Wilkes-Barre Priest a Marconi.

It will surprise many to learn that a Wilkes-Barre man has perfected a new system of wireless telegraphy which, if it is all he claims, will make him as famous as Marconi. He is Rev. Joseph Murgas, pastor of the Sacred Heart Slavish Catholic church, and has won success after quietly laboring and experimenting with the system for four years. This inventor is a humble, retiring priest, not seeking fame or riches, but rather has studied and experimented through a love of the work and the hope of adding to the world's knowledge and progress.

They may need a little assistance when reading or sewing in the evening. The proper assistance is correct glasses but they must be right otherwise they may do more harm than good. BASE BALL IN DANVILLE

The delightful spring weather of the two weeks past has turned the thoughts of those fond of such sports to base ball, lawn tennis and similar games. As relates to baseball Danville is sure of a good team this summer. The "Old Timers," which afforded such delightful sport to our citizens last year, held over and still retain their board of directors and entire organization as last year. A meeting will be held next week, when the opening date, which will be about May 1, will be announced. Grounds for the coming season have not yet been decided upon. Unless satisfactory arrangements can be made with the management of DeWitt's park, grounds may be selected on this side of the river, where several good locations are in view.

The base ball in Danville as last year will be strictly amateur, maintained for the amusement of the town and not for selfish gain. Whatever accrues over and above expenses is divided among the members of the team, in addition to which every player who is obliged to lose his day's work in order to keep his appointment with the club is paid for the time lost at the regular rate of wages received. The players last year were: Catcher, Hummer; Pitchers, Malley, Renner and Skoskie; Short Stop, Gosh; 1st base, Hoffman; 2nd base, Clayberger; 3rd base, Bingham; Left Field, Davis; Center Field, Shannon; Right Field, Annemman.

Last year's players are all desirous of coming back and express themselves as delighted with the treatment they received in Danville last year.

Communications have already been received from many of the clubs, asking for dates on Danville ground, among these being the Cuban Giants, Bucknell and other crack teams. From the above it is obvious that Danville can have first class base ball the coming season if it wants it. All that is required of the town is for it to show the right interest, extending the proper encouragement and no doubt the coming season from a base ball standpoint will be as successful as the last.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP.

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

When I had an attack of grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at all times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." Crusade Against Dime Novels.

Rumor has it that a crusade will be inaugurated in Bloomsburg for the purpose of suppressing the sale and distribution of "dime novels" and other trashy literature.

The movement is one which may endanger the "profits" of those who handle them, but if it can be successfully carried out there is no question but that the youth of our town will be greatly benefited thereby—Bloomsburg Daily.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. GOOD ROADS BILLS DOOMED

For many years the agitation for good roads in this State has been continued, persistently but in a dignified manner. Before every session of the Legislature the matter is thoroughly discussed, but every session has seen the friends of the improvement measure disappointed, nothing having been done by the Legislature toward achieving the desired end. If the improvement of the roads were unnecessary, a mere scheme of fanatics, this disappointment could be lightly borne; but as it is a great public necessity the continued refusal or failure of legislators to perform an obvious duty is wearing upon patience. It is a known fact that the roads of this State are wretched; that many of them are almost if not wholly impassable in weather that could have but little if any ill effect upon good roads; that good roads would benefit not only farming communities but the industrial centers that draw their subsistence from contiguous rural districts; that good roads would make possible the selling of farm products at prices lower than those which now rule, without reducing the income of the farmer. In fact they would directly or indirectly benefit all the people of the State.

The present Legislature has been getting along with good roads bills, pitting little assurance that one will be enacted. The friends of the measure have consented to a reduction of the proposed appropriation, and are willing to concede almost anything to get the movement started in some measure. Gentlemen of the Legislature, it is up to you. You know better roads are needed. Pass a bill providing for them.

COURTS AS PROXY; CLERK WINS GIRL

The following item of news appeared in the Philadelphia North American of Sunday last. BALTIMORE, March 14.—That the spirit of Priscilla, who said to John Alden, proxy for Miles Standish in his courtship, "Why don't you speak for yourself John?" still lives was demonstrated when Miss Mayme M. Henninger became the bride of Joseph H. Sechler, Miss Henninger is the charming daughter of John B. Henninger, a rich Virginia cotton planter.

The Miles Standish in this twentieth century romance is one of the wealthiest lumber merchants of the city—a man more than twice the age of Mrs. Sechler, who is 18. Mrs. Sechler came to this city for a post-graduate course in music at the Peabody Institute, and her attractions were so many that the rich lumber merchant fell in love with her. The wooing was apparently successful, and a few weeks ago the engagement was announced.

MAKING LOVE BY PROXY.

In the latter part of February he was called to Europe. Before starting on the journey he called in his confidential clerk, Mr. Sechler, and explained the situation between himself and the beautiful girl. He instructed Mr. Sechler to see that flowers were delivered to his fiancée every day, and that the confectioner should send his choicest wares at least three times a week to her. He also asked Mr. Sechler to do all his postcard softening the blow his absence would surely cause.

