law took its course.

Woodward met his death bravely and without fear. For over an hour previous to his execution he sat in his cell playing on a harmonica, the Marcellites hymn and "In the Good Old Sum mer Time" as calmly as possible. He ate for breakfast ham and eggs. The Rev. John Warner called later and administered the last rites of the Episcopal church. Woodward was busy smoking a cigarette during the march to the gallows, but it was taken from him before he reached the foot of the scaffold, where a guard wiped his face with a handkerchief. While standing on the trap he said to Sheriff Mines: "I would like to say something please."

The sheriff quickly arranged the black cap, adjusted the noose and pulled the lever, swinging Woodward into eternity. His neck was dislocated and his heart ceased beating at 10:11. The body was cut down a few minutes later and removed to Philadelphia where it was interred.

One Hundred Dollars a Box is the value H. A. Tisdale, Sumner-ton, S. C., places on DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He says: "I had the piles for 30 years. I tried many doctors and medicines, but all failed except DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cured me." It is a combination of the healing properties of Witch Hazel with antiseptics and emollients; relieves and permanently cures blind, bleeding itching and protruding piles, sores, cuts, bruises, eczema, salt rheum and all skin diseases. A Town in Hard Luck. Olyphant is certainly in hard luck—if the latter expression is permissible. The big fire this winter, coming on top of the strike, was a serious blow to the place, and Friday's disastrous mine cave is a dark opening for the year. The destruction of the buildings was bad enough, but the land has been so badly damaged by the drop, that it is practically valueless for building purposes without a big outlay in filling. While the corporations or original owners, in most cases in that region, reserve all rights, title and interest in minerals underneath, when they sell the surface, it would appear only right and just that in the taking out of the minerals the law would oblige the retention or placing of such support to the surface as would make a cave of any consequence impossible, or also responsible to the owners of the surface if the taking out of minerals causes damage to the latter. While a big part of the Lackawanna valley is undermined, and many caves have occurred, comparatively little damage to property has ensued, all things considered. But as props decay, pillars are robbed, and caves weaken adjoining places, it is reasonable to presume that in the future, near or distant, there must come more loss to property owners from caves, than has obtained heretofore. There should be legislation on this matter, which would make the corporations or operators furnish support to surface undermined—at least the first vein worked out—which could not easily be affected by the caving of lower veins. The washing in of fine culm through bore holes would make a practically solid place of the worked out vein, or the placing of state and bony where coal has been removed. This would be practicable as far as the first vein is concerned, and the robbing of pillars should be made punishable by law.

Delivered an Address. General Secretary W. D. Lanhamster last evening delivered an address in the Methodist church at Klinesgrove.

The LaDell Comedy Co. Opened a three night's engagement at Hale's Opera House, last night to a well filled house and gave a very pleasing show. They carry an up-to-date company of farce comedy and vaudeville artists, every specialty on the bill made a hit, especially the acrobatic novelty of the LaDell trio, whose act alone is worth the price of admission. They are sure of a big house every night during their stay in this city.—Towanda Review, Dec. 28.

The LaDell Company will appear in this city three nights beginning Thursday, January 8th.

A business meeting will be held by Company F, 12th regiment, N. G. P., in the Armory at 7:30 o'clock this evening for the purpose of electing civil officers. A full attendance is desired.

Unconscious From Croup. During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. Stafford, postmaster, Chester, Mich., and a dose of One Minute Cough Cure was administered and repeated often. It reduced the swelling and inflammation, cut the mucus and shortly the child was resting easy and speedily recovered. It cures Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, and all Throat and Lung troubles. One Minute Cough Cure hinders in the throat and chest and enables the lungs to contribute pure, health-giving oxygen to the blood. Gosh & Co., Pauls & Co.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is a sure sign of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every vein with its purifying, health-giving blood, and cures every ailment of the urinary system, and restores to health and vigor the sufferer from kidney trouble. It cures the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. It corrects acidity. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LAST YEAR'S NECROLOGY

