Fruitful Source of Revenue.

Secretary Griest says that "the office of the secretary of the con wealth, although originally intended for the preservation of the records of the executive department, has become one of the most fruitful sources of revenue to the state; and the two years just closed have been profitable beyond any like period in the history of the commonwealth." This is largely due to corporation laws recently enacted and to a rigid enforcement of the laws relating to fees and bonus payable to the state. There was collected as fees during the two years, $241,440.93, an increase over the preceding year of $95,328.81. The fees have exceeded all the expenses of the department by $154,140.93.
