A POPULAR INSTITUTION

Every sensible young man is looking for opportunities to improve himself in every way possible, and thus obtain both pleasure and profit out of his leisure hours. Many young men have learned that one of the best places in town for proper all-around development is the Young Men's Christian Association.

In the building of the Young Men's Christian Association, centrally located, brilliantly lighted, beautifully furnished and well equipped with attractions for young men—last year thousands of young men passed through its doors seeking opportunities for self-improvement and channels for helping others.

It is open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. (holidays included) and on Sundays from 3 to 5. Some of its privileges are for members only but among the numerous helpful things open to all young men, whether they are members or not, and where they are always welcome, are the Young Men's Meetings held regularly.

LEONARD CASE FORTUNE

A special from Cleveland, Ohio, says:—A dispatch from Walton, N. Y. to the effect that a family was about to lay claim to the $30,000,000 estate of Leonard Case, Jr., in this city published this morning, caused considerable comment here.

Leonard Case, Jr., owned large blocks of real estate in this city, and since his death it has probably enhanced in value so that what was worth twenty years ago $10,000,000 has now trebled in value. Some time prior to his death Mr. Case conceived a plan of establishing a school for the education of young men in the trades combined with a scientific course for advanced students.

Case Library, covering an entire block, also belonged to the estate, and it is this property that has caused all the trouble. It adjoins the postoffice, and when the Government decided upon a new Federal building condemnation proceedings were brought to secure possession of it.

THE PRESENT COAL FAMINE

What the conditions might have been had President Roosevelt not injected his energetic personality into the anthracite coal dispute can be conjectured from the conditions that now exist. Despite the fact that mining was resumed in the anthracite region nearly two months before the appearance of rough weather the country is without coal.

From every part of the country there come reports of distress, having the present cold wave. There will be other such waves, and some of them more severe during this month and next. If the shortage of coal is already menacing to life and to law and order, what will it be before spring gives relief?

From one member of the committee who has been in touch with the situation information from his home that there was not a pound of coal in the house and no prospect of getting any. No doubt these conditions will lend earnestness to the demand that general strikes be called.

Murderers Enjoying Good Health. Murderers John Gulick and Jacob Garbard, who are in the Northumberland county jail awaiting their doom, the day of the hanging not having yet been set, are in excellent health and seem little concerned over their fate.

WILL CAMP IN HARRISBURG

The Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, famous as a fighting organization in Civil War days, will camp 3,000 strong next summer in Capitol Park, Harrisburg. This was decided on at a meeting of members of the corps at a meeting of the corps at a meeting of the corps at a meeting of the corps.

The chair was authorized to appoint an executive committee consisting of one member from each regimental organization, which should have entire charge of the arrangements for the reunion and fix the date. A finance committee of three shall be selected from this committee to provide ways and means.

Brief remarks were made by Major Levi G. McCauley, General John P. Taylor and Colonel Bruce Ricketts on the history of the old corps and the desirability of having the reunion well attended. All the Reserves were from this state. They were 15,000 strong and selected from 25,000 recruits who offered themselves, each anxious to be enrolled.

Death Watch Skipped Out. A story unparalleled in the history of Northumberland county, has just been brought to light and shows that some men are mean enough to rob a man awaiting sentence for murder.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 9th.—Ex-Governor Daniel H. Hastings, who had been ill with pleuro-pneumonia, died at his home in this place at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Although it was known that General Hastings was a very sick man it was thought that he would pull through.

BISHOP TALBOT'S VINDICATION

A copy of the opinion of the court of Huntingdon county, vindicating Bishop Edelbert Talbot, of the Central Pennsylvania diocese of the Episcopal church, of the charges of conspiracy preferred by the Rev. I. N. W. Irvine, has been received. In view of the bishop's vindication, and the wide-spread public interest shown in the trial of the case, the News here-with reproduces Judge Bailey's charge in part.

"Gentlemen of the Jury: This is an action to recover damages which Dr. I. N. W. Irvine, the plaintiff, claims he sustained by reason of an alleged conspiracy between Emma D. Elliott, Dr. Rev. Edelbert Talbot, and Alexander Elliott, the defendants, whereby he was deposed from the ministry, St. John's Protestant Episcopal church of Huntingdon, in 1898 was what is known as a mission church. That is, it was a church which received aid from the diocese in support of its pastor. It is located within the territory of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania. The Rev. Edelbert Talbot, one of the defendants, is the bishop of the diocese, and it was his duty to supply the church with a minister so long as it was a mission church.

"Not many months had elapsed before the bishop learned of trouble between Dr. Irvine and the other ministers of the borough of Huntingdon, and between him and the management of the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory, located across the river from the town, and that serious trouble had arisen in the church. Its members had become divided and members of the vestry had resigned. Ugly rumors as to the moral character and conduct of Dr. Irvine came to his ears.

"The starting announcement of a Discovery that will surely lengthen life is made by editor O. H. Downey, of Churubusco, Ind. It's invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine no one need dread Pneumonia or Consumption. Its relief is instant and cure certain.' NEIGHBORLY ADVICE

When one has suffered tortures from a bad back and found out how the aches and pains can be removed, advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors, particularly when they know the statement is absolutely correct. The following neighborly advice comes from a Danville resident.

Mr. Thos. Lewis, puffer, of 513 Mill street, says:—"For years I had pains over my kidneys and aching in the small of my back. I used many remedies trying first one thing and then another, but without being cured. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and read the statement made by people who had used them and took according to directions. They not only removed the lameness and aching, but they banished the headaches and depressed feeling."

The feast of "Parim" will be celebrated by the Jewish people from March 13th to 19th. Aside from the special services held, at this time, the holiday is one of rejoicing, and an effort is being made by the Bloomsburg and Danville members of the B'ne Zion synagogue to give a Parim ball. A number of years ago it was the custom in this city to give these affairs at every celebration of this holiday, and many of our residents can recall pleasant hours spent at "the Parim balls."

The peculiar cough which indicates croup is usually well-known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