In a conspicuous way the year 1902 has been remarkable for its death's harvest of famous men and women in every department of life and activity. The enrollment of the year's dead makes a record of great names, and the grim reaper, death, seems to have been bent on capturing the rarest and finest sheaves in the great field of human grain. Science, art, the pulpit and the bar, the field of literature and the domain of philanthropy and great wealth, heroes and savants have been called to their last accounts during the twelve months past, from every nation and of every tongue, until the eye is appalled in its wealth of talent buried in the grave, and the power and influence that has been taken from earthly fields of usefulness and activity. England mourns the loss since January last of Cecil Rhodes, Lord Pauncefote, the Marquis of Dufferin, Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett and the earl of Dufferin. Her pulpit lost Joseph Parker, Hugh Price Hughes and the archbishop of Canterbury, besides many others of like fame in the forum and on the rostrum. The United States has suffered even more in the loss of her distinguished sons and daughters. In public life such men as Thomas B. Reed, Senator McMillan, Ex-Gov. George Hoadley, of Ohio, Congressman Amos Cummings, of New York and Congressman R. K. Polk, of Pennsylvania, have passed from earthly labors. The American pulpit has, among hundreds of others, lost such distinguished ornaments as T. De Witt Talmage, Bishop Whittle, George H. Hopworth, Bishop Spaulding and Archbishop Fechan of Chicago. The ranks of the law have been decimated by the loss of such men as Horace Gray, formerly associate justice of the United States supreme court; R. S. Taft, Howe, the celebrated criminal lawyer, and in Pennsylvania's eminent names as H. C. McCormick, John C. Balliet, James A. Logan and Daniel Agnew have been added to the list of honored dead.

In literature the names of Emile Zola, Canon Rawlinson, Frank R. Stockton, Bret Hartie, Paul Lester Ford, Edward Eggleston and William Allen Butler are among the fallen. In medicine William Tot Helmuth, Leopold Schenck, Lennox Brownie, Otto Freeman and E. P. Munde are among the distinguished victims of death's insatiable harvest. Horace Scudder, W. A. Hemphill, and Tom Ochiltree are some of the great journalists who have passed over the silent river, while Tissot, Constant, Thomas Nash and Thomas Mowbray form a group of famous dead in the field of art. In the armies and navies of the world the same long mortality list appears. Hughes, Hooper, Wade Hampton, Bell Forney, Botkin, Field Marshall Champlin, Rear Admirals Sampson, Tonett, Sedgwick, Kimberly, Watson, and Commodore Montgomery of the English navy may be cited as representative of death's busy work in these fields of activity. Of distinguished women Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. Julia Dent Grant and Mrs. John C. Fremont may be named.

In whatever direction you turn the list is equally fratricidal in great names. Death has, indeed, been busy, and the world is the poorer in almost every department of thought and service by reason of the record of the closing year. The first reflection upon such a showing of distinguished dead for one twelve-month is one of dismay and sadness. But it must be remembered as we cover over the brilliant page of life's achievements, all scarred by the hand of death, that though the workmen may fall out of the ranks, one by one, the work goes on, always recruiting new energies and new guiding force. Spauldred in the honor and esteem of the world in which they wrought so usefully, the dead of 1902 will live always as potent examples for the future striving and endeavor that remains to the living.

A HOME FOR OLD MINERS.

Charles G. Palmer, of Shenandoah, Representative-elect in the State Legislature, which convened Monday, has prepared a bill for the establishment of a miners' home, which he will endeavor to have passed. The bill provides:

That a board of five citizens of the State of Pennsylvania, two of whom shall be selected from the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, one from the employe and one from the employe class; two from the bituminous regions of Pennsylvania, one from the employe and one from the employe class; and one well-known sociologist, shall be named by the Governor to act as trustees for the following purposes:

That the said trustees are empowered in the name of the miners' home of Pennsylvania to purchase land and erect buildings for the indigent and aged people who have been employed in, around or about the mines, and for the wives of such people; and to do all necessary acts or things that may be essential in establishing a home within the intent of this legislation.

A Scientific Discovery. Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Gosh & Co., Pauls & Co.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Sunbury board of education held Monday evening, the cigarette habit indulged in by many of the people in and about the high school building was being discussed when one of the directors stated that it had been called to his attention that many of the scholars were buying and eating a certain kind of candy containing brandy and for a while teachers were at loss to understand why so many of their pupils were tainted with the fumes of liquor. No decisive action was taken by the board except that the matter will be investigated and may receive some attention later.

HASTENED WIFE'S DEATH. Gertrude, the young wife of Francis Stoop, of Shenandoah, died at the home of her father, Ryle A. Bressler, Wednesday morning from the effects of the brutal treatment she received at the hands of her husband.

Mrs. Stoop had been confined to her bed for some time with hasty consumption; yet her husband, with his brutal nature—instead of cheering her in her fatal illness—did everything to make her life even more miserable.

Wednesday morning the woman died and it is alleged that it was the husband's brutal treatment that hurried her death. It is said that Stoop will be further prosecuted.