PROOF OF HIS STEWARDSHIP.

That Mr. Sechler availed himself of all the emoluments and more that appertain to the office of deputy was shown Wednesday evening, when the Rev. L. A. Ferris, pastor of Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, was called upon to marry Miss Henninger and Mr. Sechler.

The lumber merchant returned from his trip across the sea the next day. He was magnanimous, and wrote Mr. Henninger that young Sechler was a young man of excellent character and worthy of the high honor of son-in-law.

Mr. Sechler, the lucky groom is the son of Joseph Y. Sechler of E. Front street, this city. His brother William Sechler is the well known clerk employed by A. H. Grone.

The Teachers' Salary Bill.

The Harrisburg Patriot intimates that the Snyder bill fixing the salary of public school teachers may never become a law. It says the measure may die in committee in the Senate, and should it be resurrected and passed, it will be declared unconstitutional. Such is the talk among the Senators.

For Easter Services.

Musical programs for the Easter festival are now in course of preparation by the various church choirs of town.

TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

Twenty-eight years ago Tuesday the river bridge at this place was carried away by the flood and there is a great deal in the circumstance to illustrate the variable climate of this section of the Union.

While the grass at present is becoming green, while yesterday overcoats were a burden and a balmy flood of sunlight bathed the earth characteristic of spring time, on the same date, March 17th, twenty-eight years ago there was a deep snow on the ground; the weather was cold, slighting was nearly or quite a foot in thickness.

The departure of the river bridge forms an episode in the history of Danville which will not soon be forgotten. Those just entering manhood and womanhood then are now persons of middle life.

The bridge went away on St. Patrick's Day and this anniversary assists to recall the event, which was more extensively remarked upon yesterday than for many years past owing to the wonderful contrast in climatic conditions which marked the two dates.

On the morning of the day on which the bridge was carried away there was no indication of a flood. Owing to some cause that has never been explained the ice broke and was carried a mile or so down the river, where the huge cakes formed a jam, damming the river. The water backed up Mahoning creek flooding a large portion of the town and depositing cakes of ice around the big mill. At no time since has such a large portion of the borough been inundated. In several of the streets boats were used.

The Catawissa bridge was also carried away. It came down the river during the afternoon and striking the Danville bridge knocked one section from the piers, after which span after span was carried away until only a small portion of the big structure remained.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal trouble, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Must Keep Out.

The superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad has issued "keep-out" notices to all the ticket agents on their line, prohibiting all persons from the office except those whose duties require their presence. All others must keep out, and failing to enforce the notice on the part of the person in charge will result in the latter's dismissal.

PRIMARY ELECTION BILL

Hon. R. S. Ammerman, presented a primary election bill in the house at Harrisburg, Monday, which provides for a uniform system for the nomination of candidates for all offices to be filled by the vote of the people. The bill provides for the retaining of the conference system now in force in all Senatorial, Congressional and Judicial districts comprising or consisting of one or more counties. There shall be two primary elections held each year, one on the second Tuesday of June. They shall be conducted by the general election officers of the respective election districts at the regular polling places. The bill defines the qualification of electors, the nature and character of the ballot, and the form or system regulating the conduct of such elections. The bill also provides for the expenses of the holding of such elections at the cost of the several counties of the state and prescribes penalties for violations of its provisions. All nominations under the act are to be made by the majority vote in the districts.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

When President Ingalls, of the Big Four and C. and O. railways, was first asked to establish the Association for the benefit of his employees, he frankly said he did not believe it would be of practical benefit "to the hard-working, every-day railroad man." He was finally induced to give it a trial, and a Railroad Department was established in rented quarters at Cincinnati, in 1890. After twelve years of careful testing he was recently approached for assistance in providing a new Association building at Brightwood, Ind., and in a five-minute interview promised $15,000 towards a $20,000 building. This prompt response is a strong endorsement of the practical value of the Association "to the hard-working railroad man." This will make thirteen new Association buildings erected wholly or in part by these two railway companies, while the work is also maintained at eight other points in well-equipped rented quarters or buildings owned by the company, a total of twenty-one Associations on the two lines of railway.

DIETL'S CONDITION POWDER.

UPPER AUGUSTA, PA. I feed "Diethyl's Condition Powder" to my chickens according to directions and found it the best I ever used. When I began to feed it my chickens were sick with the roup. I have seventy-five chickens now, and you never saw a finer lot. They have fine red combs and lay lots of eggs all through this cold weather. I also feed some to my hogs. It kept them healthy and gave them a good appetite, helping them to fatten. I say upon honor that it is the best powder in the market. Yours truly, ISAM SHIPP.

STILLWATER, PA. "Diethyl's Horse, Cattle and Poultry Powder" is far superior to anything of the kind I have ever used, and our recommendation is to all. An excellent feed using a reliable powder and keeping stock in good health is a most profitable and economical investment to the owner, and I want no better powder than yours. F. H. EIGAR.
